Home Department.

Supply of Indian Cotton to England.

From MESSRS. MOSLEY and HURST, Agent to the Cotton Supply Association, to W. GREY, ESQ., Secretary to the Government of India, Home Department,—(dated the 20th June 1861.

SIR,—WE take the liberty to enclose to you, for the perusal of His Excellency the Governor General, copy of a communication received from the Manchester Cotton Supply Association, to which, embracing, as it does, a question of the most vital importance to this as well as the mother Country, we would respectfully beg to draw the earnest attention of Her Majesty's Government in India.

We likewise hand you copy of a Petition from the Cotton trade at home to the House of Commons, with reference to the supply of Cotton from this Country.

From G. R. HAYWOOD, ESQ., Secretary, Cotton Supply Association, to MESSRS. MOSLEY AND HURST, Calcutta,—(dated Manchester, the 15th May 1861.)

GENTLEMEN,—THE Committee of this Association, in acknowledging the receipt of your respective favors of the 2nd and 4th and the 10th ultimo, desire me to convey to you their best thanks for the deep interest you have taken in the important question now uppermost in all minds as to how the future supply of Cotton is to be ensured to this Country.

2. And especially they request that you will make known to His Excellency the Governor General of India their sense of that enlightened policy which has dictated the publication of the Resolution, bearing on measures for opening the common Roads of the Country throughout the Cotton Districts of India.

3. Civil War in America is now no longer an hypothesis but a fact, and it is impossible to foresee the issues arising out of the struggle. The wisdom, therefore, of the steps taken by Lord Canning for enabling India to meet our future requirements is becoming every day more apparent, and the Committee trust that the Government will not relax its efforts for the accomplishment of every object of the recent Proclamation.

4. But the Committee desire me to impress upon you the necessity of immediately representing to Lord Canning the desirability of warning the Cotton growers and exporters of India against the supposition that Cotton of any sort and in an inferior condition will be brought up in this Country. This fallacy will ruin all hope of India taking its proper place as a source for our supplies. The want of proper attention to the picking, ginning, and packing of Indian Cotton has retarded its consumption in Great Britian; whereas the great design of this Association is not merely to obtain an increase of quantity, but to elevate the character of East Indian Cotton both as to its staple and merchantable condition.

5. At the same time the Committee are fully aware that the Cotton trade of the interior of India has labored under serious impediments which have been the cause of the evils just complained of, and that a remedy must be applied to these evils. This, in the opinion of the Committee, can only be thus effected: Europeans must be inspired with that confidence which alone will induce them to take up their position in the interior of India and superintend the trade among the Natives. To inspire this confidence the Government must establish efficient Courts in every Cotton District, which shall have the power to enforce Contracts between the grower and the purchaser, and enable Europeans to recover with promptitude any advances that may be made for the purchase of produce. This will enable the Ryot to rid himself of the necessity for paying exorbitant interest for temporary accommodation of seed or money, and he will be able to deal directly with the European. By thus introducing Europeans into the Country with greater intelligence, energy, and enterprise than that of the Natives, superior methods of agriculture will be adopted and greater care will be taken in the preparation of produce for the market. The value of the article will thus be increased, and the application of steam power to the processes of cleaning and packing will enable the European to afford a better price to the produce.

6. The Stamp Tax, which requires that "every engagement to cultivate, produce, provide, or deliver any article of commerce in consideration of advance made" should be written on stamped paper, for which the rates are so excessive, operates as a most serious check to the investment of capital in the purchase of produce. In some parts of India business is entirely stopped through the impossibility of obtaining the Government stamped papers. Formerly forms of Contract were kept printed by the dealer ready for use, as the transactions with the Ryots extended, in individual cases, sometimes to many thousands. The labor of now writing these upon stamped paper is therefore a most serious hindrance to the trade. The Committee would strongly urge the necessity for an immediate remission of this fiscal burden, striking, as it does, at the very source and spring of the national industry of India. Frauds, by way of adulteration, are perpetrated to an alarming extent in the delivery of produce for which no adequate punishment is provided by the Courts in India, which are too often so inacessible from distance, so protracted in their decisions, or so expensive and intricate in their processes, as to deter both the Natives and European from resorting to them for the redress of grievous wrongs.

7. You cannot too seriously impress the Government of India with the fact that widespread dissatisfaction exists and is daily growing in this Country with the present unsound and oppressive system of the land tenure of India. The public of England are becoming conscious that a grevious wrong is done to their fellow Indian subjects by perpetuating the present antiquated, vevatious, complex, and oppressive systems of land tenure. The indifference which has hitherto been shewn to Lord Stanley's enunciation of his views as to the sale of waste lands in fee-simple, and also to the more important question of permitting the redemption of the Land Tax, has also awakened great dissatisfaction in the minds of a large number of our most influential men. It is believed that larger and more comprehensive views must be taken by the Government of India on this subject, or we shall continue to behold in India an impoverished Country, instead of what she might otherwise become one of the wealthiest and most prosperous Regions of the Globe. By permitting the reduction of the Land Tax at from ten to fifteen years' purchase, the position of the Government would be strengthened both financially and politically; while at the same time the landowner would be enabled to lay out his capital in improvements and foster those accummulations of invested wealth which would give stability of the industry and institutions of the Country, and render the chance of Wars or Mutinies remote, if not impossible. In the present financial position of the Government the question of rendering India able to compete with such Country as the United States in the production of Cotton is one of imperial concern. To do this India must be endowed with equal commercial facilities and advantages. The soil of America is cultivated under Anglo-Saxon supervision; land is purchasable in fee-simple; commercial Contracts can be enforced; the redress of wrong is attainable without delay; no fiscal Stamp Tax harasses the Planter: the vigor and abundant capital of private enterprise and public Companies covers the Country with a net-work of cheap communications, and the produce of the farmer meets with no impediment on its swift passage to a ready and constant market. The skill of the Anglo-Saxon is brought to bear at every step from the tilling of the field to the shipment of the Cotton. To render India a possible competitor of the United States, the private enterprise, the skill and the capital of Englishmen, must be let loose upon the soil, must be encouraged by every means, and even courted, if the Government will see its own interest and pursue the only path to the rapid development of India's vast resources.

8. But while thus requesting you to represent the views of the Association to His Excellency, the Council would not have it supposed that they have either overlooked or that they under-estimate the various measures now in progress to aid the Cotton trade of this Country in the coming crisis. The Council have read with great hope of an approaching change the announcement that the Government of India has already effected an alteration "in the Law regarding Contracts," and that "the solution of questions regarding the tenure of land is now under consideration."

9. The Council further request that you will make special and particular enquiry of the Government as to what land can be given to European cultivators of Cotton in suitable Districts, and the terms upon which such land may be had for this purpose. The Council have been applied to obtain this information as speedily as possible, and hope that through you the Government will be pleased to satisfy this enquiry in the fullest possible manner.

10. I beg also to enclose a copy of a Resolution passed by the Council of this Association at their meeting on Tuesday, the 7th instant, and request the favor of your presenting it to His Excellency the Governor General.

11. I am also desired to request that you will place in his Lordship's hands a copy of a Petition, sent herewith, which has been signed by nearly all the Cotton Spinners and their work-people throughout the United Kingdom and presented to the House of Commons.

Copy of a Resolution passed at a Meeting of the Council of the Cotton Supply Association held on Tuesday, the 7th of May 1861.

Resolved.—That the Council of the Cotton Supply Association regard with great satisfaction the means now being taken by Lord Canning for facilitating the transit of Cotton to the Seaboard of India with a view to meet the probable increased demand for Cotton in this Country, arising from the expected falling off in our supplies from the United States of America. This Council, moreover, is of opinion that the measures now in course of adoption, although calculated to afford temporary relief, require to be followed by other and important changes, not only in the system of land tenure; the Law of Contracts for the delivery of produce; the excessive Stamp Taxes upon Trade Contracts, and the facilities offered to public Companies and privat enterprise for the construction of Roads, Railroads, Canals, Riverways, Works of Irrigation, &c., &c., without which necessary and important changes the Council entertains no hope of India being able to meet the requirements of this Conntry for an increased supply of Cotton of a superior quality to that which has hitherto been exported from that Country, the great object to be desired being that of rendering India capable of competing, on fair and equal terms, with the United States of America.

Where is Cotton to come from to keep the Mills at work?

The following Petition from the Cotton Trade to the House of Commons is now in course of signature:—

To the Hon'ble the Commons of Great Britain and Ireland in Parliament assembled.

The Petition of—

Humbly Sheweth,—That your Petitioners are greatly alarmed at the prospect of a serious diminution in the future supply of Cotton to this Country, in consequence of the Civil War now raging between the Northern and Southern States of America.

That your Petitioners, therefore, believe it to be the duty of your Hon'ble House, in this great emergency, at once to adopt the most prompt and effectual measures for rendering India capable of furnishing an ample supply of improved Cotton; your Petitioners believing that India possesses the capability of meeting the requirements of this Country, not only as a source for the supply of Cotton, but also as affording a market for the products of their industry.

That the reason why America has hitherto obtained precedence over India in the Cotton market of this Country has been that India has been deprived of numerous agricultural and commercial advantages essential to its prosperity, but which the United States have possessed in a pre-eminent degree, because—

1. Anglo-Saxon energy, skill, and intelligence have directed the slave labor of the America Cotton States, while from India Anglo-Saxon enterprise has been almost excluded.

2. The Cotton Planter of America has enjoyed a freehold tenure of his Estates; in India the Cotton grower is compelled to farm upon an uncertain lease.

3. America has afforded security to capital, and the whole Country is consequently intersected with land and water communication.

4. In India the absence of security to capital, and of the power to purchase the fee-simple of land, has prevented the formation of those Companies and the action of that private enterprise which would otherwise long since have provided India with ample means of land and water transit and transport.

5. America has given, by her Courts of Justice, security to person and to property; the want of such security has retarded the progress of India.

That your Petitioners believe that British skill, enterprise, and capital directed to the development of the agricultural resources of India, that Country would speedily be rendered capable of supplying Cotton of as good quality as that now furnished by the restricted and costly slave labor of the United States.

That your Petitioners are of opinion that the embarrassed financial condition of India renders it probable that for many years to come the utmost efforts of the Government will be inadequate to the construction of the necessary Public Works, Roads, Railroads, Canals, Waterways, Reservoirs, Tanks, and Works of Irrigation, without the aid of which India cannot successfully compete with the Cotton-growing States of America. At present the want of Roads debars the British capitalist and trader from dealing with the Native grower in the interior of India, and of introducing, as in America, any improvement, whether as to methods of cultivation, or a better system of cleaning and packing Cotton. The consequence is that the grower is deprived of the necessary stimulus to exertion in supplying a better article. Providing, however, that the Government will grant the encouragement and protection which are afforded to the capitalist and trader in the United States of America, your Petitioners are confidently of opinion that private enterprise and public Companies would furnish capital adequate to the completion of the indispensable works of communication and irrigation, and thus not only vastly improve the sources of the public Revenue, but at the same time, by encouraging the industry of India, would contribute to the entire national welfare of this Kingdom.

That your Petitioners especially call the attention of your Hon'ble House to the great advantage which must accrue to India and to the Cotton trade and commerce of this Country by the speedy opening of the navigation of the River Godavery as a means of access to the vast Cotton Fields of Berar, which river may be rendered navigable by a comparatively small outlay of capital; and your Petitioners pray that your Hon'ble House will forthwith take into consideration the means by which this important object may be most speedily attained, your Petitioners being assured that this one District of India alone is capable of furnishing all the Cotton required for the consumption of Great Britain.

Your Petitioners, therefore, pray your Hon'ble House to adopt such measures as will contribute to the development of the agricultural and commercial resources of India, so as to enable that Country to compete, on equal terms, with the United States of America, especially in the production of Cotton, and your Petitioners pray that such measures may include,—

1. The sale of land in fee-simple
2. The establishment of efficient Courts of Law, which, while giving protection to the Ryot, shall afford security to capital and the means of enforcing the just fulfilment of Contracts.
3. The construction of all necessary Public Works, such as Roads, Railroads, Canals or Waterways, Tanks, Reservoirs, and Works of Irrigation, and particularly the opening of the navigation of the River Godavery.

And your Petitioners will ever pray.

From W. Grey, Esq., Secretary to the Government of India, Home Department, to Messrs. Mosley and Hurst, Honorary Agents to the Manchester Cotton Supply Association,—(dated the 2nd July 1861.)

Gentlemen,—I am directed by the Governor General in Council to acknowledge the receipt of your letter dated the 20th ultimo, forwarding copy of a communication to your address, dated the 15th May, from Mr. Haywood, the Secretary of the Cotton Supply Association in Manchester, together with copy of a Petition from the Cotton Trade in England to the House of Commons regarding the future supply of Cotton from India, and, in reply, I am instructed to make the following observations:—

2. The Governor General in Council is glad to know that the measures which have recently been taken here for facilitating the transport of Cotton from India to England are satisfactory to the Cotton Supply Association.

3. With reference to the suggestion in the 5th paragraph of Mr. Haywood's letter for the establishment of efficient Courts in every Cotton District in India, I am directed to state that great progress has been made, and is still being made, in the improvement of the Local Courts, and that more has been accomplished in this respect during the past two or three years than during a long series of previous years.

4. In regard to the alleged obstructions offered by the Stamp Law, noticed in paragraph 6 of the letter, the Governor General in Council thinks that the Association have been misinformed. No reliable evidence has ever been laid before Government that the Stamp Act operates in the manner described; certainly there is no impediment to the stamping of printed Forms of Contract; and it is probable that the information on which the opinion of the Association is founded relates altogether to the period of the first introduction of the Act, when the inconveniences inseparable from a new enactment of the kind were experienced.

5. With reference to the remarks in paragraph 7, I am desired to observe that no parallel can be drawn between the case of America and that of India. The one is a new Country possessing a breadth of fertile virgin land suitable to Cotton, so vast as to be practically without limit, and for the most part unencumbered with any rights of ownership dating further back than the recent removal of the primeval Forest. The other is an old Country, where the extent of good available land unappropriated by ancient occupants is very small, and where almost all the good and accessible land has been for ages in the hands of private proprietors, to whom it has descended fettered by an extraordinary variety of private rights and intricate tenures which have grown out of the religious and social usages of centuries, and any general interference with which, on the part of the Government, would be not only most prejudicial to the security of private property, but harsh and hateful to our native fellow subjects, and dangerous to contentment and peace. The Governor General in Council would be very sorry indeed to believe that any considerable number of persons amongst those who have given thought to the land tenures of India entertained the opinion which is attributed to the public of England in Mr. Haywood's letter.

6. The subjects of the grant of waste lands in fee-simple, and of the redemption of the Land Tax, have occupied, and continue to occupy, the earnest attention of the Government. They have been considered with every desire to afford the fullest scope for the investment of European capital, and to remove all artificial impediments to the land-owner making the most profitable use of his land.

7. It is probable that the former subject, relating to the grant of waste lands, will shortly be disposed of in such a manner as to promote these great objects. The other, the redemption of the Land Tax, is beset with greater difficulties, owing partly to wider differences of opinion on the subject itself, and partly to the great financial importance of the Land Tax, which forms so very large a portion of the public income as to render any hasty and misjudged action regarding it very inexpedient.

8. The Governor General in Council desires to remind the Association that the general testimony of all the best qualified observers, American as well as English, goes to prove that, in the details of cultivation, the Native of India has little or nothing to learn from the agriculturists of other quarters of the globe, and that it is only in the gathering, cleaning, and transport of Cotton, and not in its cultivation, that much improvement can be expected.

9. With regard to the gathering, which is the process most important to the cleanness of the Cotton and to its freedom from dirt and leaf, the Government can do absolutely nothing; but much may be done by the capitalist who lends money to the cutivator, or who buys the produce from him.

10. The same may be said of the process of ginning, or freeing the Cotton from seed. It is for the capitalist, and not for the Government, to discover and to teach to the Indian cultivator cheap and effectual means of doing this. The Government, it is true, has gone to great expense and has devoted the services of some of its best qualified servants to promote improvements in the process, but, as yet, with very partial success, and the main reliance for any better result must be on private enterprize.

11. To facilitate the transport of Cotton by improving Roads and means of internal communication is a duty which, undoubtedly, devolves mainly on the Government in this Country, and the Cotton Supply Association may rest assured that, so far as the financial resources of Government will admit, it shall not be neglected.

12. It is not possible to give any definite reply to the enquiry in paragraph 9 of Mr. Haywood's letter as to "what land can be given to European cultivators of Cotton in suitable Districts." The amount of unappropriated, accessible land, ready for immediate occupation, and at the disposal of Government, is so extremely small as to be of little practical importance in considering how the Cotton produce of India may be largely and rapidly increased. But there are vast tracts of already occupied or appropriated land suitable for the growth of Cotton, and on which it will be grown by the spontaneous act of the cultivators whenever they shall find that it will pay them better than grain and other articles of existing produce. Such lands, too, can be purchased to any extent, but not often in large Estates, and it is this peculiarity which forms one of the main obstacles to any large and sudden investment of capital in the purchase of land in the Cotton-producing Districts. The obstacle is manifestly one with which it is not within the province or power of the Government to deal directly.

From Officiating Civil Pay-master, No. 5, dated 6th May 1861.

Observations.—On reviewing this case, His Excellency the Governor General in Council observes that the facts appear to have been overlooked or misunderstood, both in this Department and by the Officers under the Financial Department. The real state of the case is as follows.

2. When Major Chesney held the post of Officiating Principal of the Civil Engineering College, he was appointed to the substantive post of Controller and Auditor (now Controller and Examiner) of Public Works Accounts in Bengal, in succession to Captain Dickens, and from the 20th January to 21st December 1860, he performed the duties of both Offices.

3. Major Chesney drew a Staff salary of Rupees 650 a month as Officiating Principal, and, on being appointed to the substantive charge of the Bengal Account Office, he was told he was entitled, for the present, to draw such portion of his predecessor's (in the Account Office) Staff salary, in addition to his salary as Officiating Principal, as the Civil Auditor might consider admissible under the circumstances.

4. The Civil Auditor appears to have understood that Major Chesney was appointed to act as Controller and Auditor, and that his Staff appointment was that of Principal of the Civil Engineering College, and he suggested that he should "draw the pay of his Staff appointment in full, and, in addition thereto, a moiety of the Staff salary of Captain Dickens, as Officer in charge of the Central Office of Accounts," to the extent of Rupees 150 per mensem. This suggestion was approved in the Financial Department, and was passed on through this Office to the Bengal Government.

5. Major Chesney appealed against this decision, referring to Financial Resolution of the 16th March 1860, which rules that an "Officer" holding a permanent appointment, who is called upon to perform the duties of another or second office (not subordinate to his own), shall receive a moiety of the salary of the appointment in which he is officiating, in addition to the full salary of his own appointment, provided that no extra expense be entailed on Government. It was declared, however, in the Financial Department, that this Resolution is only applicable to Uncovenanted servants. This is perhaps the case, though there is nothing in the Resolution itself to shew that it is so.

6. When a further appeal from Major Chesney was forwarded to the Government of India in this Department, the case was referred to the Controller of Military Finance for his view of it. This Officer appears to have understood that Major Chesney held two officiating appointments, but stated, notwithstanding, that a Military Officer similarly situated would, under the Military Rules, have been allowed the full Staff pay of his own appointment, and a moiety of the Staff pay of the absentee, under Section XXXII., paragraph 19 page 329 of the Pay Code.*

* "When Staff Officers are directed to officiate in other than their permanent appointments, and perform the duties of both situations, they will be permitted to draw the authorized salaries and Office allowances annexed to their permanent appointments, in addition to a moiety of the salary of the situation they may be selected temporarily to fill, together with the Office allowances attached, with exception to horse allowance and house rent (or any corresponding allowance), which are admissible in one capacity only."

7. The letter from this Department, No. 1381, dated 27th April 1861, to the Government of Bengal, issued after the receipt of the above opinion, claiming for Major Chesney full salary as Principal, and half salary of Controller and Examiner, under Financial Resolution of 16th March 1860, appears to have been written under a double error, viz., that the Resolution is applicable to other than Uncovenanted servants, and that the Principalship was Major Chesney's substantive appointment.

8. Mr. Sandeman's reply to it corrects one of the errors in stating that the Resolution of the 16th March 1860 is not applicable to Covenanted servants, and therefore he maintains that Major Chesney's claim to the additional allowance while "acting" as Controller and Examiner is inadmissible under the ruling of the Government of India, in the Financial Department, dated 19th July 1860. It is not known in this Department what ruling is referred to here.

9. But on the general merits of the present case, as it really stands, the Governor General in Council observes that there appears to be a distinct rule in such cases applicable to Military appointments, and an equally distinct and identical rule applicable to Uncovenanted Civil appointments, and that there surely ought to be some rule or principle applicable to Civil appointments held by Military Officers.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT.

Fort William, the 25th June 1861.

RESOLUTION,—WITH reference to the remarks contained in paragraph 9 of the foregoing Extract, and to the circumstance that the allowances of Military Officers in Civil employ are now generally regulated, not in accordance with the Civil Rules as they used to be, but in accordance with the Military Rules, the Governor General in Council is pleased to resolve that, in modification of the Orders passed in this Department on the 8th March 1860, No. 1748, it be ruled for the future that a Military Officer in Civil employ holding a permanent appointment, who is called upon to perform the duties of another or second office, shall be allowed to receive a moiety of the salary of the appointment in which he is officiating, in addition to the full salary of his own appointment, provided that no extra expense be entailed on Government.

COMMISSARIAT DEPARTMENT.

No. 67 of 1861-62.

From

THE OFFICIATING EXAMINER of COMMISSARIAT ACCOUNTS,

To

THE PRESIDENT, MILITARY FINANCE DEPARTMENT,

Fort William.

Transmits herewith, the usual Monthly Return shewing the latest dates of Receipt and Audit of Commissariat Accounts brought up to the 15th instant.

2. The following Executives, it will be seen, have furnished each two months' Accounts during the month, viz., Gwalior, Head-Quarters' Camp, Lucknow and Presidency.

3. The under-mentioned have rendered none: Bareilly, Benares,* Field Force Lucknow, Governor General's Camp, Lahore and Mooltan, and the remaining have despatched one each.

* Cause of delay has been satisfactorily explained by Executive Officer.

4. As regards the progress of audit during the month, the number of Accounts audited is 37, the number now in hand is 35 only, thus decreasing the Arrears by six. There were 41 Disbursements in hand unaudited on the 16th ultimo.

5. The accompaniment shows that the Accounts generally of the Bengal Commissariat are well brought up: and it is confidently hoped that the existing Arrears in four or five Executives, caused by the severe pressure upon them during the late mutinies, will shortly be adjusted. Every exertion is being made on the part of the Executive Officers concerned to render these Accounts: and no time will be lost in auditing them when received in this Office.

6. The whole of the Departmental Accounts will be prepared and audited under the revised system, with effect from the 1st ultimo, or the commencement of the current Official year 1861-62, agreeably with the sanction of Government conveyed in Military Secretary's Letter No. 195, dated 4th March last, to the Military Finance Department.

HALF-YEARLY REPORT BY THE DIRECTORS.

The Directors have the pleasure of submitting to the Proprietors the ordinary Report on the business of the Bank for half-year ending 29th June.

Throughout the entire period which has elapsed since the date of the last Report, the supply of money has been abundant, and its value remarkably steady. The Bank's rates of Interest have in consequence undergone no material alterations. Towards the close of 1860 a demand for accommodation, chiefly in connection with a rapidly augmented trade in Cotton, sprang up in the Bombay market, and no inconsiderable portion of unemployed capital was thereby attracted to that Presidency from this side of India. To that cause mainly is to be ascribed the marked decrease in the amount of Deposits, and in the Bank's Cash Balance, which followed early in 1861. On the 24th of January the Directors raised the Loan rates of Interest from 4½ and 5 per Cent. to 5 and 6 per Cent. Although, from the above date, the Cash on hand continued steadily to decline, the Directors did not deem it expedient to make any further alterations until the 3rd April following, when, owing to increased local demands, which, however, proved to be of a temporary character, the extreme limit of Note circulation allowed by the Charter, was reached. Then, the rates were again raised one per Cent. No further change has since taken place.

The half-year closes with a Cash Balance of one crore and sixty-five lacs, which, although not much over one-half of the sum held early in January last, is still in excess of the normal amount of the Bank's Specie Reserve.

The re-action which followed the unusually active and buoyant trade of the two years immediately succeeding the suppression of the recent mutiny has been prolonged by the famine, which, for six months past, has been desolating a large tract of the North-West Provinces. The Directors learn from the able Report of Colonel Baird Smith, C. B., that, in ordinary seasons, this important district, which comprises a population of nearly thirty millions, takes off annually about one-half of the Manchester Goods imported into Calcutta. It will be readily perceived that such a great calamity, absolutely paralysing a large extent of these Provinces, and causing, in the more favored and adjacent districts, a diversion of capital from its ordinary channels to extensive local speculations in grain, could not fail to be accompanied with results prejudicial to the commercial interests of this City. The stagnation in trade which, from a combination of untoward circumstances, thus still unfortunately prevails, is of greater intensity and of longer duration than has been experienced for a long series of years. Notwithstanding the adverse circumstances against which the Bank has had to contend, it will be observed, from the annexed Statement of Profit and Loss, that, after providing for all incidental charges, and paying the Income Tax, the Directors are enabled to declare a dividend at the rate of ten per Cent. per annum, and to maintain the Reserve Fund at nearly the same amount at which it stood on 30th June 1860. Dividend Warrants will, as usual, be immediately available to the Shareholders on application being made at the Bank.

The Directors have the satisfaction of intimating that no bad debts have been sustained during the past six months.

The Agency Department shews an increase in the half-year of twenty-one lacs in the amount of Securities held from constituents, the aggregate of which at date is Rupees 5,08,56,184.

In their last two Reports the Directors very shortly adverted to the Bill then before the Legislative Council, the object of which is to provide for a Government Paper Currency. Soon after the second reading of the Bill, introduced by the late Mr. Wilson, negotiations intended to regulate the future business relations which are to subsist between the Government and the Bank were formally initiated, and have been protracted down to this date. The negotiations were, however, so far matured that early in February last notice was served upon the Bank to the effect that their right of issuing Bank Notes payable to the bearer on demand would cease and determine in twelve months thereafter.

The Directors think it proper to state that, although the Bank could not prefer a legal claim for compensation in respect of the impending withdrawal of their exclusive privilege of issue, His Excellency the Governor General in Council all along recognised the Bank's right in equity to expect all reasonable support at the hands of Government.

The Directors had anticipated that they would be able, in the present Report, to state to the Proprietors that the bases of the entire arrangements between Government and the Bank, in connection with the contemplated changes in the constitution of the Bank—the opening of Branch Banks throughout the Presidency—the management of the Government Currency—and the transfer to the Bank of the Treasury Balances, had been definitely settled, but they regret that they are not yet in a position to do so. So soon as the arrangements shall have been finally adjusted, the Directors will take an early opportunity of submitting the new Charter, together with a separate Code of Bye-laws, and the whole details of the changes still under consideration, to a General Meeting of the Proprietors, for their formal approval.

6*th*.—Any Packet which shall not be open at the ends or sides, or shall have any letter or any communication of the nature of a letter written or printed in it or upon its cover will be charged with Letter Postage.

All communications respecting change of address should be made to the Post-Master of Calcutta and not to the Post-Master General. Letters re-directed, whether delivered in Calcutta, or forwarded to some other Station, are taxed with "Forward Postage."

No. 2661.

The 19th September 1860.—As very many Letters on ordinary Post Office matters are addressed by the Public to the Post-Master General instead of the Post-Master Calcutta, and as inconvenience is the result, it is solicited the practice may be discontinued, and the Post-Master be addressed on all matters of his Office, except when any party may wish to prefer complaint to higher authority.

All complaints requiring redress, such as overcharge of Postage, mis-sending or delay in the delivery of Letters, &c., must be made to the Post-Master-General, accompanied by the Envelopes of the letters referred to; the number of the Delivery Peon should always be stated.

No. 1027.

The 9th July 1859.—Parcels or Book Packets cannot be sent by Private Ships through the Post Office.

Notice.

The Inland Postage on letters, &c., posted for despatch by the After-Packet must be prepaid. Such letters, &c., as do not bear the Inland Postage, or are insufficiently stamped with the After-Packet Postage, will be detained and forwarded by the next Steamer.

Special Notice is directed to the subjoined Clauses of Rules, the want of attention to which has occasioned the Post Office much inconvenience.

2nd.—A separate instruction will be required for every change of address, and no instruction will be attended to for more than three months after its receipt.

3rd.—Under Section XXIII. of Act XVII. of 1854, Forward Postage will be charged in addition to all other Postage due or paid thereon upon every letter without exception, which may be re-directed in any Post Office. For example, if a letter posted in Calcutta and addressed to Hooghly is, under instructions which may have been received from the addressee, re-directed in the Calcutta Post Office and sent to Barrackpore, Forward Postage will be charged in addition to the Postage which would have been due, had the letter been despatched to Hooghly according to its original address.

4th.—The practice of giving instructions to the Officers of the Post Office to intercept and re-direct letters, not only imposes much labor upon them, but in large Offices seriously retards the delivery and despatch of the Mails. A register of instructions regarding changes of address will be kept in every Post Office, but it must be understood, that it is impossible to guarantee that they shall be attended to except in the case of letters received for delivery.

Letters and Newspapers despatched to and from the United Kingdom by private Vessels are liable to the following rates of Postage, which must be pre-paid by Stamps:—

	Rs.	As.	Pie.
Letters not exceeding ½ oz. in weight	0	4	0
Ditto exceeding ½ oz. but not exceeding 1 oz.	0	8	0

And so on adding 8 annas for each oz. or fraction thereof which includes Inland Postage.

Newspapers not exceeding 4 oz. in weight, 1*d.* or 8 pie must be pre-paid by Stamp, and no Inland Postage is required upon such papers.

Parcels conveyed by the above opportunity for the United Kingdom are liable to Letter rates of Postage.

Notice.

LETTERS arriving at the Presidency Towns by Mail Steamers will be immediately sorted for delivery according to the address alone, without any reference to instructions which may have been received regarding change of address; such changes will be left to be discovered by the Delivery Officers, and be corrected in the forward and unclaimed Departments of the Office.

Forward Postage will be charged in addition to all other Postage due or paid thereon upon every letter without exception, which may be re-directed in the Post Office.

Letters, &c., received by the Steamer will be delivered at the Window of the Post Office only to parties who have registered their names. Applications to the Post Office on the day of the Steamer's arrival to intercept and re-direct letters, &c., cannot be attended to, as they are found not only to impose much labour but seriously retard the delivery and despatch of the Mails.

UNDER the orders of Government, no fourth delivery of letters by the Post Office is allowed. Mails which are received by Steamers from Suez at so late an hour in the day as not to admit of the letters being taken out for delivery by 6 P. M. are detained till the following morning, but parties who have registered their names under the usual fee are entitled to receive their letters and Marseilles Newspapers so soon as the Mails are sorted, and which is generally about 2½ hours after receipt of the Mail, at the Post Office.

Forward Newspapers.—Extra or Forward Postage is chargeable on every Newspaper re-directed at the Post Office of original address and forwarded to another Post Office.

No. 9891.

BANGHY Parcels are in future not to be specially registered, as the full address and weight of all such are registered in the Post Office, and receipts are granted to Senders if required. The Post Office Officials have therefore been directed, not to accept fees for the special registration of Banghy Parcels. Articles sent on Book Post rates are not registered unless a registration fee is paid. When therefore Books or Prints or other Articles of value are sent by Book Post, the Senders can register them by payment of the usual fee of 4 annas.

Stern-Wheel Steamers for River Navigation.

From the RIGHT HON'BLE SIR C. WOOD, BART., K. C. B., Secretary of State, to HIS EXCELLENCY THE HON'BLE, THE GOVERNOR IN COUNCIL, Bombay,—(Dated India Office, London, the 8th December 1860.)

SIR,—THE Marine letter from your Government, dated the 26th October 1859, and the papers which accompanied it, relative to the provision of a Stern-Wheel Steamer for experiment on the River Indus, having been laid before me in Council, a request was addressed to Her Majesty's Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs to procure the fullest information which could be obtained in regard to Vessels of this description from the Consular Authorities located near to those Rivers in North America where they are stated to be in use.

2. The result of this reference has recently been communicated to me, but, after full consideration of the subject, I am of opinion that, in the present state of the finances of India, it would be inexpedient to take any further steps towards prosecuting the experiment recommended in the letter under acknowledgment.

3. It has nevertheless been intimated to the Secretary for Foreign Affairs, that if drawings and specifications of a more detailed nature than those already obtained can at any time be procured, I shall esteem it a favor to be supplied with them.

4. Fully concurring with your Government in the interest which attaches to all matters connected with the improvement of the navigation of Indian Rivers, the particular advantages which would seem to be derivable from the principle of propulsion employed in the "Stern-Wheel Boat" will not escape my attention in future requirements.

5. A copy of the correspondence received from America, through the Foreign Office, is herewith transmitted for your information.

From JAMES MURRAY, ESQ., to HERMAN MERIVALE, ESQ., C. B.,—(dated Foreign Office, London, 1st August 1860.)

SIR,—I AM directed by Lord John Russell to transmit to you, to be laid before Her Majesty's Secretary of State, for India, copies of a Despatch, and its enclosures, received from Her Majesty's Minister at Washington, containing the result of the enquiries which, upon the receipt of your letter of the 13th of March last, His Lordship was instructed to make, relative to the Stern-Wheel Paddle Boats employed in the navigation of the Sacramento and other Rivers of North America.

From LORD LYONS, to LORD J. RUSSELL, &c. &c.,—(No. 246, dated Washington, 16th July 1860.)

MY LORD,—ON the receipt of your Lordship's Despatch No. 68, of the 15th March last, I addressed myself to Mr. Booker, Her Majesty's Consul at San Francisco, to the Governor of Vancouver's Island, and to Mr. Gwin, one of the Senators for California, in order to obtain the information required by the India Office, relating to the Stern-Wheel Paddle Boats employed in the navigation of the Sacramento, Wilhamet, and Fraser Rivers.

I have now the honor to transmit to your Lordship copies of a Despatch, and its enclosures, which I have received from Her Majesty's Consul at San Francisco, and which supply in great part the information wanted.

Mr. Senator Gwin very oblingly put me in communication with Major Samuel J. Hensley, President of the California Navigation Company. This gentleman engaged, at an interview which I had with him on the 9th April last, to furnish me, in about a week's time from that date complete specifications and drawings of Stern-Wheel Steam Boats. He has perhaps been deterred from doing so, by the consideration mentioned in Mr. Consul Booker's Despatch.

From the Governor of Vancouver's Island I have not yet received any answer.

From W. L. Bookre, Esq., to Lord Lyons, &c. &c.—(dated British Consulate, San Francisco, the 19th June 1860.)

My Lord,—I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of your Excellency's Despatch of the 3rd April, in reference to Stern-Wheel Steam Boats, such as used on the upper waters of the Sacramento, Wilharet, and Fraser Rivers. I should have replied to it more promptly, but have been endeavouring to get perfect drawings and specifications, but in this I have been unsuccessful, as all the Steam Boat Builders are averse, without an equivalent consideration, to furnish them, hoping thereby to have the building of any boats that may be required. I enclose copies of Estimates, furnished me by the principal and most successful builder, of the cost of building the hull of a Boat (without Cabins), and also two Estimates for the Engines.

The boat for which the Estimates are given would be about 150 feet long, 27 feet in breadth, with 8½ feet depth of hold, and would draw about 13 inches light and 18 with 100 tons of cargo on board. It would be built of 16 to 18 inch Ruget Sound Pine, the best wood for the purpose I am told, with perhaps the exception of the Canada Larch. I have had frequent opportunities of seeing the working of the Stern-Wheel Paddle Boats, and can bear testimony to the great advantage it has over the side wheel in rapid currents, in consequence of the water being nearly stationary in the stern of the Boat.

From Peter Donahue, Esq., to W.L. Booker Esq.,—(dated Union Iron Works, San Francisco, the 17th May 1860.)

Dear Sir,—I propose to furnish two Steam Engines, cylinders to be 16 feet diameter, 6 stroke, with slide valves on each end, and steam chests connected, with pipes; pistons, and followers for metallic packing, slides and cross-heads; bed plates of cast iron, running the full length of cylinders and slides; pitmans of wood, strapped with iron, 30 feet long from centre of cross-head to centre of crank-pin; rock shafts and stands; one cut-off and one full-stroke chain for each engine, with yokes, stands, and rods; and lever and quadrant to work reverse motion from centre of Boat; two cast-iron cranks and ends for water-wheel shaft, two pillow-blocks and caps for the same; one boiler-iron water-wheel shaft, 18 inches diameter, 17 feet 1½ inches long between journals, and to be of 5-16th iron, double rivetted; four water-wheel flauges of boiler-iron, with bolts and stirrups for the arms and brackets, and four circles for water-wheels, of 2½ by ½ iron; all the bedding and holding-down bolts for the cylinders; and engine frames and pillow-blocks; (but no hog-chains or supporters for the outriggers); two full-stroke feed-pumps; two boilers 42 inches diameter, 30 feet long, to be made of 5-16th iron, with five 10-inch flues to each boiler, with fire-fronts, grate-bars, and bearer.guage-cocks.steam-drivers and heater, one smoke-pipe and britchings, and all the necessary sheet-iron works around the boilers; check and safety valves, one blow-off cock, the necessary sheet-iron for ash-pan; one gong and one Ashcroft steam-guage; also one of Woodward's patent fire-engines and pump No. 3, together with all the necessary copper pipe for engine and pump. And complete the whole in a faithful and workmanlike manner, and deliver the same, on any wharf within the city of San Francisco, for the sum of $12,000.

Should you prefer a Locomotive-shaped Boiler, I will furnish one to contain 112 three-inch tubes, 12 feet long, 5 feet diameter,—whole length, including furnace-box, 20 feet,—in lieu of the Boilers previously mentioned, for an additional sum of $ 750.

From Messrs. Goddar, Hanscom, and Rankin,—(Pacific Foundry, San Francisco, dated the 24th May 1860.)

Dear Sir,—We will undertake to furnish the Machinery for a Stern-Wheel Steamer according to your specifications for the sum of $ 2,500.

The above Estimate includes two Engines, 16-inch cylinder, 5-feet stroke, with all the attachments, one fire-box Boiler, 58-in. shell, 150 2¾-inch 15-feet tubes. fire-box 6 feet by 5 feet 6 inches outside, smoke-pipe and britching, ash-pan, stand-pipe, grate-bars, &c.; the necessary steam feed and exhaust pipes, with cocks, steam-guage, gongs, oil-cups, fire-tools; the necessary hog-chains, &c., in fact the machine-work of the Boat complete, and the whole to be done in the most thorough and workman-like manner, to your satisfaction.

From John G. North, Esq.,—(dated San Francisco, the 7th January 1860.)

Dear Sir,—In answer to your question regarding the cost of a hull for a Stern-Wheel Steamer of the following dimensions, to wit: Length 150 feet, breadth of beam 27 feet, depth of hold 3 feet 6 inches. I propose to deliver the Boat, in the advancement of construction, as may be best suitable for shipping, and furnishing all the materials required for the hull; the frames to be worked and placed on the keel with shearsheaks and clamps; all the required kelsons and engine frames to be fitted hogpost, with all chains of 1¼ iron; four rudder and rudders' irons, guards to be put on; knuckle streaks on the bilges or knuckleson; deck and bottom plank to be planed to a regular thickness; wood-work for waterwheel frames to be painted or oiled, marked, and numbered, taken to pieces, and deliver alongside of the wharf, ready for shipments for the sum of $ 5,800.

From E. Hammond, Esq., to H. Merivale, Esq., c. b.,—(dated Foreign Office, the 15th August 1860.)

Sir,—With reference to Mr. Murray's letter of the 1st instant, I am directed by Lord John Russell to transmit to you, for the information of Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India in Council, a copy of a Despatch, and its enclosures, from Her Majesty's Minister at Washington, containing further information respecting Stern-Wheel Paddle Steamers.

From Lord Lyons, Her Majesty's Minister at Washington to Lord John Russell,—(No. 259, dated the 25th July 1860.)

My Lord,—In my Despatch No. 246 of the 16th instant, I had the honor to enclose copies of papers which had been sent to me by Her Majesty's Consul at San Francisco, relative to the information required by the India Office with regard to Stern-Wheel Paddle Boats.

I have the honor to transmit to your Lordship herewith a Despatch on the same subject, which I received yesterday from the Governor of British Columbia and Vancouver's Island.

Your Lordship will perceive that the Governor states that some of the finest Boats of the description referred to are now running on Fraser River, British Columbia.

P. S.—Since writing the above I have received, from Her Majesty's Consul at San Francisco, the accompanying photograph of a Stern-Wheel Steam Boat.

From J. Douglas, Esq., to Lord Lyons,—(dated Victoria, Vancouver's Island, the 21st May 1860.)

My Lord,—I have the honor to acknowledge your Lordship's Despatch of the 3rd April, and its enclosures, on the subject of Stern-Wheel and Paddle Boats, and I beg to assure your Lordship that I will not fail to procure for you, at an early date, information concerning the construction and action of the Stern-Wheel River Boats. Some of the finest Boats of that class probably in the world are now running on Fraser River, and do their work admirably well. They have enormous steam-power and great capacity of stowage, they steer with precision, and may be built to draw not over thirty inches of water. There is no class of Vessel that is so well adapted, or that can at all compete with the Stern-Wheel Boat, in the navigation of rapid and shallow Rivers.

From E. Hammond Esq., to H. Merivale, Esq., &c., &c., —(dated Foreign Office, the 12th September 1860.)

Sir,—With reference to Mr. Murray's letter of the 1st ultimo, enclosing a copy of a Despatch from Lord Lyons on the subject of Stern-Wheel Steam Boats, I am directed by Lord John Russell to transmit to you, for the information of Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India in Council, copies of a Despatch, and of its enclosures, from Her Majesty's Charge d'Affairs at Washington, respecting the offer of Mr. Murray, a builder of Stern-Wheel Boats at Vancouver's Island, to superintend the construction of similar Vessels for the navigation of the Ganges.

From W. D. Irvine, Esq., to Lord John Russell, &c., &c.,—(dated Washington, the 27th August 1860.)

My Lord,—Lord Lyons, in his Despatch No. 246, of the 18th ultimo, reported to your Lordship that he had not yet received any answer from the Governor of Vancouver's Island on the subject of the Stern Paddle-Wheel Steam Boats, employed on the Fraser River.

I have now the honor to enclose copy of a Despatch from Governor Douglas to Lord Lyons, enclosing a letter from Mr. Murray, the most successful builder of Stern-Wheel Boats on the Fraser River, offering to superintend the construction of similar Vessels for the navigation of the Ganges.

From J. Douglas, Esq., to Lord Lyons, &c. &c.,—(dated Victoria, Vancouver's Island, the 21st July 1860.)

My Lord,—With reference to my communication of the 21st of May, in reply to your Lordship's letter applying for information respecting the construction of Stern-Wheel Steam Boats, I have now to inform your Lordship that I applied to Captain Murray, the most successful Builder of Stern-Wheel Steam Boats in this part of the world, for plans of the two powerful Boats which he now runs on Fraser's River, and he promised at the time to furnish them; but, instead of the promised plans, I lately received from him the letter enclosed, in which an offer is made of his own services to superintend the building of Stern-Wheel Boats in any part of the world. Captain Murray has no doubt taken a correct view of the matter; there are many details connected with that sort of Vessel that no description can supply; and by employing him at once much expense would be saved, as there would be no failures to pay for, and a perfect craft be produced at the first attempt.

Captain Murray sets a high value on his services, though not more than they receive here.

He expects a salary of £2,000 per annum, and would pledge his services for the year at that rate.

From Captain Alexander Sinclair Murray, Master, Steamer Governor Douglas, to Governor Douglas,—(dated Victoria, July 8th, 1860.)

Sir,—Some time ago your Excellency enquired of me for the model and lines of Steamer Governor Douglas, now running on Fraser River. I would be most happy to comply with your request; but since our conversation on this affair, I am of opinion, seeing that there are so many details connected with Steam Vessels of this description, that the best and only method to get Vessels of this description constructed in the old country would be to have a practical man to superintend building and finishing every thing belonging to aforesaid class of Stern-Wheel Steamers.

Your Excellency is well aware that the Steamers Governor Douglas and Colonel Moody, which I superintended building here, have been a success for what they were intended, viz. that they work admirably in strong currents. The currents in some places in Fraser's River run from 7½ to 8 knots per hour, and they have no difficulty in ascending the same. Steam Boats of their class carry a large load of freight and light draft of water.

If your Excellency would forward this communication to the parties in England connected with the Steam Company on the Ganges, I would offer my services to superintend building or constructing Stern-Wheel Steamers suitable for the navigation of the Ganges or any other River in the East Indies. So far as remuneration for my services I would leave that with the Company in England to decide upon; however, I should expect to get well paid, as also my travelling expenses. From my experience in building the aforesaid class of Boats, I am confident that I would be able to give satisfaction.

Hoping that your Excellency will oblige me by recommending me for the management of completing what I have addressed in this communication.

Home Department.

Supply of Indian Cotton to England.

From J. D. Gordon, Esq., Junior Secretary to the Government of Bengal, to the Secretary to the Government of India, Home Department,—(dated Camp Parisnath, the 17th June 1861.)

Sir,—I am directed to forward, for the perusal of His Excellency the Governor General in Council, the accompanying copy of a report from the Officiating Secretary to the Board of Revenue, regarding the capability of the several Divisions of the Lower Provinces for the production of Cotton, together with the Lieutenant-Governor's reply.*

2. Instructions will be issued for the immediate construction of the Roads alluded to in paragraphs 7 to 9 of the latter communication; and the Commissioners of Chota Nagpore and Cuttack will be consulted as to the measures they would recommend to be taken for improving the other lines of communication in their Divisions, alluded to in paragraphs 13 to 21 and 58 to 61 of the Board's letter.

3. From the 8th paragraph of the Report it will be observed that the Commissioner of Chittagong is of opinion that a large and permanent increase in the cultivation of Cotton can be brought about in that Division, though this should be left, he conceives, to private enterprise. But the conversion of the savage Kookies from their habits of murderous incursions into the Plains, for the purpose of cutting off human heads and carrying away women into slavery, to habits of peacefully raising and selling Cotton, would be so great a political object as, in the Lieutenant-Governor's opinion, to justify an exception, in the case of the Chittagong Hills, to the general rule of non-interference on the part of Government, and to warrant the establishment there of Government Factories for buying, cleaning, and screwing Hill Cotton, such as is suitable to the English market.

4. The exceptional action of Government, temporarily and experimentally, in the matter of Tea cultivation, which commenced about twenty-five years ago, has already produced private Tea Planters, by whose exertions, in a very few years, Tea will become the great staple export of the Bengal Presidency. The cost, as compared with the result of the precursorship of Government in this instance, was as nothing. And but for that precursorship it is probable that not a pound of Tea would have been grown to this day in India. This shews that there are exceptional cases where general rules have no true application; and the Lieutenant-Governor is inclined to think that the encouragement of the growth of Cotton in the Kookie tracts of Chittagong may be such a case.

5. Should this suggestion be thought worthy of consideration, it would of course be necessary to consult the Local Authorities before coming to any decision.

From W. GREY, Esq., Secretary to the Government of India, Home Department, to J. D. GORDON, Esq., Junior Secretary to the Government of Bengal,—(dated the 3rd July 1861.)

SIR,—I AM directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter, dated the 17th ultimo, forwarding, with remarks, a copy of a Report by the Board of Revenue on the capability of the several Divisions of the Lower Provinces for the production of Cotton, and of the Lieutenant-Governor's Orders thereon.

2. The Governor General in Council concurs with the Lieutenant-Governor in thinking that supplies of Cotton, in exportable quantities, are to be looked for first from those tracts which now send some Cotton to be consumed beyond their own limits, and approves of the measures which, in this view, His Honor proposes to undertake for improving the communications in the Divisions of Chota Nagpore and Cuttack, from the table lands of which Cotton is already exported to a limited extent.

3. Having regard to the special circumstances of the Hill tracts of Chittagong, represented by the Lieutenant-Governor, His Excellency in Council thinks that the establishment there of Factories for buying, cleaning, and screwing Cotton, such as is suitable to the English market, deserves the support of Government; and he directs me to convey his approval to the proposal of the Lieutenant-Governor to consult the Local Authorities on the subject.

But His Excellency in Council would greatly prefer that the establishment of such Factories should be undertaken by private enterprize, aided by any grants of land, special measures of Police, or other facilities which Government can furnish, rather than that it should be attempted directly by Government or on Government account.

Government of Bengal.

Establishment of Small Cause Courts in the Mofussil.

From J. D. GORDON, Esq., Junior Secretary to the Government of Bengal, to W. GREY, Esq., Secretary to the Government of India, Home Department,—(dated the 10th May 1861.)

SIR,—I AM directed, with reference to your letters of the 16th and 28th of March last, and with reference to the previous correspondence on this subject, to explain the measures which have been taken for the establishment of Courts of Small Causes, with their Judges, in the Districts of Nuddea and Jessore, and in the Cities of Patna, Dacca, and Moorshedabad, as well as in the Suburbs of Calcutta.

2. The Lieutenant-Governor has endeavored as fully as possible to meet the conditions laid down in paragraph 15 of your letter of the 16th of March, as further explained in your letter of the 28th of March, regarding the qualifications of the Judges who should be chosen to fill the new Courts. But it has been found impossible to fulfil to the letter the conditions laid down, because eligible Europeans of legal education and training,—that is to say Barristers or Attorneys competent to try cases without an Interpreter,—are not available; and whilst the instructions were that some such Europeans should be appointed in each District, the employment of persons as Judges who are not acquainted with the Vernaculars, though not absolutely and in every case prohibited, was strongly, and, the Lieutenant-Governor begs to be permitted respectfully to say, in his opinion most justly and properly discouraged.

3. As by the Law every Court of Small Causes has its own separate and exclusive jurisdiction, it will be apparent to His Excellency in Council that the mere appointment, to one or more of such Courts, of an English Lawyer would have been a measure wholly inoperative in respect to all the other Courts. Whatever are the benefits of having an English Lawyer in a Court of this description would have been confined to a single spot, and parties and cases of the very same nature coming before the Small Cause Courts in the neighbouring Sub-Divisions would have had none of them. This might have caused dissatisfaction. On the other hand, few English Lawyers were available, and of these none could try causes without an Interpreter.

4. In this state of things the Lieutenant-Governor thought he would best meet the spirit of his instructions,—whilst at the same time a satisfactory, effective, and practical arrangement would be made by foregoing absolutely the condition of acquaintance with the Vernaculars in the case of one Judge, and one Judge only, in each of the two Districts to be provided for,—by thereby obtaining for one Small Cause Court in each District the services of an English Barrister, and by giving, as far as possible, the benefit of the learning and legal training of this Barrister to the whole of his District, by constituting him a joint Judge in every Small Cause Court within it, as well as the single Judge of the Small Cause Court at the Sudder Station.

5. Annexed is a List of the new Courts, with the Judges appointed to them, and the salaries of each Officer For the Small Cause Courts at the Sudder Stations of each of the rural districts of Jessore and Nuddea, he has been enabled to appoint two gentlemen who are Barristers of standing.

List of Small Cause Courts established under Act XLII. of 1860.

Dacca (City) ..	J. B. Bell, Esq. ...	700
Moorshedabad (City) ..	Punchanund Banurjee ...	700
Patna (City) ..	Sukhawut Hussein ..	700

One of these gentlemen, Mr. Dale, has been many years at the Bar, and has recently acted for several months in the Office of a Magistrate of Calcutta. The other, Mr. Boulnois, has acted, in a very satisfactory manner, in the Office of the Acting Chief Judge of the Small Cause Court at Calcutta for some months past. These are the gentlemen in whose cases it was found necessary to dispense entirely with a knowledge of the Vernacular languages as an essential qualification to Office; and an Interpreter has accordingly been sanctioned for each of them, permanently, on a salary of 100 Rupees a month. When they sit with any of their brother Judges in one of the Small Cause Courts in the Sub-Divisions, they will carry their Interpreter with them.

6. In the case of Mr. O. Temple, who,—having filled in a very creditable manner the important Office of Clerk to the Calcutta Court of Small Causes,—was recommended as qualified by past experience and training for the Office of a Judge of a Court of Small Causes, an Interpreter has been allowed for one year, during which period Mr. Temple, who already possesses some knowledge of the Vernaculars, has undertaken to pass in the languages, and to qualify himself for trying causes in the usual manner in the language of the people. A similar stipulation has been made in the case of Mr. Davis, an Attorney, who was strongly recommended, and who has made much progress in the Native languages.

7. These two last-mentioned appointments, (in addition to the two Barristers named),—though infringing for a time, but for a time only, the important condition of a competent knowledge of the languages,—were thought by the Lieutenant-Governor likely to meet the wishes of His Excellency in Council, with reference to the expressed desire that some of the appointments in each District should be bestowed on Europeans, which was understood to mean gentlemen of legal education and training.

8. The other appointments have been bestowed on Principal Sudder Ameens who have shown themselves the most able, independent, and deserving of their class. The present opportunity has enabled the Lieutenant-Governor to reward several hard-working and meritorious Officers. Some of them are Europeans or Eurasians, and all have been recommended by the Sudder Court as Judges of very high character.

9. Of course these Principal Sudder Ameens have not the knowledge of English or of Scotch Law which Barristers, Advocates, and Attorneys are presumed to have. But as none of the Small Cause Courts in the Mofussil, any more than the other Civil and Criminal Courts there, have any concern with either English or Scotch Law, the want of this specialty will not be felt. On the other hand, these Judges will be peculiarly well qualified to do substantial justice, by their intimate knowledge of the language, character, and customs of the people, and of the tenures of land, and by their long experience in the kind of cases likely to be instituted.

10. From the power which the present arrangement will give of reserving cases, or points, of great importance, or legal difficulty, and of granting reviews of judgment, for trial before the Sub-Divisional Small Cause Court Judge and the Barrister Joint Judge sitting together, the Lieutenant-Governor expects much practical benefit.

11. The Lieutenant-Governor has been obliged, of course, to make his arrangements with reference to the Small Cause Court Law as it stands; which was never intended for rural Districts or extensive local jurisdictions, but was intended only for populous Marts or Cities. He would much prefer, to the present Small Cause Court Act for the Mofussil, an Act framed more upon the model of the Calcutta Small Cause Court Act. He would prefer one Small Cause Court for each District, having at its head, with special powers regarding rules, forms, and establishments, a Lawyer as Chief Judge; the Court to consist of an indefinite number of Judges, each of whom might sit separately in any part of the District, and any two or more of whom might sit together when they pleased. Practically this would equally result in having one Small Cause Court Judge in each Sub-Division of a District, and one Chief Judge who would go frequently on circuit. But the system would be neater, and more conveniently and perhaps less expensively workable. He would have preferred also institution and other fees, as in the Calcutta Court, to the use of stamped paper, as leading more probably to self-supporting institutions.

12. Taking the Law as it is, and his instructions as they are, the Lieutenant-Governor has endeavoured to utilize the means at his disposal as much as possible. Not only will the legal knowledge of the Barristers be available, as occasion may require it, in every Court of their District, to try cases reserved by the Judge of the Court by reason of their novelty or intricacy, or for some point of Law, but the internal organization and system of every Court in the District will be arranged from the first in consonance with the Barrister's views, and in a manner which his experience approves. Although Rules for all the Small Cause Courts will emanate from the Sudder, without some device for keeping the Courts of a District together, the Lieutenant-Governor would expect much confusion and objectionable diversity of practice.

13. The time of the Barrister Judges will be occupied sufficiently by the business of their own Small Cause Courts, and that of the other Courts of which they are joint Judges. But as the Small Cause Court Judges in the Sub-Divisions will not have nearly enough Small Cause Court work to occupy their times; and could not be reduced in number without depriving the poorer classes, in distant parts of the Districts, altogether of justice in small causes, and inflicting infinite vexation on all suitors and witnesses in such causes, they have all been vested, in various degrees, with Magisterial Judicial powers; such as have been Principal Sudder Ameens obtaining at once the full powers of a Magistrate, which Magisterial Judicial powers each will exercise within his own Sub-Division. When the contemplated amendment of Act XLII. of 1860 is passed, which will authorize the measure, these Judges will be appointed also Principal Sudder Ameens; and they will be vested also with Civil Judicial powers (as Deputy Collectors) under Act X. of 1860. This will constitute them, in effect, purely and simply the minor Civil and Criminal Judges of their Sub-Divisions. They will have no Police, Fiscal, or other Executive functions, which will remain in the hands of the Sub-Divisional Officer. To those who, like the Lieutenant-Governor, have seen, in the business daily passing before their eyes, the practical evil of the vicious confusion, in the head and hands of one man, of the functions and powers of a Prosecutor and Police Officer with those of a Judge, Civil or Criminal; and to those who have long deplored, as the opprobrium of our Indian administration, the enormous geographical extent of our local jurisdictions in minor cases; the present experiment cannot but be otherwise than very interesting and hopeful; and as being now put into actual operation, in the two populous and important Districts of Nudden and Jessore, cannot but be a matter of much congratulation.

14. When the amendment of the Law shall have permitted the completion of the plan, as above indicated, a material part of the expense of these new Courts will be met by reductions. In these two Districts, the Offices and Establishments of three Principal Sudder Ameens, of two Sudder Ameens, and probably of about a dozen Moonsiffs, now existing, can be abolished: and the services of some Extra Deputy Collectors, now busily engaged in trying cases under Act X. of 1859, (which are but a class of Civil suits), it is hoped may be dispensed with.

15. Each Small Cause Court Judge has been allowed, experimentally, an Establishment of 300 Rupees a month, subject to revision.

16. The Lieutenant-Governor trusts that some allowance may be made for the practical difficulties of the problem he has been called upon to solve; and that the measures reported above may not be disapproved by the Governor General in Council.

From W. GREY, Esq., Secretary to the Government of India, Home Department, to J. D. GORDON, Esq., Junior Secretary to the Government of Bengal,—(No. 1017, dated the 23rd May 1861)

SIR,—I AM directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 239, dated the 10th instant, and in reply to state that the Governor General in Council entirely approves of the proceedings of the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor in connection with the establishment of Court of Small Causes in the Districts of Nudden and Jessore, and in the Cities of Patna, Dacca, and Moorshedabad, and in the Suburbs of Calcutta. Setting aside the two Barrister Judges and the Judge for the Suburbs of Calcutta, His Excellency in Council remarks that the Lieutenant-Governor has appointed eight Judges on Rupees 700 per mensem, and four Judges on Rupees 1,000 per mensem. This proportion of the two grades, I am desired to state, should be maintained, the Judgeship in the Suburbs of Calcutta being admitted as an extra appointment on the higher grade.

2. I am desired to enquire if this new charge on Government has been porvided for in the Bengal Budget Estimate of Expenditure for 1861-62.

3. The Bill for amending Act XL. of 1860, referred to in your letter, (paragraph 13), was passed on the 18th instant. His Excellency in Council hopes that, if on trial, any further alterations of the Law are found necessary, the Lieutenant-Governor will submit his views for the consideration of the Government of India.

The Magistrate or Chief Commissioner of Police, to whom the application for a license of a Stage Carriage is made, may refuse to license the same, if he shall be of opinion that such Stage Carriage is unserviceable or is unsafe or unfit for public accommodation or use. If a Magistrate or Chief Commissioner of Police as aforesaid shall grant a license, the license shall set forth the number thereof, the name and residence of the proprietor of the Stage Carriage, the place at which his Head Office is held, the largest number of passengers and the greatest weight of luggage to be carried in or on such carriage, the number of horses by which such carriage is to be drawn, and the name of the place at which such carriage is licensed.

When a licensed Stage Carriage is transferred to a new proprietor within the year, the name of such new proprietor shall, on application to that effect, be substituted in the license for the name of the former proprietor, without any further payment for that year, and every person who appears by the license to be the proprietor, shall be deemed to be such proprietor for all the purposes of this Act.

Number of license &c. to be painted on conspicuous part of carriage.

V. On any Stage Carriage, being licensed, the proprietor thereof shall cause the number of the license and all the other particulars of the license to be distinctly painted in the English language and character upon a conspicuous part of such Stage Carriage.

Penalty for letting for hire unlicensed carriage.

VII. Whoever lets for hire any Stage Carriage without the same being licensed as provided by this Act, shall be liable on a first conviction to a fine not exceeding one hundred Rupees, and on any subsequent conviction to a fine which may extend to five hundred Rupees.

VIII. In every case where such Stage Carriage shall be proved to have been drawn by a less number of horses or to have carried a larger number of passengers or a greater weight of luggage than shall be provided by the license, the proprietor of such carriage shall be held to have knowingly permitted such offence unless he shall prove that the offence was not committed with his connivance and that he had taken every reasonable precaution and had made reasonable provision to prevent the commission of the offence.

XI. In any Station or place in which a Magistrate shall reside and be, any Police Officer may in any place within two miles of the office of such Magistrate, seize any Stage Carriage with the horse harnessed thereto, if the full particulars of the license of such Stage Carriage be not distinctly painted on such Stage Carriage in the manner provided in Section V of this Act. Such carriage with the horse harnessed thereto shall be taken without delay by such Police Officer before such Magistrate, who shall forthwith proceed to hear and determine the complaint of such Police Officer; and if thereupon any fine is imposed by such Magistrate and such fine is paid, such Stage Carriage and horse shall be immediately released; and if such fine be not paid, such Stage Carriage and horse may be detained for twenty days as security for the payment thereof; and if the fine be not sooner paid, they may be sold and the proceeds applied (so far as they extend) to the payment of the said fine, and all costs and charges incurred on account of the detention and sale; and the surplus (if any), when claimed, shall be paid to the proprietor of such Carriage and horse; and if such surplus be not claimed within a further period of two months from such sale, the same shall be forfeited to the State. If the proceeds of such sale do not fully pay the fine and costs and charges aforesaid, the balance may be recovered as hereinafter provided.

Provided that, if any such proprietor shall make out, to the satisfaction of the Magistrate before whom any complaint or information shall be heard, by sufficient evidence, that the offence was committed by such driver or owner without the privity or knowledge of such proprietor, and that no profit, advantage, or benefit, either directly or indirectly, has accrued or can accrue to such proprietor therefrom, and that he has used his endeavour to find out such driver or owner, and has done all that was in his power to recover the amount of the penalty from him, the Magistrate may discharge the proprietor from such penalty, and shall levy the same upon such driver or owner when found.

THE 6TH JULY 1861.

THE following Bill was read a second time in the Legislative Council of India on the 6th July 1861, and was referred to a Select Committee who are to report thereon after the 10th of October next :—

An Act to facilitate the adjustment of unsettled claims to exemption from the payment of Government Land Revenue in the Presidency of Bombay, exclusive of Sind, and to regulate the Succession to and Transfer of Lands wholly or partially exempt from the payment of such Revenue.

Preamble.

WHEREAS a large extent of land throughout the Bombay Presidency is enjoyed wholly or partially exempt from the payment of Land Revenue; and whereas the Government has hitherto asserted its right of refusal to recognize the adoption of a son by the holder of exempt land, or any transfer of such land by sale or otherwise, as creating a title against the State for the continuance of such exemption; and whereas it has now been deemed expedient to provide for the more speedy adjustment of such unsettled claims, and to forego such right of refusal in certain cases upon certain terms and conditions hereinafter described; Be it and it is hereby enacted as follows:—

Under what circumstances Governor in Council may guarantee the continuance in perpetuity of their lands to holders.

I. Clause 1. When the holders of lands, except as is excepted in Clause 2 of this Section, held either wholly or partially exempt from the payment of Government Land Revenue, whose title to exemption has not yet been formally adjudicated, are willing to submit to the terms and conditions hereinafter described, in preference to being obliged to prove their title to the exemption enjoyed by them, it shall be lawful to the Governor in Council to finally authorize and guarantee the continuance in perpetuity of the said land to the said holders, their heirs and assigns, upon the said terms, and subject to the said conditions.

Exceptions.

Clause 2. The excepted cases to which the authority of adjustment and guarantee vested in the Governor in Council by the provision shall not extend, are the cases of lands held as follows.—

1*st*. Lands held under Treaty.

2*nd*. Lands granted or held as Jagheers or Surinjams, or on similar political tenure, which shall be held for such time and in such manner as may be in accordance with the existing or future Rules laid down by Government for the regulation of such holdings.

3*rd*. Lands held for service, which shall be continued according to the laws for the time being in force relating to service tenures.

4*th*. Lands already formally adjudicated to be not continuable hereditarily, which shall be held upon the conditions, and in accordance with the terms laid down in such formal adjudication.

Effect of guarantee.

II. When the Governor in Council shall, under the 1st Clause of Section I of this Act, finally authorize and guarantee the continuance in perpetuity to the holders, their heirs and assigns, of lands wholly or partially exempt from the ordinary payment of annual Land Revenue, whose title to exemption has not already been formally adjudicated, and who have dispensed with an enquiry into such title, the said lands shall, subject to the enactments contained in Section III of this Act, be the heritable and transferable property of the said holders, their heirs and assigns, without restriction as to adoption, collateral succession, or transfer; and such lands shall thenceforth be continued in perpetuity, subject to the payment to Government of a fixed annual succession and transfer Nuzzerana, calculated at the rate of one anna for each Rupee of the assessment; and also to a quit-rent equal to one-fourth of the assessment, which assessment shall be ascertainable under the following Rules:—

Payment of quit-rent and annual Nuzzerana to Government; and rules for ascertaining assessment.

Rule 1. The assessment of lands, other than those specified in Rule 2, shall, with respect to lands which have already been assessed by the Revenue Survey now in progress, be the assessment already imposed upon those lands by that Revenue Survey; and with respect to lands which have not yet been assessed by that Revenue Survey, shall be the existing assessment, until the Revenue Survey now in progress has placed a new assessment on such last mentioned lands, and thenceforth the assessment so placed by the said Revenue Survey shall be understood to be the assessment; and it shall be lawful for the duly authorized Officers of Government employed in the said Revenue Survey to enter upon all lands not heretofore assessed by such Revenue Survey for the purpose of fixing and making an assessment thereof. Provided no arrangement can be otherwise arrived at by the Collector or the owner, to ascertain the fair rental of the village.

Rule 2. The assessment of lands of such an exceptional character as not to be assessable under the Revenue Survey Rules, shall be in the discretion of the Revenue Officers of Government, which discretion shall be guided, so far as may be, by the rate at which similar land in the same District, belonging to Government, is let, due regard being had by the said Revenue Officers to all equitable consideration affecting such lands. Shares of the revenues of villages (such as Umuls) shall be assessed for the purposes of this Act, at the value thereof, calculated at the average shown by such accounts of actual realizations by the holders as are forthcoming for the ten years immediately preceding the promulgation of these Rules.

Rule 3. Lands for which a Joodee, Salamee, or other annual quit-rent, under whatever denomination, is already paid to Government, instead of being liable to one-fourth of the assessment, shall, in addition to such Joodee, Salamee, or quit-rent aforesaid, be liable to be further annual quit-rent equal to one-fourth of the sum by which such Joodee, Salamee, or other quit-rent aforesaid may fall short of the assessment.

Rule 4. Quit-rent imposed under this Section (Section II), and the Rules thereunto annexed, shall be fixed in perpetuity, and shall not be liable to increase or decrease on any new assessment, save so far as is above in Rule 1 of this Section (Section II) provided to the contrary, in the case of lands which have not been already assessed by the Revenue Survey now in progress.

Rule 5. The whole of the lands found in the possession of each holder shall be continued according to the provisions of this Section (Section II), and the Rules thereunto annexed, and subject to the enactment contained in Section III.

Adjustment made with holder to be binding on rightful owner.

III. Any adjustment made by the Governor in Council with the holder of land held wholly or partially exempt from the payment of land Revenue under Section II of this Act, and the Rules annexed to the said Section shall, so far as the right of Government to levy the succession and transfer Nuzzerana and the annual quit-rent mentioned in the said Section is concerned, not only be binding upon such holder, his heirs and assigns, but also on the rightful owner, his heirs and assigns, whosoever such rightful owner may be.

Proviso.

Provided always that the said rightful owner, his heirs and assigns, shall not by this Act or any thing therein contained be deprived of any rights or remedies either at law or in equity to which he or they would be entitled against the said holder, his heirs and assigns, for the recovery of the said lands or any part thereof, if this Act had not been passed, and in the event of the rightful owner, his heirs and assigns, recovering the said lands or any part thereof from the said holder, his heirs and assigns, any declaration, guarantee, or adjustment made by the Governor in Council under or by virtue of Sections I and II of this Act, and the Rules annexed to the said Section II with respect to the said lands while the same were in the possession of the said holder, shall accrue to the benefit of the said rightful owner, his heirs and assigns.

Recognition of lands adjudicated to be continuable hereditarily in perpetuity.

IV. Lands held partially or wholly exempt from the payment of Land Revenue, and already formally adjudicated to be so continuable hereditarily in perpetuity, are to be henceforth recognized, so far as the rights of Government are concerned, as the heritable and also the transferable property, not only of the actual descendants of the person to whose descendants inheritance may have been limited by the terms of the said adjudication, but also of all his legal successors by inheritance, including heirs by collateral succession and heirs by adoption, and their assigns; and the right of Government or its Officers to question the title to possession, or to exemption from the payment of Land Revenue of any holder of the said land already so adjudicated to be heritable in perpetuity, on the ground that he does not belong to the family to which title is restricted by the adjudication, is hereby given up, and, in consideration of these concessions, all lands already so adjudicated to be heritable as aforesaid, are henceforth to be held subject to the payment, to Government, of an annual succession and transfer Nuzzerana, calculated at the rate of one anna for each Rupee of the assessment of the land, ascertainable as provided in the Rules of Section II of this Act, which Nuzzerana is to be in addition to the partial assessment, if any, ordered by the terms of the formal adjudication under which the land has already been declared to be continuable.

Payment of an occasional in lieu of an annual Nuzzerana.

V. Clause 1. When the amount of the annual succession and transfer Nuzzerana, payable for any holding under Section II or Section IV of this Act respectively, exceeds the sum of ten Rupees, it shall be at the option of the holder of the land on account of which the said Nuzzerana is declared payable, if he be not merely a mortgagee, to elect, within two calendar months after service of a notice explaining the purport and effect of the Rules contained in this Section (Section V), which service shall be made in the same manner as is hereinafter provided for the service of the notice described in Section XIII of this Act, that in lieu of the land being made subject to the payment of such annual Nuzzerana, an occasional Nuzzerana shall be payable on each change of possession thereof, or of any part thereof by inheritance or transfer, the amount of which Nuzzerana shall be—

(a.) On every succession by inheritance, a Nuzzerana equal to one year's assessment of the wholly or partially exempt lands, which are the subject of such succession.

(b.) On every transfer of lands wholly or partially exempt from the payment of Land Revenue, a Nuzzerana equal to two years' assessment of the land transferred.

The assessment shall be in each case ascertainable under the Rules annexed to Section II of this Act.

Penalty for default in giving notice to Collector of of land being liable to payment of an occasional Nuzzerana.

Clause 2. When, at the election of the holder, lands wholly or partially exempt from the payment of Land Revenue shall have been made liable to occasional Nuzzerana leviable under this Section (Section V) instead of to an annual Nuzzerana of one anna in each Rupee of the assessment, as provided by Sections II and IV of this Act, the occasional Nuzzerana shall be levied from each person obtaining possession of the land to which it is subject, whether by inheritance or transfer; and it shall be the duty of that person, within the period of one calendar month after obtaining possession as aforesaid, to give notice in writing thereof to the Collector or other Chief Revenue Officer of the Collectorate or District in which the said lands are situate; and in default of such notice, the person so obtaining possession shall forfeit, in addition to the Nuzzerana leviable on the occasion, a sum equal to the amount thereof.

Penalty for default in giving notice of transfer.

Clause 3. It shall also be the duty of the holder of any land made subject under this Section to the payment of occasional Nuzzerana, instead of the annual Nuzzerana of one anna in each Rupee of the assessment, who shall transfer the same or any part thereof, to give to the Collector or Chief Revenue Officer of the Collectorate or District in which the lands so transferred are situate, notice in writing of such transfer, and of the nature and extent thereof, and of the person or persons to whom the same is made, within one calendar month after such transfer has been made, and in default of such notice, the person or persons so transferring as aforesaid shall forfeit a sum equal to the amount of the Nuzzerana leviable on the occasion from the person to whom the transfer shall have been made.

Clause 4. The forfeitures provided by this Section shall be levied by attachment and distraint.

VI. Clause 1. When lands are held wholly or partially exempt from the payment of Land Revenue, upon the title to which exemption there has not been any formal adjudication, the holders asserting a right to such exemption shall be at liberty, on the conditions hereinafter described, to claim a trial of an adjudication upon their title, according to the laws (hereinafter specified in Section IX of this Act) relating to exemption from Land Revenue now respectively in force in the Territories constituting the Presidency of Bombay, so far, however, only as such laws are not altered, repealed, modified, or superseded by or inconsistent with this Act.

Holders of lands not formally adjudicated may claim adjudication under certain conditions.

Clause 2. In the event of the title to such exemption being upon such enquiry, demanded as last aforesaid, duly established, the lands shall not be heritable in any other manner or to any further extent than the same may, on such enquiry, as last aforesaid, be adjudged to be heritable; nor shall any adoption be recognized in any Civil Court or Court of Law or Equity, or by any Officer of Government, as creative of or continuing a title to claim from Government any exemption from assessment, or any other privilege on account of the said lands: and no succession or transfer Nuzzerana shall be received on account of Government from the holders of such lands; and whensoever the same lands or any part thereof, either by operation of law or by devolution, assignment, gift, sale, (whether such sale be judicial, public, or private,) devise, transfer, deed, or other instrument, or otherwise howsoever pass to any person not the heir by actual descent from the person to whose heirs the land shall be declared heritable, or in default of such declaration, from the person who may establish his title to exemption, as last aforesaid, then the said lands or such part thereof as may have so passed to any person other than the said actual descendants, shall forthwith become and be liable to payment of annual Land Revenue at the full assessment.

Nature of possession in the event of title being established.

Clause 3. In the event, upon such enquiry as aforesaid, of there being a failure by the holder to establish a title to exemption from payment of Land Revenue, the lands to which he has failed to establish such title, shall forthwith become and be liable to payment of annual Revenue at the full assessment.

Failure by holder to establish title.

VII. Clause 1. When the holders of lands held wholly or partially exempt from the payment of Land Revenue, demand a trial and adjudication of their title under the provisions of Section VI of this Act, they shall be required to deposit forthwith a sum equal to one-fourth part of the annual assessment of the land ascertainable according to Rules 1 and 2 of Section II of this Act, and thereafter to continue to pay a fourth of the said assessment, as it would become due from the date of such demand for trial, until the date of such adjudication, if the land were fully assessed to the Land Revenue, and to furnish satisfactory security for the payment of the remaining three-fourths thereof, in case of their failure to prove the title to exemption asserted by them, and in default of their making such deposits, and furnishing such satisfactory security, the full assessment of the land, which is to be the subject of inquiry, shall be levied, pending the adjudication.

Deposit pending adjudication.

Clause 2. If the enquiry result in the establishment of the asserted title, the holder, or in the event of his decease, his heir, who succeeds to possession of the said land, shall be entitled to a refund of all deposits made and assessment levied under the provisions of this Section, pending such enquiry as aforesaid, and to interest thereon at the rate of 5 per cent. per annum.

Refund of deposits and assessment on establishment of title.

Clause 3. If the result of the enquiry be that the holder fail to prove his title, the full amount of Land Revenue assessable on the lands, from the date of the holder's demand for trial, shall be levied from the said holder and his security, or either, any sums deposited or levied pending adjudication as aforesaid being taken in account of the same.

Consequence of failure to prove title.

VIII. Clause 1. Lands held wholly or partially exempt from the payment of Land Revenue on behalf of religious or charitable institutions, shall, if already formally adjudicated to be permanently so continuable, be so continued wholly or partially exempt from such payment of Land Revenue as aforesaid, according to the terms of the adjudication.

Lands held on behalf of religious or charitable institutions, if formally adjudicated.

Clause 2. Lands held on behalf of religious or charitable institutions, either wholly or partially exempt from the payment of Land Revenue, shall, if not already formally adjudicated to be permanently so continuable, be declared to be so wholly or partially exempt from such payment of Land Revenue as aforesaid, subject, however, to the payment of an annual quit-rent equal to one-fourth of the assessment which shall be ascertainable under the Rules annexed to Section II of this Act.

If not formally adjudicated.

Clause 3. It is however hereby declared that lands held on behalf of religious or charitable institutions, wholly or partially exempt from the payment of Land Revenue, shall not be transferable either by assignment, sale, (whether such sale be judicial, public, or private,) gift, devise, or otherwise howsoever, and no Nuzzerana shall be leviable on account of such lands.

Not transferable &c.

Clause 4. If the holders, managers, or trustees of such lands shall refuse to accept the terms provided by Clause 2 of this Section, and shall demand a trial and adjudication of the title by which the land is held wholly or partially exempt from Land Revenue, they shall be entitled to the same on the conditions described in Section VII, and subject to the liabilities provided in Section VI of this Act.

Holders &c. may demand trial and adjudication.

IX. The laws relating to exemption from Land Revenue, now in force in the Territories which were brought under the general Regulations of the Bombay Government, by Regulation XXVIII. of 1827 of the Bombay Code, are Chapters IX and X of Regulation XVII. 1827, as altered and amended by Regulation VI, 1833, and Regulation X, 1831. Those laws are, from and after the passing of this Act, to be carried into effect for the purposes of Section VI of this Act in the Territories last aforesaid, so far, however, only as those laws are not altered, repealed, modified, or superseded by, or inconsistent with this Act. The law relating to exemption from Land Revenue now in force in the Territories of the Deccan, Khandeish, and Southern Mahratta Country, and in all other Districts (including Sattara) more recently annexed to the Presidency of Bombay, is Act XI of 1852, passed by the Legislative Council of India. That Act is, from and after the passing of the present Act, to be carried into effect, for the purposes of Section VI of this Act, in the Territories of the Deccan, Khandeish, and Southern Mahratta Country, and in all other Districts (including Sattara) annexed to the Presidency of Bombay, since the passing of Regulation XXVIII, 1827, so far, however, only as that Act (XI of 1852) is not altered, repealed, modified, or superseded by, or inconsistent with this Act. Provided always, and it is hereby declared, that this Act shall not extend to Sind.

Prescriptive title.

X. Clause 1. It is hereby declared that prescriptive title to lands wholly or partially exempt from the payment of Land Revenue shall not hereafter depend upon the number of descents in any family during which such exemption may have been enjoyed, and that in the Districts in which Act XI of 1852 has the force of law, full prescriptive title shall be admitted on proof of a continuance for thirty years of uninterrupted and recognized possession, such as is required by that Act to constitute prescriptive title to such exemption.

Exception.

Clause 2. This rule shall not apply to lands alienated without the authority of Government since the British Government obtained possession of the country, nor to grants made without the authority of the Peshwah after A. D. 1803, in territory ceded by, or conquered from that authority, with respect to which, uninterrupted and recognized possession as aforesaid, for sixty years, of land wholly or partially exempt from the payment of Land Revenue shall henceforth be admitted as creative of full prescriptive title to the continuance of such exemption.

Officers appointed to carry out this Act may be invested with the authority of Enam Commissioners and Assistant Enam Commissioners.

XI. It shall be lawful for the Governor in Council to invest any Officers appointed by him to carry out the provisions of this Act in the Districts in which Act XI of 1852 has the force of law, with the authority conferred by that Act on Enam Commissioners and Assistant Enam Commissioners.

If holder demand enquiry, burden of proof to lie upon him.

XII. Whensoever any person or persons holding lands wholly or partially exempt from the payment of Land Revenue, upon the title to which exemption there has not been any formal adjudication, shall (whether such alleged title be founded on grant or prescription, or on any other ground whatsoever,) demand an enquiry under Section VI of this Act into such title, the burden of proof of such title shall, in every instance, lie and be cast exclusively upon the person or persons holding or claiming to hold such lands so wholly or partially exempt from the payment of Land Revenue as aforesaid, notwithstanding any existing usage, Law, Regulation, Act, or Statute in any wise to the contrary, and it shall not be lawful for any Civil Court or Court of Law or Equity to place the burden of proof upon Government or upon the Officer or Officers representing Government, of a right to levy the ordinary Land Revenue upon the lands the subject of any such inquiry as aforesaid, and it shall in every instance be presumed, until the contrary is distinctly proved, that Government has the right to levy such ordinary Land Revenue upon the lands the subject of any such enquiry as aforesaid. It is however hereby further provided that nothing in this Section contained shall disentitle Government, or its duly authorised Officers, to produce and give evidence in rebuttal or disproof of the alleged title to exemption aforesaid, if it seem to Government, or its duly authorized Officers desirable or necessary to produce and give such evidence.

Collector may, in certain cases, serve holder of land not adjudicated with notice requiring him to state whether he demands an enquiry.

XIII. Clause 1. It shall be lawful for the Collector of each Collectorate or District, or for any other Officer of Government duly authorized in that behalf, whensoever such Collector or such other Officers shall have reason to believe that lands are held wholly or partially exempt from payment of Land Revenue, and that there has not been any formal adjudication upon the title to such exemption, to serve or to cause to be served a notice in writing upon the holder of such lands, calling upon him to state whether or not he demands an inquiry under Section VI of this Act, into such alleged title to exemption as aforesaid, instead of accepting and abiding by the terms described in Section II of the same.

Description of notice.

Clause 2. The notice shall be in the prevailing language of the Collectorate or District in which the lands are situate, and shall explain the nature of the alternatives offered on the part of Government.

Notice to be served on holder if resident in the Collectorate.

Clause 3. It shall be served upon the person holding the lands wholly or partially exempt from Land Revenue as aforesaid, if he be resident within the limits of the Collectorate.

Service of notice if owner is not resident in the Collectorate.

Clause 4. If such person as last aforesaid be not resident within the Collectorate, the notice shall be served upon any person acting for him in respect of the lands.

Service of notice if more persons than one hold land jointly.

Clause 5. When more persons than one hold jointly lands wholly or partially exempt from Land Revenue, service of notice upon any one of them shall in every case be sufficient. Provided always that if any one of such holders shall, within the time specified in Clause 9 of this Section, demand an enquiry under Section VI of this Act, such enquiry shall be held, and the lands shall be dealt with according to the said Section VI.

Clause 6. If the holder be known to reside in another Collectorate of the Bombay Presidency, and if there be no person acting for him in the Collectorate in which the lands are situate, the notice shall be sent to the Collector of such other Collectorate, and served or caused to be served by him.

Mode of serving notice on holder if resident in another Collectorate.

Clause 7. If there be not any person acting for the holder, and if he cannot be found, the notice shall be served upon some one of the actual occupants of the land (if any,) and a copy of such notice shall be posted in the office of the Chief Native Revenue Officer of the District, and in the chowree, or most public place in the village, where the lands are situate.

If holder cannot be found &c.

Clause 8. In the event of any dispute arising as to the sufficiency of the service of any notice or notices under this Section, the matter so in dispute shall be enquired into by the Collector of the District or other Officer appointed for the purpose by the Governor in Council, and the decision of the Collector or such other Officer as aforesaid shall be final, and not open to appeal or question in any Civil Court of Court of Law or Equity or elsewhere.

Disputes as to insufficiency of service of notice.

Clause 9. If within two calendar months after the service of such notice in manner aforesaid, the person holding the lands wholly or partially exempt from Revenue as aforesaid, or his legally constituted agent, shall not give a reply to such notice, stating clearly, in such reply, that he demands an enquiry into the title to such exemption as aforesaid, he shall be deemed to have finally dispensed with such enquiry, and the lands, if held as aforesaid by an individual or individuals, shall be dealt with under Sections I and II of this Act, and the Rules annexed to the said Section II; and, if held on behalf of religious or charitable institutions, shall be dealt with under Clause 2 of Section VIII of this Act.

Consequences of no reply to the notice.

Clause 10. In the event of any dispute arising as to the sufficiency of any such reply as last aforesaid, or as to its meaning, or as to its having been given within the time required by this Act, the matter so in dispute shall be enquired into by the Collector or other Officer appointed for the purpose by the Governor in Council, and the decision of the Collector or such other Officer as aforesaid shall be final, and not open to appeal or question in any Civil Court or Court of Law or Equity, or elsewhere.

Dispute as to sufficiency of reply.

Clause 11. The reply to the notice shall not be open to withdrawal.

Reply not to be withdrawn.

Clause 12. Whenever a reply is given by any holder or his Agent, demanding an enquiry under Section VI or Clause 4 of Section VIII of this Act, the Collector or other Officer to whom such reply has been given shall demand payment of the deposit, and take the security required in such cases by Section VII of this Act, or in default of the same being furnished, shall take such steps as shall be necessary for levying the full assessment of the lands as required by the said Section, and shall refer the holder's claim to the Officer appointed by Government for the trial of such matters, who shall, with a reasonable regard to the public convenience and to the convenience of all persons interested or to be engaged in conducting such enquiry, fix a time at which it shall be proceeded with.

When reply demanding enquiry is given.

Clause 13. No book, account, record, or other document of or relating to the Revenue of any Government anterior to the British Government shall, upon any enquiry held under Section VI of this Act, be admitted in support of any claim to hold lands wholly or partially exempt from payment of Revenue, unless such book, account, record, or other document be produced by a public Officer authorized by the British Government to have the charge or custody of such book, account, record, or other document.

Books or accounts of Revenue to be produced from proper custody.

XIV. When it has been customary to levy annually any special or extra cess, fine, or tax, not of the character of ordinary Land Revenue, from the owners, occupants, or cultivators of land held or claimed to be held wholly or partially exempt from ordinary Land Revenue, it shall be lawful for the Governor in Council to authorize any Revenue Officer, or other suitable person, to impose on the owners of such land, in lieu of the special or extra cess, fine, or tax last aforesaid, such sum as may be deemed by the said Revenue Officer or other suitable person to be a fair equivalent as an annual assessment to be paid in respect of the said land in lieu of such special or extra cess, fine, or tax as aforesaid. Provided that this commuted assessment shall in no case exceed the ordinary assessment to which the land would have been subject if not held on tenure conferring exemption from the payment of ordinary Land Revenue, and shall include any Joodee, Saltanee, or other quit-rent to which such land may be liable. Provided also that when any special or extra cess, fine, or tax payable by the occupant, cultivator, or other person not being the owner, shall, under the operation of this Section, be remitted, it shall be lawful for the owner to recover, from such occupant, cultivator, or other person, so long as his said occupancy, cultivation, or other tenure of the land may endure, such special or extra cess, fine, or tax, but in no case shall any sum exceeding the commuted assessment imposed upon the land under this Section, be recoverable by the owner in respect of such special or extra cess, fine, or tax, from such occupant, cultivator, or other person not being the owner.

Commutation of special cess.

XV. When any land wholly or partially exempt from the ordinary annual Revenue is subject occasionally, or under particular circumstances, to the payment of assessment or cess or tax, however designated, as when the land is cultivated or irrigated, or cultivated with particular crops, or on other peculiar occasions, or under other particular circumstances whatever, it shall be lawful for the Governor in Council to authorise any Revenue Officer or other suitable person to commute the assessment, cess, or tax last aforesaid into an annual assessment. Provided that this commuted assessment shall, in no case, exceed the ordinary assessment to which the land would be subject, if not held on tenure, conferring exemption from assessment. Whenever, for the purposes of this Section, or of the preceding Section it is necessary that an assessment of the land should be made, it shall be lawful for the duly authorised Officers of Government to enter upon the same for the purpose of making such assessment.

Adjustments to be final.

XVI. When any adjustment of a claim or claims to total or partial exemption from Land Revenue has been made by the Governor in Council, or any duly authorized Officer of Government, under the 2nd, 5th, or 8th Sections of this Act, it shall not be competent for any Civil Court or Court of Law or Equity to question such adjustment, so far as the right of Government to levy from the holder or holders of the lands for the time being, the succession and tranfer Nuzzeranas and the annual quit-rents mentioned in the said 2nd, 5th, and 8th Sections, or any of them is concerned. Any appeal from or against the proceedings, orders, or acts of the Officers of Government engaged in making any such adjustment, shall be made to the Governor in Council, or to such Officer or Officers as may be appointed by the Governor in Council to take cognizance of such appeals, and shall not be cognizable by any other authority.

Protection of Officers.

XVII. Duly authorized Officers or servants of Government shall not be liable to be sued in any Civil Court, or Court of Law or Equity, for any act bonâ fide done or ordered to be done by them in pursuance of the provisions of this Act.

Manner of levying quit-rent &c.

XVIII. All quit-rent, succession duties, and transfer duties payable under this Act shall be levied in the manner in which ordinary Land Revenue is now recoverable; and the claim of Government to such quit-rents and succession and transfer Nuzzeranas, and to all forfeitures provided by this Act, shall have precedence over any other debt, demand, or claim whatsoever, whether in respect of mortgage, judgment, decree, execution, or attachment, or otherwise however, against the lands or the holder or holders thereof.

Right of entry to assess.

XIX. Whenever it shall be necessary to assess any lands in pursuance of any of the provisions of this Act, it shall be lawful for any duly authorized Officer of Government to enter upon the same at any time, and from time to time, for the purpose of making an assessment or assessments thereof.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT.

No. 6.

FROM H. SCOTT SMITH, ESQ.,
Secy. to the Record Committee,

TO C. H. LUSHINGTON, ESQ.,
Secy. to the Govt. of India,
Financial Department.

Calcutta, the 21st June 1861.

SIR,—I HAVE the honor, by direction of the Record Committee, to communicate, for the information of His Excellency the Governor-General in Council, the measures by which the Committee propose to give effect to the wishes of Government, relative to the destruction of useless public documents, and the utilization of those which are valuable.

Quantity of records to be examined.

2. The earliest records in Calcutta, it is believed, date from the year 1748. The work of the Committee is to extend for the present down to 1833; the records of eighty-five years must therefore be examined. It has not been possible as yet to ascertain exactly the quantity of documents included within the limits just specified; but the Committee consider that they are probably not less than 18,000 volumes and 8,000 bundles. In five of the principal Offices alone there is an aggregate of 12,793 volumes and 6,260 bundles.

Present value of these records.

3. In dealing with this vast mass of records, the primary considerations are, how the documents to be preserved may be best secured from injury and rendered most readily accessible for reference. The greater portion of the papers have long since past from the stage of practical Official usefulness into that of purely historic and statistical interest. Though they continue to occupy the record-rooms of the Offices in which they were prepared, the occasions on which they are referred to seem to be rare. Their real value consists in the fact that they contain a great deal of detailed information relative to the affairs of this country which can be had in no other repository.

4. It seems to be desirable, therefore, that these papers should be made available in Calcutta to all who may wish to consult them, and that such a published account of them should be provided as may enable enquirers to ascertain readily what documents are available.

General scheme for rendering old records available to public.

5. In order to effect these objects the Committee propose—

I. That a printed Index be prepared to all valuable documents

II. That such of the original documents as seem to be of any permanent interest in place of being scattered, as at present, over all Calcutta, should be preserved in a single Muniment Room.

III. That selections or precis should from time to time be made of papers of more prominent interest or value, in view to their publication.

IV. That duplicates of valuable papers (when such exist) should be presented to any Public Institution or Society which may desire to preserve them, and may be concerned in investigations which they illustrate.

General description of Index.

6. It is proposed that the Index should consist of three parts—

(1st.) A general Calendar of the principal contents of all valuable papers in all Public Offices in Calcutta, arranged indiscriminately in the order of chronological sequence.

(2nd.) An Index to the Calendar arranged alphabetically according to the leading words or special subjects of the papers.

(3rd.) A Key to the Index.

The Calendar.

7. The Calendar will be compiled generally on the plan sanctioned by the Master of the Rolls in dealing with the English State papers, viz:—

A brief summary of the contents of each paper will be given, sufficient to enable the enquirer to satisfy himself as to the subject to which it refers. On the right margin, a reference will indicate the place of deposit of the original document, giving the number and page of the manuscript Volume containing it, and the Department of the State to which it belongs, also the date (year, month, and day.) On the left margin, the leading words by which the document may be traced in the Index will be entered. The entries in each separate page of the Calendar will also be numbered consecutively in Roman figures. This latter arrangement will much facilitate the consultation of the Calendar, as the enquirer, when he has ascertained from the Index the page which contains any paper relative to a special subject, in which he is interested, will be able, by means of the Roman figure, readily to note the exact paragraph of which he is in search. As for example two paragraphs of the Calendar would stand thus—

Prices.—V. Letter from the Commissaries. Delivers on account sale of bullocks.	1752, October 6th, Home.
Adams.—VI. Letter from Major Adams. Explains his sentiments on the Regulation Sepoys.—of the Sepoys.	October 6th, Military.

The volumes of the Calendar will, for convenience, be subdivided into Books, according to the periods included between the Acts renewing the Charters: into parts, according to the administrations of Governors-General; into Sections, according to years; and into Sub-Sections, according to months.

Index to Calendar.

8. An Alphabetical Index will be appended to each volume of the Calendar, and will contain, in alphabetical order, all the leading words that have been entered on the left margin of the pages; after each word will be given the number of every page in which the subject referred to has been calendared, and the Roman figure which indicates its position. These Indexes for each volume will ultimately be consolidated into a General Index.

Object of Key to the Index.

9. The Index will enable an enquirer knowing exactly what information he wants, to refer to any particular papers likely to furnish that information, but it makes no provision for the case of one who is anxious to enquire into some general subject, such as finance; but is unacquainted with the particular headings under which that subject should be traced through the Indexes. In order to meet this difficulty, a Key to the Indexes will be formed.

10. In the Key a more comprehensive arrangement will be attempted. Four general Divisions may probably be allowed in the first instance to include all subordinate subjects; that is to say—

Description of the Key.

Domestic Affairs.
Foreign Relations.
Proceedings in England.
Trade.

"Domestic Affairs" will include all matters connected with the British Territories in India, whether referring to their internal management and condition, or to the correspondence touching them, carried on with the Court of Directors and Government in England.

"Foreign Relations" will include all matters connected with Foreign Governments and Native States not under the direct authority of the British Government.

"Proceedings in England" will include Parliamentary discussions, renewals of Charters, English Loans, &c.

"Trade" will include private Trade with India, and the commercial transactions of the Company.

11. These general heads will be further divided and sub-divided as may be found necessary and will include under some natural Sub-Divisions all the subjects or special headings entered in the Index. As for example, the first general Division above specified would again be divided into Finance, Defence, Judicial, &c., &c. The first of these Sub-Divisions will be again divided into Opium, Salt, Abkarry, &c., &c. Opium will further be sub-divided into Patna, Malwa, &c.

12. As the Key to the Index is intended as a guide to all the detailed headings under which matter is to be found illustrative of any general branch of enquiry, and as these headings will be entered alphabetically in the General Index, it will not be necessary to give in the Key any reference to the volumes or pages of the Calendar. The Key will not refer to any single volume, but will answer equally for all; and cannot be constructed until several shall have been prepared. A final Key, applicable to all the Books, will be constructed when the whole work has been completed.

13. The importance of the second proposal referred to above, viz., that a Central Muniment Room should be established, in which to preserve all records which have ceased to be of importance in the transaction of the current business of the different Offices, and in which provision might be made for the consultation of such documents by students and enquirers generally, is of course self-evident. It would be inconvenient and undesirable to admit all persons indiscriminately into the Record Rooms, where the papers are at present deposited; while, on the other hand, it would be embarrassing to the enquirer to prosecute his researches through an extensive and scattered series of Offices, not less than twenty-five or thirty in number. The Committee do not however think it necessary to do more than draw attention to this subject of a Central Muniment Room, as they understand that the Committee recently appointed to enquire into the accommodation requisite for Public Offices in Calcutta will submit to Government the details of a scheme for carrying this project into effect.

Object in establishing a Central Muniment Room.

14. The third proposal noted above, viz., the publication from time to time of a series of valuable papers selected from the earlier records, speaks for itself. The series would commence from the earliest period; it would be continued chronologically, and include only such documents as are of general importance.

Publication of valuable papers.

15. The Committee are prepared to undertake the compilation of Calendars, Indexes, and a Key as above described, and also to make selections for and superintend the publication of a series of the more interesting papers from the Public Records.

Work to be performed by the Committee.

16. In order to accomplish the former duty on the plan indicated above, and in order especially to the preparation of a Chronological Calendar, the records of all Offices must evidently be examined simultaneously, according to epochs rather than consecutively, according to Offices or Departments. It will therefore be necessary that the records for given periods from all Offices should be removed together to the Office of the Committee. The examination must be conducted by the Commissioners in person, and as they have other important avocations to attend to, the difficulty and labor of the work would be greatly increased, if they were to attempt to prepare a general Chronological List of all the older records without bringing all those records for definite periods to one place of deposit and consultation. Indeed, if His Excellency in Council should approve of the establishment of a Central Muniment Room, it can make little difference to the Heads of Offices, whether the older documents are removed now to the Office of the Committee or to the Muniment Room when it is fit to receive them. The Committee propose therefore to deal with the records as above suggested, in correspondence of course with the Heads of Offices. They will be careful to arrange so as not to interfere with the conduct of the public business, and they will be responsible for the safe custody of all documents made over to their Secretary.

Records to be removed to the Office of the Committee.

17. The fourth and last proposal noticed above, is that duplicates of important documents should be made over to any Public Institution or Society, which may be interested in their preservation, as for instance to the Library of the University, of the Cathedral of the Asiatic Society, of the Chamber of Commerce, the Public Library of Calcutta, &c., &c. There are some cases in which it may be necessary to retain duplicates as well as originals in the Central Muniment Room, as for instance in the case of papers so remarkable as to justify the recommendation that they should be separately framed and displayed as is done in the British Museum and Imperial Library in Paris, &c., in rare cases; also when the original autograph drafts of important papers are not easily legible, or are in such a state of decay as to require very careful handling. But in general there can be no reason why the shelves should be encumbered with copies of papers, the originals of which can conveniently be consulted, while there would an advantage in securing the preservation of these duplicates elsewhere, in case of any untoward accident to the State Paper Office.]

General nature of the documents.

18. I am now to explain generally the manner in which it is proposed the records shall be treated when they have been removed to the Office of the Committee as above suggested. The documents in question consist chiefly of bundles of original papers; of copies of the same bound up in volumes; and of Indexes to the latter also bound.

Treatment of documents worthy of preservation.

19. Where documents are thought worthy of preservation, the Committee propose to preserve both the originals and the copies. The former they will open out of the bundles, bind up in volumes, and retain in the Muniment Room arranged chronologically as at present. The latter they would desire to re-distribute according to subjects, re-bind and make over, as already suggested, to various public bodies in Calcutta interested in the subjects on which they treat. Copies of documents bearing on the trade of the Country might be given to the Chamber of Commerce; those treating on agricultural subjects to the Horticultural Society; ecclesiastical papers to the Cathedral Library; educational to the Calcutta University; legal to the Bar Library, &c., &c. The originals of valuable documents, the Committee presume, must, pending the establishment of a Muniment Room, be returned for record to the Office to which they belong, unless Government can assign any large spare room in which they may be at once arranged and securely deposited.

Treatment of worthless documents.

20. Documents which the Committee consider to be worthless will be returned with detailed lists to the Head of the Office to which they belong, and he will be requested to cause them to be destroyed and to let the Committee know when this has been done, in order that they may forward general Statements on the subject to Government from time to time. The Committee propose, at the same time, to request the Head of each Office, in the event of his objecting to the destruction of any document included in their lists, to refer them back to the Committee with their reasons for desiring their preservation, or to state these at the next Meeting of the Committee.

How the services of Heads of Offices are to be made available.

21. The Head of each Office has been nominated by Government an Ex-officio Member of the Committee, while the records of his own Office are being examined. It would be useless to ask these Officers to take part in all the proceedings or attend at all the Meetings of the Committee. But in order to give effect to the design of Government, the Committee propose that lists of papers, considered worthless, as already explained, shall be sent from time to time to the Head of each Office, and that he be invited likewise to attend at any Meetings at which business relative to the records of his Office is to be transacted.

Suggestion for checking future accumulation of Records.

22. The Committee have been asked to dispose only of records antecedent to 1833. It may therefore be somewhat beyond their province to refer to records of a later date. They would however beg respectfully to suggest, for the consideration of His Excellency in Council, the expediency of checking the future accumulation of worthless documents as much and as thoroughly as possible. Every document, whether valuable or valueless, appears at present to be preserved in duplicate, although a very great portion of them might certainly be destroyed periodically with much advantage, as for instance—

I. Mere reminders or takeeds.

II. Certificates of giving and making over charge, quitting and returning to Station, &c.

III. Ordinary applications for supplies when complied with.

IV. Periodical and other returns, whose contents have been either tabulated with other returns or put into type.

V. Ordinary transmitting letters of all kinds, forwarding Circulars and other such communications which may have been printed, or whose interest or value is purely ephemeral.

Financial Department.

Gentlemen,—I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of your Secretary's letter No. 6, dated the 21st instant, communicating the measures by which you propose to give effect to the wishes of Government, relative to the destruction of useless public documents, and the utilization of those which are valuable.

2. In reply I am desired to inform you, that the Governor-General in Council approves of your preparing and printing an Index of all the valuable records in the manner proposed by you in paragraphs 6 to 12 of your Secretary's letter.

3. In regard to the proposal contained in paragraph 14, His Excellency in Council considers that the publication of valuable papers should not be attempted at this early stage of your proceedings. It will be better, in the first instance, to prepare a list of these papers and to submit it to Government, in order that Government may be able to decide what those papers are that are worth publishing, and how they can be published in a systematic manner.

4. It will not, however, His Excellency in Council thinks, be necessary for you to enter upon this work at present, as your time will be better employed for some time to come in the preliminary work of classifying and weeding the records.

5. In reference to paragraph 17, I am desired to intimate that His Excellency in Council is not prepared to sanction your proposal for the distribution of duplicates of valuable records to the various Libraries in Calcutta. Any convenience to the public which might result from this measure will be quite insignificant when once the Public shall have access to a Muniment Room (regarding the opening of which you say a Report is about to be submitted to Government by the Committee for enquiring into the accommodation for Public Offices), and shall be able to consult every document contained in it.

6. The British Museum, His Excellency in Council observes, has found strong reason to regret the sale and exchange of its duplicates of even printed books, and duplicates of manuscripts are much more likely to prove useful than printed duplicates, whether for collation or to supply losses or wear and tear, or to enable Departments of Government to keep copies in hand.

7. With advertence to the measures proposed in the 20th paragraph of your Secretary's letter, I am desired by His Excellency in Council to intimate, that it was never intended that the Committee should decide as to what records should be kept or destroyed. His Excellency in Council expects, therefore, that the request which you propose to make to the Heads of Offices for the destruction of documents which you consider to be worthless will be made in the nature of a suggestion, to be acted upon or not as the Head of the Department, or the Government if there be doubt, may determine.

8. I am to add that the date (1833), which has been named in marking the time up to which your enquiries should extend, shall be observed in regard to the records of all the Offices except those of the Foreign and Military Departments. Your enquiries touching the records of these two Departments will not extend to a later period than 1813.

9. A copy of your Secretary's letter will be sent to the Committee for enquiring into the accommodation for Public Offices, in order that they may consider the wants of your Committee, both as regards temporary accommodation for the work you have in hand, and for a permanent Muniment Office.

MILITARY DEPARTMENT.

Fort William, the 6th July 1861.

No. 597 of 1861.—The under-mentioned Officer is permitted to proceed to Europe, on leave of absence, on Sick Certificate:—

Major Percival Robert Innes, of the Invalid Establishment ... } For eighteen months, under the new Regulations.

Fort William, the 9th July 1861.

No. 598 of 1861.—Inquiries having been received from various quarters respecting the intended operation of some of the provisions of the General Order No. 332, dated the 10th of April last, His Excellency the Governor General of India in Council is pleased to publish, for general information, the subjoined Questions having a general application, with the Answers given to them by Government. Further Questions, with their Answers, will be published in subsequent Gazettes:—

Question 1.—If a Soldier (of either limited or unlimited service) elects to remain in the Indian Service, will he, at the expiration of his present term of contract, be permitted to re-enlist for Indian Service?

Paragraphs 16 and 17.

Answer 1.—No. Henceforward no enlistment or re-enlistment for the Indian Service will be legal. But Soldiers who have elected for the Indian Service, and are men of good character, will be allowed, by the Commander-in-Chief, to volunteer for General Service at the expiration of their present term of contract, and to re-enlist into the Royal Artillery and Regiments of the Line serving in India.

Question 2.—Will the Non-Commissioned Officers of the Public Works Department, and of the Corps of Sappers, be eligible, as heretofore, for the grade of Warrant Officer?

Paragraph 19.

Answer 2.—Yes. The openings which have hitherto existed for them will still continue.

Question 3.—Will Staff Non-Commissioned Officers of Garrisons, Native Infantry Regiments, &c., who elect for General Service, be permitted to retain their present appointments?

Paragraph 19.

Answer 3.—The order makes no change. These men, however, are under the orders of the Commander-in-Chief.

Question 4.—Does an Officer, who avails himself of the privilege of remaining on Staff employ without joining the Staff Corps, draw his Regimental Pay and Allowances when on leave, or, in other words, does he retain his present footing?

Paragraphs 23, 72.

Answer 4.—Yes. The 23rd paragraph lays down that "the pledge that due regard shall be "paid to the rights and claims of the Officers "of Her Majesty's Indian Forces shall be scru-"pulously adhered to." The conditions of service of Officers electing for Indian Service will therefore in no way be altered.

Question 5.—Officers being allowed until the 1st October next to decide on their acceptance of £50 bonus, sanctioned by General Order by the Governor General, 8th March 1861, No. 79, it is presumed that they are allowed up to the same date to give in their election of either General or Local Service, or the Staff Corps? An authoritative decision on this point is much required.

Paragraph 50.

Answer 5.—Yes; but they are further allowed, till the 21st of October inclusive, to elect for General or Local Service, or for the Staff Corps.

Question 6.—An Officer is permanent Second in Command, and Acting Commandant of an Irregular Corps. Will it be necessary for him to join the Staff Corps before he can become permanent Commandant?

Paragraph 50.

Answer 6.—No. It rests with the Commander-in-Chief or with the Government. Officers not joining the Staff Corps "will continue to be "available, as heretofore, for their present duty, "or for any other duty to which they may be "appointed by Government."

Question 7.—If an Ensign signifies his wish to volunteer for General Service, and after he has done so, but before he is nominated to a British Regiment, a vacancy occurs among the Lieutenants in one of the present Regiments of Native Infantry, would he, by having volunteered, forfeit his claim to the vacant Lieutenancy, supposing him to be the Senior applicant?

Paragraph 50.

Answer 7.—An Ensign will not be debarred the benefits of intermediate Regimental promotion under existing regulations, occurring up to the date of his transfer to one of the new Line Regiments.

Question 8.—If an Officer volunteers for General Service, does he thereby cease to derive any benefit from casualties occurring in his present Regiment, subsequent to his volunteering, but before he is provided for in a British Regiment?

Paragraphs 50, 58.

Answer 8.—No; volunteering beyond the requirements of the new Line Regiment will not make any difference in the position of Officers.

Question 9.—An Officer having volunteered for General Service in the Line, will he, in the event of his service not being required in any Regiment of the Line, be then in the same position as before he volunteered; or does he, by merely volunteering, surrender his former position in the Indian Army, and render himself amenable to the Staff Corps Rules?

Paragraph 50.

Answer 9.—He remains in his former position unaltered. He has nothing to do with the Staff Corps.

Question 10.—How does the Amalgamation Order affect Officers belonging to the European Veterans? This question is asked more especially with reference to those employed in Staff situations, such as Ordnance Appointments, Riding Masters, &c., and who have not been transferred to the Veterans, in consequence of their disqualification for active service, but who, as effective men, have been granted Commissions in the Veterans, and draw Infantry rates of pay. If they are to be allowed to volunteer for General Service, and do so, what duties will they be liable to perform?

Paragraph 50.

Answer 10.—Officers of any description on the Veteran Establishment are not expected to volunteer, and there is no employment known to be accessible to them if they were to volunteer.

There will be no alteration in their present position.

Question 11.—Are the substantive Lieutenant-Colonels of the three Local Corps to be invited to join their representative Line Regiments? There are now two to each Local Corps. The Establishment of the new Line Corps has only one Lieutenant-Colonel.

Paragraphs 52, 53.

Answer.—11. Lieutenant-Colonels may volunteer, with the chance of being employed in the new Line Regiments or not. But there will be only one Lieutenant-Colonel in each new Line Corps.

Question 12.—In the event of the Senior Captain of a Local European Corps, say 2nd European Light Infantry, not volunteering for Line Service, and the Second Captain availing himself of the invitation to join the 105th, will the latter be posted to the 105th as Senior Captain?

Paragraphs 52, 53.

Answer 12.—This depends on the number and rank of all the Officers who may volunteer.

Question 13.—Will Officers volunteering for General Service be put into the new Corps of the Line according to dates of present Regimental Commissions, or will Brevets count for rank in those Corps?

Paragraphs 52, 53, 55.

Answer 13.—They will be placed in the new Corps of the Line according to dates of present Regimental Commissions, but Brevet Rank will not be taken into account.

Question 14.—If their services are not required by Government for new Line Corps, are Officers, volunteers for General Service, liable to be posted to any other Corps, and if so, will they enter as Juniors of their rank?

Answer 14.—Such Officers will not be liable to be posted to any other Corps.

Question 15.—A Colonel and Lieutenant-Colonel Commands a Regiment of Madras European Infantry. He enquires whether, if he elect for General Service, he will forego all future claim to Off-reckonings and Colonel's allowance?

Paragraph 52.

Answer 15.—His election for General Service, should he be accepted, will disconnect him from the Indian Service, and he will forego all claim to Colonel's allowance in the Indian Line.

Question 16.—Will the Officers who join the new Line Corps enjoy, while in India, the same pay and allowances in every respect as those who elect to continue on their present conditions?

Paragraph 52.

Answer 16.—They will receive the rates of pay and allowances now enjoyed by Officers of British Regiments in India.

Question 17.—In the event of either of the new Line Regiments being ordered Home, are any of the Officers who have accepted the invitation to join it liable to be placed on half-pay, consequent on the Regiment being reduced to the strength of the Home Establishment?

Paragraph 55.

Answer 17.—They will be subject to the conditions of Her Majesty's Line Service. The strength of Infantry Regiments on the Home Establishment is at present the same as that of the new Line Regiments in India; in the Cavalry Service the Home Establishment is less by one Troop than the strength of a Regiment in India.

Question 18.—How and when is a Major of one of the new Line Regiments to obtain promotion to Regimental Lieutenant-Colonel, and from that to Regimental Colonel?

Paragraph 56.

Answer 18.—"In the promotion to the Field "Officers, the fitness and efficiency of Officers will "be taken into account." As regards Regimental Colonels, no instructions have been received by Government.

Question 19.—These paragraphs, taken in connection with each other, seem to imply that the admission of those Officers now on Staff employ into the Staff Corps is not a matter of election by themselves, but dependent on their selection by Government. Is it so?

Paragraphs 67, 68, 69, 72, 73, and 75.

Answer 19.—Officers now on the Staff are allowed to apply for admission, but admission will be given to those Officers only who may be considered by the Governments under which they are serving to be in all respects fit for the Staff Corps.

Question 20.—Are the Officers Commanding the European Infantry and Native Infantry Depôts, and the Depôts at Landour, Wellington, Aboo, Khandalla, &c., and the Adjutants and Quarter-Masters of the same, to be considered to have been on Staff duty while so employed?

Paragraphs 68, 69.

Answer 20.—Depôt Staff Officers are not on permanent Staff employ, and therefore are not entitled, as such, to enter the Staff Corps. But in the event of their subsequently obtaining admission into the Staff Corps they will be entitled to count as Staff Service the time passed as Depôt Staff Officers.

Question 21.—Can an Officer now on Staff employ, and who formerly served as Adjutant to a Regiment no longer existing, count as service, under paragraph 69, in the Staff Corps, the period which he passed in that appointment?

Paragraph 69.

Answer 21.—Yes.

Question 22.—Are Officers holding the appointments of Line Adjutant or Station Staff Officer, as also Cantonment Magistrates in charge of Bazars, who, under present rules, vacate their appointments on the removal of their Regiments from the Station where they are serving, eligible for the Staff Corps?

Paragraph 69.

Answer 22.—Appointments held during the period a Regiment may remain at a Station, can only be considered temporary employment. But in Bengal, Cantonment Joint Magistrates are permanent Staff Officers, and are not necessarily selected from Corps at the Station.

Question 23.—It is concluded that such appointments as Assistant Adjutant-General, Brigade Major, Brigade Quarter-Master, &c., to a Brigade or Division in the Field, do not go towards the periods of Staff employ, qualifying for promotion under the Staff Warrant.

Paragraphs 69, 87.

Answer 23.—Such appointments do not o themselves qualify for admission into the Staff Corps. But if Officers holding such appointments should eventually obtain admission into the Staff Corps, they will be entitled to count as Staff Service the time passed in such appointments.

Question 24.—In what rank would an Artillery Officer of thirty-one years' service, a Captain on the 18th February, but promoted from that date by the Amalgamation Order to Lieutenant-Colonel, but who may wish to join the Staff Corps within six months, be transferred to that Corps?

Paragraphs 69, 73, 75.

Answer 24.—If he be on the Staff, and be approved by Government, he will go in as Lieutenant-Colonel, but he will rank in the Staff Corps with other Lieutenant-Colonels according to their previous relative rank.

Question 25.—Will the service of an Officer doing duty with the Arracan Battalion count for promotion in the Staff Corps, service of that nature with the Arracan Battalion having always been looked upon as a permanent appointment?

Paragraph 69.

Answer 25.—In paragraph 69 it is provided that "Officers doing duty with Irregular and "Local Regiments will not be regarded as being "now on Staff employ." But Officers doing duty and receiving pay as such, and being permanently appointed, will be considered as on Staff employ.

Question 26.—Will an Officer who has held an acting appointment on a full vacancy, for example that of Acting Adjutant or Acting Quarter-Master of his own or any other Corps, be considered to have performed service qualifying for promotion under the Staff Warrant, for such period as he may have been so employed?

Paragraphs 69, 84, and 87.

Answer 26.—No; such an Officer can only be deemed temporarily employed, unless he be eventually appointed to the vacant situation. In that case the period of his acting in the full vacancy will reckon as service qualifying for promotion.

Question 27.—Is an Officer who has been doing duty with the Sappers and Miners to be considered to have been on Staff employ while so doing duty?

Paragraphs 69, 84, and 87.

Answer 27.—These Officers are permanently appointed, in the same manner as Officers permanently doing duty with Irregular Corps; and service passed with the Sappers and Miners will count as Staff Service.

Question 28.—Can an Officer, under paragraph 72, avail himself of Furlough without losing his appointment?

Paragraph 72.

Answer 28.—Yes, under the limitations of the new Furlough Regulations. His privileges are unaffected by any portion of this Order.

Question 29.—An Officer, Senior Lieutenant in his Cadre, holds the Adjutancy of an Irregular Corps, and elects to remain as he is, without joining the Staff Corps. On his becoming Captain, will he lose his Adjutancy?

Paragraph 72.

Answer 29.—He will lose his Adjutancy.

Question 30.—Whether Officers, now on the Staff, volunteering and being selected for the new Line Regiments, will be allowed to retain their Staff appointments under Rule 74?

Paragraph 74.

Answer 30.—Yes, if the Commander-in-Chief can spare them.

Question 31.—Can a Staff Officer, more than one year on the Staff, get on the Staff Corps, if promoted to Major before its formation; and if so, will he join as Lieutenant-Colonel, having been twenty-six years in the Service, with thirteen years on the Staff?

Paragraphs 74, 84, 85, and 90.

Answer 31.—He may join the Staff Corps any time before the 21st October next, but he must enter the Staff Corps in the Regimental Rank held by him on the 18th of February 1861.

Question 32.—Does paragraph 75 apply to British Officers only? It is supposed to be applicable to both British and Local Officers.

Paragraph 75.

Answer 32.—To both Services.

Question 33.—Are the appointments of Inspectors of Musketry liable to the provisions of paragraph 76 in the same way as Army Staff or Brigade Majors, limiting their service in Department to five years?

Paragraph 76.

Answer 33.—No. The offices the tenure of which is limited are expressly named in the margin of paragraph 76.

Question 34.—Do the five years count from date of permanent appointment to a Department?

Paragraph 76.

Answer 34.—From the date of permanent appointment.

Foreign Department.

Trade and Customs Returns of Pegu.

From LIEUTENANT-COLONEL A. P. PHAYRE, Commissioner of Pegu and Agent to the Governor General, to E. C. BAYLEY, ESQ., Officiating Secretary to the Government of India, Foreign Department,—(dated Rangoon, the 17th June 1861.)

SIR,—I HAVE the honor to submit, to be laid before His Excellency the Governor General in Council, the Statements noted in the margin, relative to the Import and Export Trade by Sea and Land of the Province of Pegu, for the year 1860-61.

X. Statement of Articles of Import and Export of the Province of Pegu for 1860-61.
Y. Statement of the value of Articles of Import and Export from each Custom House for 1860-61.
Z. Exports of Rice from each Custom House for 1860-61.

The Statement marked X. exhibits the principal articles of Import and Export, and their value for the year under review; the following is the total value for the past and the previous year:—

1859-60	...	Rupees 2,87,98,658
1860-61	...	„ 3,05,63,316

being an increase of Rupees 17,64,658 or £176,000. In both years the value of Imports of every kind on account of Government is included. They were as follows:—

1859-60	...	Rupees 18,88,951
1860-61	...	„ 12,11,687

The value of the Export Trade by Sea for the two years was as follows:—

1859-60	...	Rupees 75,50,055

being an increase of about £90,000 in the latter year.

If we compare the several articles exported in the two past years, we shall find an increase of nearly twelve lacs of Rupees in the value of Rice and Paddy Exports. The export of Rice by Sea has not been so great as might have been anticipated from the large yield of the crop. The reason appears to have been principally a scarcity of Ships until late in the season. During April and May the Export has been very active. A considerable increase has also occurred in the export of Raw* Cotton. The Cotton exported comes for the most part from beyond the British Frontier. It latterly has been sent to Calcutta, and some goes to the Straits and to the Eastern Ports of Bengal. There is also an increase in Lead exported†. This article likewise is brought from the Burmese Territory. There has been a slight increase in the export of Petroleum. It is a substance which probably will become a staple Export of much value to the Port.

* 1859-60 ... Rupees 41,569.
1860-61 ... „ 132,830.

† 1859-60 ... Rupees 54,547.
1860-61 ... „ 119,520.

The staple articles of Export by Sea, in which there has been a decrease, are Timber, Cutch, Hides and Horns, Copper, and Tobacco. Timber, it is hoped, will shew a better out-turn when the Forest arrangements are completed. These are having my earnest attention. Timber from the Burmese Territory also has not arrived in the usual quantity. That resulted, it is believed, from temporary disputes in some of the Forests near the British border. For Cutch to export, the Province is principally dependent on the Burmese Territory. A portion is however manufactured in the Province of Pegu. Hides and Horns there is a continued demand for, and the decrease in Export is not satisfactorily explained. Copper also comes from the Burmese Territory. For Tobacco for their own consumption the people of the country depend principally on what they import from Bengal, and the more that Rice cultivation increases the less Tobacco will probably be grown and exported elsewhere. The amount value of Imports by Sea for the last two years is as follows:—

shewing an increase of over 7½ lacs or £75,000. The increase in the value of British Piece Goods and Cotton Twist imported is Rupees 9,70,179, or nearly £100,000. On some articles there is a decrease. The principal diminution results from what evinces rather a favorable state of affairs than otherwise; that is a diminution by three lacs of Rupees in the import of Treasure on the part of Government; otherwise there is an increase on nearly every article of Import by Sea.

The next part of Statement X. refers to articles exported by land and by the Rivers Irrawaddy and Sittang, beyond the Frontier, into the Burmese and Shan Territory. The value of Piece Goods and Twist so exported in the last two years is as follows:—

shewing an increase of nearly £70,000 in value. But there is a considerable reduction in the value of Rice and Paddy exported beyond the border. In 1859-60 nearly 40,000 Tons, valued at 22 lacs or £220,000, were exported. But in 1860-61, 53,000 Tons, valued at 12½ lacs or £125,000, were exported. The reason of the decrease in value is that Rice was cheaper during the year 1860-61 than in the previous year. But this is not the sole cause for the diminution in the money value of the grain exported. That is partly due to the greater proportion of Paddy exported in the latter year. It must also be noted that every year the quantity of Rice and Paddy carted across the Frontier, at various points, increases. The grain so exported does not appear in the Returns, as there is no means of ascertaining the quantity, except at the risk of causing much inconvenience and loss of time to the Exporters, and interfering seriously with the Trade.

The other Exports beyond the British Frontier are some of those essential articles of diet for which the Burmese are mainly dependent on Pegu, namely Salt, Beetle-nut, Ngapee, (or Fish Paste), dried Fish, &c., &c. The value of these articles exported during the two years is shewn in the margin, these being an increase in the latter year of nearly £15,000. The next division of Statement X. is that of articles imported by Land and River from beyond the Frontier. The general out-turn of value shews an increase on the year as follows:—

1860-61... „ 18,02,161

1859-60	...	Rupees 32,28,071
1860-61	...	„ 34,30,473

exhibiting an increase of a little more than £20,000. There is no item in these Imports which appears to call for particular remark.

The next Statement of the series is that marked Y. The object of this Statement is to shew the total value of Exports and Imports at each Custom House, and the amount of duty realized. The general results of the amount of duty for each Custom House for the two past years is as follows:—

	1859-60, Rupees.	1860-61, Rupees.
Rangoon ...	4,18,352	5,88,565
Bassein ...	29,567	68,776
Meeaday ...	4,94,522	5,58,606
Toungoo ...	16,011	13,148
Total duty, omitting fractions ...	9,58,452	12,29,095

This shews an increase of Customs Revenue in the year amounting to Rupees 2,70,643, or over £27,000. The chief increase is at the Port of Rangoon. It results mainly from an increase in the quantity of Goods imported from the United Kingdom, or from other Ports not under the Indian Government, from whence Goods imported are liable to duty. About 21,000 Rupees arises from the increased rate of duty on Twist from 5 to 10 per cent., which took effect in March 1860. It is also due partly to an increase in export of Rice and Paddy, by which additional duty, amounting to Rupees 98,000, has been received. At Bassein the increase arises solely from increased export of grain and duty thereon. At the Meeaday Custom House the increase of Revenue has amounted to Rupees 64,000 or £6,400. This amount is gained principally by the increased export of Rice and Ngapee (Fish Paste), which more than counterbalances the loss, Rupees 13,000, on the export of Salt. On Imports also there is a net increase of duty, amounting to 23,000 Rupees, principally due to the articles of Petroleum, Molasses, Tea, and Timber.

At Toungoo there has been a decrease of Revenue, although the amount of Trade has increased. The reason of this is, that Toungoo is the Mart for a considerable Land Traffic both from the Burmah and the Shan States. Customs duty is only taken on the Goods transported by Rivers. During the past year there was a decrease in many of those articles, but more especially on the export of Salt, and the import of Timber. For the latter article the decrease of duty during the year under review was not less than Rupees 2,863. This was owing to some accidents which prevented Timber on the Burmese side of the Frontier being brought out of the Forests.

The Statement Z. is specially devoted to the details of the exports of Rice, because that constitutes the great staple product of the Province. It shews that the total export of Rice and Paddy during the two last years have been as follows:—

	1859-60, Tons.	1860-61, Tons.
By Sea	40,847	80,263
„ Land	39,606	53,171
Total	80,453	1,33,434

It will be observed that, while the quantity of grain exported in 1860-61 exceeds by considerably more than one-third the quantity exported in 1859-60, yet the money value of the grain Exports for the two years exhibits no great disparity. Value of grain exported—

1859-60	...	Rupees 39,92,729
1860-61	...	„ 42,37,674

The reason of this is, that, in consequence of the short export in the former year, while there was at the same time a plentiful harvest, a considerable accumulation of grain was occasioned in the country during the Summer of 1860. As the crop begins to be reaped again in December prices then fell rapidly, and have continued generally low to the end of April 1861.

Public Works Department.

Papers regarding the Monghyr Tunnel and Soane Bridge, published in connection with those which appeared in the Supplement, No. 24, dated the 13th April 1861.

Memorandum from LIEUTENANT-COLONEL J. P. PEADLE, Consulting Engineer to Government of Bengal, Railway Department, to Secretary to Government of India, Public Works Department,—(dated 1st June 1861.)

THE accompanying correspondence which bears reference to Railway Despatch, No. 12 of 1860, is submitted in original, and the undersigned, with reference to the cost of the Monghyr Tunnel, which in the Despatch is stated at not less than six lakhs of Rupees, begs to observe that a revised Indent, or Estimate for the Tunnel works, has recently been received, which amounts to Rupees 5,78,100, and that this sum does not include the value of Stores supplied from the Stores Branch. Mr. Turnbull separates the cost of the Tunnel itself from the cost of the Tunnel cuttings, but it seems unlikely that the Section of the Hill, which accompanied the Railway Despatch, did not include the cuttings.

The undersigned would add that in this Office the cost of the Tunnel and the cost of the cuttings, although separately given in the Estimates, have always been considered together as forming one expenditure, and that the estimated cost has risen from about three lakhs of Rupees to Rupees four and a half lakhs in the revised Indent submitted in 1857, after the work had been taken out of the hands of Contractors, and recently to Rupees 5,78,100, as per last Indent.

The argument of the 4th paragraph of the Despatch is not affected by Mr. Turnbull's Statement, and the interpolation of "and cuttings" after the word Tunnel in the 5th paragraph, would make this portion of the Despatch strictly correct.

From G. TURNBULL, Esq., Chief Engineer, to Agent, East India Railway Company,—(dated the 8th May 1861.)

THE official letter of the Governor-General to Sir Charles Wood, published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 13th April, contained expressions of approbation of the manner in which the works have been carried on, which are extremely gratifying to myself and the Staff of Engineers on the works.

There are two points on which I would wish to offer a few remarks, and I am sure that, from Earl Canning's well known desire for accuracy and strict justice, he will be well pleased to receive these remarks, and therefore I beg that you will take an opportunity to bring this letter under His Lordship's notice.

1. The cost of the Monghyr Tunnel is estimated, in the letter alluded to, at about six lakhs of Rupees, or about £60,000 Sterling. Now, on the last occasion when I went through details of cost on the spot, which was in February last, Mr. Vaux, the Resident Engineer, and I made out the cost, when finished, at very nearly £120 per yard forward, which would make the total cost of the Tunnel (300 yards × £120) =£36,000, in place of £60,000. It is very likely that the mistake arose from some one on the spot mentioning that the total cost of the Tunnel deviation line was about six lakhs of Rupees, but this includes about three miles of Railway besides the Tunnel itself.

2. Mr. Boyle, of Arrah, is described as the District Engineer at the Soane, and the following sentence occurs:—

"Every thing I saw bore evidence of effective progress and efficient management, and reflected much credit on Mr. Boyle and Mr. Schmidt, the Resident Engineer."

This commendation is very gratifying, but the truth is, that Mr. Boyle has had nothing whatsoever to do with the Soane Bridge, and I am sure he is the last man that would willingly take credit to himself for any thing that does not properly belong to him.

Mr. Boyle is a District Engineer and has had charge or superintendence over that part of the works under contract to Messrs. Burn and Co., which is almost finished, extending from the River Kurrumnassa to about opposite Dinapoor, but exclusive of the Soane Bridge, with which he has never been, and is not now in any way connected. To be strictly accurate, I should except the sinking of some trial wells in the river bed in the year 1854.

You are quite aware of the very satisfactory manner in which Mr. Boyle has discharged the duties entrusted to him, and that it is not in the least in any disparagement of him, but only in justice to others that I am now writing; I may be allowed to add that I have received several letters on the subject, suggesting that I should offer some explanation about it.

It is my intention at some future period, if I be spared, to give some description of the Soane Bridge Works, especially as to the difficulties of the foundations; but as I may be prevented from doing so, I do not think this an unfitting opportunity to place a few facts on record regarding the design and execution of the works.

I first visited the River Soane with Major Kennedy in 1851, but it was not until 1854-55 that I could collect sufficient data to enable me to fix upon the exact site of the Bridge, nor to make out complete definite designs. These data being at last secured in the shape of very careful sections, borings, and flood observations, I made out my first design, which consisted of 70 brick arches of 60 feet span each. This plan met with favour from the then Consulting Engineer to the Government, Colonel Baker, but on account of the great number of piers, and of the immense quantity of bricks required, I was not much in favour of it myself.

My second plan was finally adopted, namely, 28 spans of 150 feet each, with brick-work, piers, and iron superstructure. My design was an iron tubular or box girder with the Railway on the top of it, but the box girder of plate iron was set aside by the Board of Directors at the advice, I believe, of the late Mr. Rendel, and the present trellis or lattice girder substituted for it.

I applied for an experienced Engineer from England to assist me, with the foundations especially of the Bridge, and Mr. S. Power was sent out expressly for the Soane Bridge. Before Mr. Power came out, one of the piers was founded, consisting of 12 brick wells, 10 feet diameter, but we found so much difficulty with them, and the work was so tedious, that after much conferring with Mr. Power, I substituted wells 18½ feet in diameter, and all details of working drawing were prepared and made in my Office in Calcutta, and handed to Mr. Power, who, with Mr. Schmidt as his Assistant, carried out my instructions in a most satisfactory and energetic way. The result is well known, and I believe it will be as I anticipated, that all the piers will be founded this year, and one-half of the iron-work fixed, and that the whole of the Bridge will be finished next year. It is not, however, so well known that, although the designs and general arrangements of these works belong to me, and certainly the responsibility of the design and execution of the works rest on my shoulders, yet the rapid progress and great success of the operations are mainly owing to Mr. Power and his able Assistant, Mr. Schmidt. Mr. Power's great ingenuity, and the mechanical resources which he possesses in himself, had a congenial field here, and produced great results in a short time. The brick-making, well-sinking, scaffolding for fixing the iron-work, were all organized by Mr. Power, and I deeply regretted that he was obliged to leave India from loss of health, caused by exposure and over-exertion, before the work was completed.

When Mr. Power withdrew, I placed Mr. Schmidt in his place; Mr. Schmidt has had sole and undivided charge of these important works for some time, and the manner in which he has carried them on, shews that my confidence on him was not misplaced, but that he deserves the praise bestowed in the Governor-General's letter.

From LIEUTENANT-COLONEL H. YULE, Secretary to the Government of India, Public Works Department, to the Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Railway Department,—(dated the 28th June 1861.)

SIR,—I AM directed to request that Mr. Turnbull may be informed that his letter of the 8th May has been submitted to the Governor-General in Council, and will be sent to the Secretary of State, whose attention has been particularly drawn to the fact that Mr. Power and Mr. Schmidt are the gentlemen who have so ably conducted the works at the Soane.

2. There does not appear to have been any real error made as to the cost of the Monghyr Tunnel, as the Tunnel and the cutting leading to it were viewed as one work, and it appears from your memorandum that the cost of this will probably exceed six lakhs.

Foreign Department.

Further Correspondence connected with the Sikhim Expedition.

From the HON'BLE A. EDEN, Special Commissioner of Sikhim, to the Secretary to the Government of Bengal,—(dated Darjeeling, the 23rd May 1861.)

SIR,—MY letter of the 17th February having been published* with the Summary of my Proceedings in Sikhim, I beg, in justice to Captain Unwin, of Her Majesty's 6th Regiment, to be allowed to correct an error contained in the 2nd paragraph of that letter.

2. I stated that the Guide furnished to Captain Unwin had come in and reported that that Officer had declined to follow the road pointed out to him, and for this cause the duty for which Captain Unwin had been detached had not been carried out.

3. Sometime after Captain Unwin rejoined the Column, I became acquainted with the fact that he was not the Officer to blame, but that a Subaltern Officer who had charge of the Guides, and was told to join Captain Unwin on the road, misunderstood his instructions and did not join him at all, but started without him, and both Detachments lost their road, Captain Unwin being without Guides.

4. The requisition for the Guides having been made in the name of Captain Unwin, I, of course, supposed that he was the Officer referred to by the Guide as refusing to follow the route pointed out to him.

* See Supplement No. 82, dated May 15th, 1861.

From the Under-Secretary to the Government of India, Foreign Department, to the Secretary to the Government of Bengal,—(No. 3710, dated the 9th July 1861.)

SIR,—WITH reference to Mr. Under-Secretary Bell's Office Memorandum, dated 3rd ultimo, No. 388, forwarding copy of a communication from the Hon'ble A. Eden, relieving Captain Unwin from the blame imputed to him in the 2nd paragraph of Mr. Eden's Despatch of the 17th February, which was published in the Supplement to the Calcutta Gazette of the 15th May last, I am directed to state, for the information of the Lieutenant-Governor, that as blame has been undeservedly cast upon a meritorious Officer in a very public manner, the Governor General in Council is of opinion that the exoneration from blame should be made equally public. A copy of this correspondence will accordingly be published in the next issue of the Calcutta Gazette.

SATURDAY, JULY 13, 1861,

LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL OF INDIA.

THE following Act, passed by the Legislative Council of India, received the assent of the Right Honorable the Governor General, on the 7th July 1861, and is hereby promulgated for general information :—

ACT No. XVI OF 1861.

An Act for licensing and regulating Stage Carriages.

WHEREAS it is expedient to license and to regulate Stage Carriages in British India; It is enacted as follows :— Preamble.

I. Every carriage drawn by one or more horses, which shall ordinarily be used for the purpose of conveying passengers for hire to or from any place in British India, shall, without regard to the form or construction of such carriage be deemed to be a Stage Carriage within the meaning of this Act. Provided that this Act shall not apply to carriages not ordinarily used for journies of a greater distance than twenty miles. Definition of Stage Carriage.

II. No Carriage shall be used as a Stage Carriage unless licensed by a Magistrate or by the Chief Commissioner of Police of a Presidency Town. Grant of licenses.

III. The Magistrate or Chief Commissioner of Police, to whom the application for a license of a Stage Carriage is made, may refuse to license the same, if he shall be of opinion that such Stage Carriage is unserviceable or is unsafe or unfit for public accommodation or use. If a Magistrate or Chief Commissioner of Police as aforesaid shall grant a license, the license shall set forth the number thereof, the name and residence of the proprietor of the Stage Carriage, the place at which his Head Office is held, the largest number of passengers and the greatest weight of luggage to be carried in or on such carriage, the number of horses by which such carriage is to be drawn, and the name of the place at which such carriage is licensed. Refusal of license. Particulars of license.

IV. For every such license there shall be paid by the proprietor of the Stage Carriage the sum of five Rupees, and such license shall be in force for one year from the date thereof. When a licensed Stage Carriage is transferred to a new proprietor within the year, the name of such new proprietor shall, on application to that effect, be substituted in the license for the name of the former proprietor, without any further payment for that year, and every person who appears by the license to be the proprietor, shall be deemed to be such proprietor for all the purposes of this Act. Charge for and duration of license.

V. On any Stage Carriage, being licensed, the proprietor thereof shall cause the number of the license and all the other particulars of the license to be distinctly painted in the English language and character upon a conspicuous part of such Stage Carriage. Number of license, &c. to be painted on conspicuous part of carriage.

VI. The proprietor of any licensed Stage Carriage, who shall let such Stage Carriage for hire without the particulars specified in Section III being painted on such Carriage in the manner directed in the last preceding Section, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding one hundred Rupees. Penalty for letting carriage for hire without having the number, &c. painted on it.

VII. Whoever lets for hire any Stage Carriage without the same being licensed as provided by this Act, shall be liable on a first conviction to a fine not exceeding one hundred Rupees, and on any subsequent conviction to a fine which may extend to five hundred Rupees. Penalty for letting for hire unlicensed carriage.

VIII. Any proprietor or agent of a proprietor or any driver of a licensed Stage Carriage who knowingly permits such carriage to be drawn by a less number of horses, or who knowingly permits a larger number of passengers, or a greater weight of luggage to be carried by such Stage Carriage than shall be provided by the license, shall be liable on a first conviction to a fine not exceeding one hundred Rupees, and on any subsequent conviction to a fine which may extend to five hundred Rupees. In every case where such Stage Carriage shall be proved to have been drawn by a less number of horses or to have carried a larger number of passengers or a greater weight of luggage than shall be provided by the license, the proprietor of such carriage shall be held to have knowingly permitted such offence unless he shall prove that the offence was not committed with his connivance and that he had taken every reasonable precaution and had made reasonable provision to prevent the commission of the offence.

Penalty for carriage drawn by less number of animals or carrying a greater number of passengers, &c. than is provided by the license.

IX. Any person who shall cruelly beat, ill-treat, over-drive, abuse, torture, or cause or procure to be cruelly beaten, ill-treated, over-driven, abused, or tortured, any horse employed in drawing or harnessed to any Stage Carriage, or who shall harness to or drive in any Stage Carriage any horse which from sickness, age, wounds, or other cause is unfit to be driven in such Stage Carriage, shall for every such offence be liable to a fine not exceeding one hundred Rupees.

Penalty for ill-treating animals.

X. Any Magistrate or Chief Commissioner of Police within the local limits of whose jurisdiction any Stage Carriage shall ply or who has granted the license of any Stage Carriage, may cancel the license of such Stage Carriage if it shall appear to him that such Stage Carriage or any horse or any harness used with such carriage is unserviceable or unsafe or otherwise unfit for public accommodation or use.

Revocation of license.

XI. In any Station or place in which a Magistrate shall reside and be, any Police Officer may in any place within two miles of the office of such Magistrate, seize any Stage Carriage with the horse harnessed thereto, if the full particulars of the license of such Stage Carriage be not distinctly painted on such Stage Carriage in the manner provided in Section V of this Act. Such carriage with the horse harnessed thereto shall be taken without delay by such Police Officer before such Magistrate, who shall forthwith proceed to hear and determine the complaint of such Police Officer; and if thereupon any fine is imposed by such Magistrate and such fine is paid, such Stage Carriage and horse shall be immediately released; and if such fine be not paid, such Stage Carriage and horse may be detained for twenty days as security for the payment thereof; and if the fine be not sooner paid, they may be sold and the proceeds applied (so far as they extend) to the payment of the said fine, and all costs and charges incurred on account of the detention and sale; and the surplus (if any), when claimed, shall be paid to the proprietor of such Carriage and horse; and if such surplus be not claimed within a further period of two months from such sale, the same shall be forfeited to the State. If the proceeds of such sale do not fully pay the fine and costs and charges aforesaid, the balance may be recovered as hereinafter provided.

Penalty for not conforming to provisions of Section V.

XII. If any driver of any Stage Carriage, or any other person having the care thereof, shall, through intoxication, neglect, or by wanton or furious driving, or by any other misconduct, endanger the safety of any passenger or other person, or shall injure or endanger the property of the proprietor of such Stage Carriage or of any other person, every such person so offending shall be liable to a fine not exceeding one hundred Rupees.

Penalty for misconduct on part of drivers.

XIII. Whenever the driver of any Stage Carriage, or the owner of any horse employed in drawing any Stage Carriage, shall have committed any offence against this Act for the commission whereof any penalty is by this Act imposed other than an offence specified in Section VIII, and such driver or owner shall not be known, or being known cannot be found, or if the penalty cannot be recovered from such driver or owner, the proprietor of such carriage shall be liable to every such penalty as if he had been the driver of such carriage or owner of such horse at the time when such offence was committed. Provided that, if any such proprietor shall make out, to the satisfaction of the Magistrate before whom any complaint or information shall be heard, by sufficient evidence, that the offence was committed by such driver or owner without the privity or knowledge of such proprietor, and that no profit, advantage, or benefit, either directly or indirectly, has accrued or can accrue to such proprietor therefrom, and that he has used his endeavour to find out such driver or owner, and has done all that was in his power to recover the amount of the penalty from him, the Magistrate may discharge the proprietor from such penalty, and shall levy the same upon such driver or owner when found.

Penalty in certain cases recoverable from proprietor.

Proviso.

XIV. Whenever any charge is made before any Magistrate of any offence under this Act, on which it is necessary to issue a summons to the proprietor of a Stage Carriage, the Magistrate shall issue such summons directed to such proprietor or his nearest Agent, and may transmit such summons by letter post, which shall be deemed to be good service thereof. The letter shall be registered at the Post Office, and the cost of the registration shall be borne by the Government in the first instance, but may be charged as costs in the case. The summons shall allow a reasonable time, in reference to the distance to which the summons is sent, for the appearance of such proprietor or his Agent as aforesaid.

Issue of summons.

XV. All penalties incurred under this Act shall be adjudged by a Magistrate, or Chief Commissioner of Police as aforesaid, and all orders made under this Act by such Magistrate or Chief Commissioner of Police shall be final.

Adjudication of penalties.

XVI. All penalties imposed under this Act, or any balance of any fine, costs, or charges, as mentioned in Section XI of this Act, may, in case of non-payment or non-recovery thereof, be levied by distress and sale of the moveable property of the offender by warrant under the hand of the Magistrate who imposed the same.

Recovery of penalties, &c.

Offender may be apprehended and detained in custody until return of warrant of distress.

XVII. In case any such penalties shall not be forthwith paid, such Magistrate may order the offender to be apprehended and detained in safe custody until the return can be conveniently made to such warrant of distress, unless the offender shall give security, to the satisfaction of such Magistrate, for his appearance at such place and time as shall be appointed for the return of the warrant of distress.

Imprisonment of offender if distress be not sufficient.

XVIII. If, upon the return of such warrant, it shall appear that no sufficient distress can be had whereon to levy such penalty, and the same shall not be forthwith paid, or, in case it shall appear to the satisfaction of such Magistrate by the confession of the offender or otherwise that he has not sufficient goods and chattels whereupon such penalty could be levied if warrant of distress were issued, such Magistrate may, by warrant under his hand, commit the offender, provided he is not a European British subject, to prison, there to be imprisoned, according to the discretion of such Officer, for any term not exceeding two calendar months when the amount of penalty shall not exceed fifty Rupees, and for any term not exceeding four calendar months when the amount shall not exceed one hundred Rupees, and for any term not exceeding six calendar months in any other case, the commitment to be determinable in each of the cases aforesaid on payment of the amount.

Recovery of penalty and costs from European British subjects.

THE 6TH JULY 1861.

THE following Bill was read a second time in the Legislative Council of India on the 6th July 1861, and was referred to a Select Committee who are to report thereon after the 10th of October next :—

An Act to facilitate the adjustment of unsettled claims to exemption from the payment of Government Land Revenue in the Presidency of Bombay, exclusive of Sind, and to regulate the Succession to and Transfer of Lands wholly or partially exempt from the payment of such Revenue.

Preamble.

WHEREAS a large extent of land throughout the Bombay Presidency is enjoyed wholly or partially exempt from the payment of Land Revenue ; and whereas the Government has hitherto asserted its right of refusal to recognize the adoption of a son by the holder of exempt land, or any transfer of such land by sale or otherwise, as creating a title against the State for the continuance of such exemption ; and whereas it has now been deemed expedient to provide for the more speedy adjustment of such unsettled claims, and to forego such right of refusal in certain cases upon certain terms and conditions hereinafter described ; Be it and it is hereby enacted as follows :—

Under what circumstances Governor in Council may guarantee the continuance in perpetuity of their lands to holders.

I. Clause 1. When the holders of lands, except as is excepted in Clause 2 of this Section, held either wholly or partially exempt from the payment of Government Land Revenue, whose title to exemption has not yet been formally adjudicated, are willing to submit to the terms and conditions hereinafter described, in preference to being obliged to prove their title to the exemption enjoyed by them, it shall be lawful to the Governor in Council to finally authorize and guarantee the continuance in perpetuity of the said land to the said holders, their heirs and assigns, upon the said terms, and subject to the said conditions.

Exceptions.

Clause 2. The excepted cases to which the authority of adjustment and guarantee vested in the Governor in Council by the provision shall not extend, are the cases of lands held as follows .—

1*st*. Lands held under Treaty.

2*nd*. Lands granted or held as Jagheers or Surinjams, or on similar political tenure, which shall be held for such time and in such manner as may be in accordance with the existing or future Rules laid down by Government for the regulation of such holdings.

3*rd*. Lands held for service, which shall be continued according to the laws for the time being in force relating to service tenures.

4*th*. Lands already formally adjudicated to be not continuable hereditarily, which shall be held upon the conditions, and in accordance with the terms laid down in such formal adjudication.

Effect of guarantee.

II. When the Governor in Council shall, under the 1st Clause of Section I of this Act, finally authorize and guarantee the continuance in perpetuity to the holders, their heirs and assigns, of lands wholly or partially exempt from the ordinary payment of annual Land Revenue, whose title to exemption has not already been formally adjudicated, and who have dispensed with an enquiry into such title, the said lands shall, subject to the enactments contained in Section III of this Act, be the heritable and transferable property of the said holders, their heirs and assigns, without restriction as to adoption, collateral succession, or transfer; and such lands shall thenceforth be continued in perpetuity, subject to the payment to Government of a fixed annual succession and transfer Nuzzerana, calculated at the rate of one anna for each Rupee of the assessment; and also to a quit-rent equal to one-fourth of the assessment, which assessment shall be ascertainable under the following Rules :—

Payment of quit-rent and annual Nuzzerana to Government; and rules for ascertaining assessment.

Rule 1. The assessment of lands, other than those specified in Rule 2, shall, with respect to lands which have already been assessed by the Revenue Survey now in progress, be the assessment already imposed upon those lands by that Revenue Survey; and with respect to lands which have not yet been assessed by that Revenue Survey, shall be the existing assessment, until the Revenue Survey now in progress has placed a new assessment on such last mentioned lands, and thenceforth the assessment so placed by the said Revenue Survey shall be understood to be the assessment; and it shall be lawful for the duly authorized Officers of Government employed in the said Revenue Survey to enter upon all lands not heretofore assessed by such Revenue Survey for the purpose of fixing and making an assessment thereof. Provided no arrangement can be otherwise arrived at by the Collector or the owner, to ascertain the fair rental of the village.

Rule 2. The assessment of lands of such an exceptional character as not to be assessable under the Revenue Survey Rules, shall be in the discretion of the Revenue Officers of Government, which discretion shall be guided, so far as may be, by the rate at which similar land in the same District, belonging to Government, is let, due regard being had by the said Revenue Officers to all equitable consideration affecting such lands. Shares of the revenues of villages (such as Umals) shall be assessed for the purposes of this Act, at the value thereof, calculated at the average shown by such accounts of actual realizations, by the holders as are forthcoming for the ten years immediately preceding the promulgation of these Rules.

Rule 3. Lands for which a Joodee, Salamee, or other annual quit-rent, under whatever denomination, is already paid to Government, instead of being liable to one-fourth of the assessment, shall, in addition to such Joodee, Salamee, or quit-rent aforesaid, be liable to be further annual quit-rent equal to one-fourth of the sum by which such Joodee, Salamee, or other quit-rent aforesaid may fall short of the assessment.

Rule 4. Quit-rent imposed under this Section (Section II), and the Rules thereunto annexed, shall be fixed in perpetuity, and shall not be liable to increase or decrease on any new assessment, save so far as is above in Rule 1 of this Section (Section II) provided to the contrary in the case of lands which have not been already assessed by the Revenue Survey now in progress.

Rule 5. The whole of the lands found in the possession of each holder shall be continued according to the provisions of this Section (Section II), and the Rules thereunto annexed, and subject to the enactment contained in Section III.

Adjustment made with holder to be binding on rightful owner.

III. Any adjustment made by the Governor in Council with the holder of land held wholly or partially exempt from the payment of land Revenue under Section II of this Act, and the Rules annexed to the said Section shall, so far as the right of Government to levy the succession and transfer Nuzzerana and the annual quit-rent mentioned in the said Section is concerned, not only be binding upon such holder, his heirs and assigns, but also on the rightful owner, his heirs and assigns, whosoever such rightful owner may be.

Proviso.

Provided always that the said rightful owner, his heirs and assigns, shall not by this Act or any thing therein contained be deprived of any rights or remedies either at law or in equity to which he or they would be entitled against the said holder, his heirs and assigns, for the recovery of the said lands or any part thereof, if this Act had not been passed, and in the event of the rightful owner, his heirs and assigns, recovering the said lands or any part thereof from the said holder, his heirs and assigns, any declaration, guarantee, or adjustment made by the Governor in Council under or by virtue of Sections I and II of this Act, and the Rules annexed to the said Section II with respect to the said lands while the same were in the possession of the said holder, shall accrue to the benefit of the said rightful owner, his heirs and assigns.

Recognition of lands adjudicated to be continuable hereditarily in perpetuity.

IV. Lands held partially or wholly exempt from the payment of Land Revenue, and already formally adjudicated to be so continuable hereditarily in perpetuity, are to be henceforth recognized, so far as the rights of Government are concerned, as the heritable and also the transferable property, not only of the actual descendants of the person to whose descendants inheritance may have been limited by the terms of the said adjudication, but also of all his legal successors by inheritance, including heirs by collateral succession and heirs by adoption, and their assigns; and the right of Government or its Officers to question the title to possession, or to exemption from the payment of Land Revenue of any holder of the said land already so adjudicated to be heritable in perpetuity, on the ground that he does not belong to the family to which title is restricted by the adjudication, is hereby given up, and, in consideration of these concessions, all lands already so adjudicated to be heritable as aforesaid, are henceforth to be held subject to the payment, to Government, of an annual succession and transfer Nuzzerana, calculated at the rate of one anna for each Rupee of the assessment of the land, ascertainable as provided in the Rules of Section II of this Act, which Nuzzerana is to be in addition to the partial assessment, if any, ordered by the terms of the formal adjudication under which the land has already been declared to be continuable.

Payment of an occasional in lieu of an annual Nuzzerana.

V. Clause 1. When the amount of the annual succession and transfer Nuzzerana, payable for any holding under Section II or Section IV of this Act respectively, exceeds the sum of ten Rupees, it shall be at the option of the holder of the land on account of which the said Nuzzerana is declared payable, if he be not merely a mortgagee, to elect, within two calendar months after service of a notice explaining the purport and effect of the Rules contained in this Section (Section V), which service shall be made in the same manner as is hereinafter provided for the service of the notice described in Section XIII of this Act, that in lieu of the land being made subject to the payment of such annual Nuzzerana, an occasional Nuzzerana shall be payable on each change of possession thereof, or of any part thereof by inheritance or transfer, the amount of which Nuzzerana shall be—

(a.) On every succession by inheritance, a Nuzzerana equal to one year's assessment of the wholly or partially exempt lands, which are the subject of such succession.

(b.) On every transfer of lands wholly or partially exempt from the payment of Land Revenue, a Nuzzerana equal to two years' assessment of the land transferred.

The assessment shall be in each case ascertainable under the Rules annexed to Section II of this Act.

Penalty for default in giving notice to Collector of of land being liable to payment of an occasional Nuzzerana.

Clause 2. When, at the election of the holder, lands wholly or partially exempt from the payment of Land Revenue shall have been made liable to occasional Nuzzerana leviable under this Section (Section V) instead of to an annual Nuzzerana of one anna in each Rupee of the assessment, as provided by Sections II and IV of this Act, the occasional Nuzzerana shall be levied from each person obtaining possession of the land to which it is subject, whether by inheritance or transfer; and it shall be the duty of that person, within the period of one calendar month after obtaining possession as aforesaid, to give notice in writing thereof to the Collector or other Chief Revenue Officer of the Collectorate or District in which the said lands are situate; and in default of such notice, the person so obtaining possession shall forfeit, in addition to the Nuzzerana leviable on the occasion, a sum equal to the amount thereof.

Penalty for default in giving notice of transfer.

Clause 3. It shall also be the duty of the holder of any land made subject under this Section to the payment of occasional Nuzzerana, instead of the annual Nuzzerana of one anna in each Rupee of the assessment, who shall transfer the same or any part thereof, to give to the Collector or Chief Revenue Officer of the Collectorate or District in which the lands so transferred are situate, notice in writing of such transfer, and of the nature and extent thereof, and of the person or persons to whom the same is made, within one calendar month after such transfer has been made, and in default of such notice, the person or persons so transferring as aforesaid shall forfeit a sum equal to the amount of the Nuzzerana leviable on the occasion from the person to whom the transfer shall have been made.

Clause 4. The forfeitures provided by this Section shall be levied by attachment and distraint.

VI. Clause 1. When lands are held wholly or partially exempt from the payment of Land Revenue, upon the title to which exemption there has not been any formal adjudication, the holders asserting a right to such exemption shall be at liberty, on the conditions hereinafter described, to claim a trial of an adjudication upon their title, according to the laws (hereinafter specified in Section IX of this Act) relating to exemption from Land Revenue now respectively in force in the Territories constituting the Presidency of Bombay, so far, however, only as such laws are not altered, repealed, modified, or superseded by or inconsistent with this Act.

Holders of lands not formally adjudicated may claim adjudication under certain conditions.

Clause 2. In the event of the title to such exemption being upon such enquiry, demanded as last aforesaid, duly established, the lands shall not be heritable in any other manner or to any further extent than the same may, on such enquiry, as last aforesaid, be adjudged to be heritable; nor shall any adoption be recognized in any Civil Court or Court of Law or Equity, or by any Officer of Government, as creative of or continuing a title to claim from Government any exemption from assessment, or any other privilege on account of the said lands: and no succession or transfer Nuzzerana shall be received on account of Government from the holders of such lands; and whensoever the same lands or any part thereof, either by operation of law or by devolution, assignment, gift, sale, (whether such sale be judicial, public, or private,) devise, transfer, deed, or other instrument, or otherwise howsoever pass to any person not an heir by actual descent from the person to whose heirs the land shall be declared heritable, or in default of such declaration, from the person who may establish his title to exemption, as last aforesaid, then the said lands or such part thereof as may have so passed to any person other than the said actual descendants, shall forthwith become and be liable to payment of annual Land Revenue at the full assessment.

Nature of possession in the event of title being established.

Clause 3. In the event, upon such enquiry as aforesaid, of there being a failure by the holder to establish a title to exemption from payment of Land Revenue, the lands to which he has failed to establish such title, shall forthwith become and be liable to payment of annual Revenue at the full assessment.

When the holders of lands held wholly or partially exempt from the payment of Land Revenue, demand a trial and adjudication of their title under the provisions of Section VI of this Act, they shall be required to deposit forthwith a sum equal to one-fourth part of the annual assessment of the land ascertainable according to Rules 1 and 2 of Section II of this Act, and thereafter to continue to pay a fourth of the said assessment, as it would become due from the date of such demand for trial, until the date of such adjudication, if the land were fully assessed to the Land Revenue, and to furnish satisfactory security for the payment of the remaining three-fourths thereof, in case of their failure to prove the title to exemption asserted by them, and in default of their making such deposits, and furnishing such satisfactory security, the full assessment of the land, which is to be the subject of inquiry, shall be levied, pending the adjudication.

Deposit pending adjudication.

Clause 2. If the enquiry result in the establishment of the asserted title, the holder, or in the event of his decease, his heir, who succeeds to possession of the said land, shall be entitled to a refund of all deposits made and assessment levied under the provisions of this Section, pending such enquiry as aforesaid, and to interest thereon at the rate of 5 per cent. per annum.

Refund of deposits and assessment on establishment of title.

Clause 3. If the result of the enquiry be that the holder fail to prove his title, the full amount of Land Revenue assessable on the lands, from the date of the holder's demand for trial, shall be levied from the said holder and his security, or either, any sums deposited or levied pending adjudication as aforesaid being taken in account of the same.

Clause 2. Lands held on behalf of religious or charitable institutions, either wholly or partially exempt from the payment of Land Revenue, shall, if not already formally adjudicated to be permanently so continuable, be declared to be so wholly or partially exempt from such payment of Land Revenue as aforesaid, subject, however, to the payment of an annual quit-rent equal to one-fourth of the assessment which shall be ascertainable under the Rules annexed to Section II of this Act.

If not formally adjudicated.

Clause 3. It is however hereby declared that lands held on behalf of religious or charitable institutions, wholly or partially exempt from the payment of Land Revenue, shall not be transferable either by assignment, sale, (whether such sale be judicial, public, or private,) gift, devise, or otherwise howsoever, and no Nuzzerana shall be leviable on account of such lands.

Not transferable, &c.

Clause 4. If the holders, managers, or trustees of such lands shall refuse to accept the terms provided by Clause 2 of this Section, and shall demand a trial and adjudication of the title by which the land is held wholly or partially exempt from Land Revenue, they shall be entitled to the same on the conditions described in Section VII, and subject to the liabilities provided in Section VI of this Act.

Holders &c. may demand trial and adjudication.

Those laws are, from and after the passing of this Act, to be carried into effect for the purposes of Section VI of this Act in the Territories last aforesaid, so far, however, only as those laws are not altered, repealed, modified, or superseded by, or inconsistent with this Act. The law relating to exemption from Land Revenue now in force in the Territories of the Deccan, Khandeish, and Southern Mahratta Country, and in all other Districts (including Sattara) more recently annexed to the Presidency of Bombay, is Act XI of 1852, passed by the Legislative Council of India. That Act is, from and after the passing of the present Act, to be carried into effect, for the purposes of Section VI of this Act, in the Territories of the Deccan, Khandeish, and Southern Mahratta Country, and in all other Districts (including Sattara) annexed to the Presidency of Bombay, since the passing of Regulation XXVIII, 1827, so far, however, only as that Act (XI of 1852) is not altered, repealed, modified, or superseded by, or inconsistent with this Act. Provided always, and it is hereby declared, that this Act shall not extend to Sind.

X. Clause 1. It is hereby declared that prescriptive title to lands wholly or partially exempt from the payment of Land Revenue shall not hereafter depend upon the number of descents in any family during which such exemption may have been enjoyed, and that in the Districts in which Act XI of 1852 has the force of law, full prescriptive title shall be admitted on proof of a continuance for thirty years of uninterrupted and recognized possession, such as is required by that Act to constitute prescriptive title to such exemption.

Clause 2. This rule shall not apply to lands alienated without the authority of Government since the British Government obtained possession of the country, nor to grants made without the authority of the Peshwah after A. D. 1803, in territory ceded by, or conquered from that authority, with respect to which, uninterrupted and recognized possession as aforesaid, for sixty years, of land wholly or partially exempt from the payment of Land Revenue shall henceforth be admitted as creative of full prescriptive title to the continuance of such exemption.

XII. Whensoever any person or persons holding lands wholly or partially exempt from the payment of Land Revenue, upon the title to which exemption there has not been any formal adjudication, shall (whether such alleged title be founded on grant or prescription, or on any other ground whatsoever,) demand an enquiry under Section VI of this Act into such title, the burden of proof of such title shall, in every instance, lie and be cast exclusively upon the person or persons holding or claiming to hold such lands so wholly or partially exempt from the payment of Land Revenue as aforesaid, notwithstanding any existing usage, Law, Regulation, Act, or Statute in any wise to the contrary, and it shall not be lawful for any Civil Court or Court of Law or Equity to place the burden of proof upon Government or upon the Officer or Officers representing Government, of a right to levy the ordinary Land Revenue upon the lands the subject of any such inquiry as aforesaid, and it shall in every instance be presumed, until the contrary is distinctly proved, that Government has the right to levy such ordinary Land Revenue upon the lands the subject of any such enquiry as aforesaid. It is however hereby further provided that nothing in this Section contained shall disentitle Government, or its duly authorised Officers, to produce and give evidence in rebuttal or disproof of the alleged title to exemption aforesaid, if it seem to Government, or its duly authorized Officers desirable or necessary to produce and give such evidence.

If holder demand enquiry, burden of proof to lie upon him.

Proviso.

XIII. Clause 1. It shall be lawful for the Collector of each Collectorate or District, or for any other Officer of Government duly authorized in that behalf, whensoever such Collector or such other Officers shall have reason to believe that lands are held wholly or partially exempt from payment of Land Revenue, and that there has not been any formal adjudication upon the title to such exemption, to serve or to cause to be served a notice in writing upon the holder of such lands, calling upon him to state whether or not he demands an inquiry under Section VI of this Act, into such alleged title to exemption as aforesaid, instead of accepting and abiding by the terms described in Section II of the same.

Collector may, in certain cases, serve holder of land not adjudicated with notice requiring him to state whether he demands an enquiry.

Clause 2. The notice shall be in the prevailing language of the Collectorate or District in which the lands are situate, and shall explain the nature of the alternatives offered on the part of Government.

Provided always that if any one of such holders shall, within the time specified in Clause 9 of this Section, demand an enquiry under Section VI of this Act, such enquiry shall be held, and the lands shall be dealt with according to the said Section VI.

Service of notice if more persons than one hold land jointly.

Clause 6. If the holder be known to reside in another Collectorate of the Bombay Presidency, and if there be no person acting for him in the Collectorate in which the lands are situate, the notice shall be sent to the Collector of such other Collectorate, and served or caused to be served by him.

Mode of serving notice on holder if resident in another Collectorate.

Clause 7. If there be not any person acting for the holder, and if he cannot be found, the notice shall be served upon some one of the actual occupants of the land (if any,) and a copy of such notice shall be posted in the office of the Chief Native Revenue Officer of the District, and in the chowree, or most public place in the village, where the lands are situate.

If holder cannot be found &c.

Clause 8. In the event of any dispute arising as to the sufficiency of the service of any notice or notices under this Section, the matter so in dispute shall be enquired into by the Collector of the District or other Officer appointed for the purpose by the Governor in Council, and the decision of the Collector or such other Officer as aforesaid shall be final, and not open to appeal or question in any Civil Court or Court of Law or Equity or elsewhere.

Disputes as to insufficiency of service of notice.

Clause 9. If within two calendar months after the service of such notice in manner aforesaid, the person holding the lands wholly or partially exempt from Revenue as aforesaid, or his legally constituted agent, shall not give a reply to such notice, stating clearly, in such reply, that he demands an enquiry into the title to such exemption as aforesaid, he shall be deemed to have finally dispensed with such enquiry, and the lands, if held as aforesaid by an individual or individuals, shall be dealt with under Sections I and II of this Act, and the Rules annexed to the said Section II; and, if held on behalf of religious or charitable institutions, shall be dealt with under Clause 2 of Section VIII of this Act.

Consequences of no reply to the notice.

Clause 10. In the event of any dispute arising as to the sufficiency of any such reply as last aforesaid, or as to its meaning, or as to its having been given within the time required by this Act, the matter so in dispute shall be enquired into by the Collector or other Officer appointed for the purpose by the Governor in Council, and the decision of the Collector or such other Officer as aforesaid shall be final, and not open to appeal or question in any Civil Court or Court of Law or Equity, or elsewhere.

Dispute as to sufficiency of reply.

Clause 11. The reply to the notice shall not be open to withdrawal.

Reply not to be withdrawn.

Clause 12. Whensoever a reply is given by any holder or his Agent, demanding an enquiry under Section VI or Clause 4 of Section VIII of this Act, the Collector or other Officer to whom such reply has been given shall demand payment of the deposit, and take the security required in such cases by Section VII of this Act, or in default of the same being furnished, shall take such steps as shall be necessary for levying the full assessment of the lands as required by the said Section, and shall refer the holder's claim to the Officer appointed by Government for the trial of such matters, who shall, with a reasonable regard to the public convenience and to the convenience of all persons interested or to be engaged in conducting such enquiry, fix a time at which it shall be proceeded with.

When reply demanding enquiry is given.

Clause 13. No book, account, record, or other document of or relating to the Revenue of any Government anterior to the British Government shall, upon any enquiry held under Section VI of this Act, be admitted in support of any claim to hold lands wholly or partially exempt from payment of Revenue, unless such book, account, record, or other document be produced by a public Officer authorized by the British Government to have the charge or custody of such book, account, record, or other document.

Books or accounts of Revenue to be produced from proper custody.

XIV. When it has been customary to levy annually any special or extra cess, fine, or tax, not of the character of ordinary Land Revenue, from the owners, occupants, or cultivators of land held or claimed to be held wholly or partially exempt from ordinary Land Revenue, it shall be lawful for the Governor in Council to authorize any Revenue Officer, or other suitable person, to impose on the owners of such land, in lieu of the special or extra cess, fine, or tax last aforesaid, such sum as may be deemed by the said Revenue Officer or other suitable person to be a fair equivalent as an annual assessment to be paid in respect of the said land in lieu of such special or extra cess, fine, or tax as aforesaid. Provided that this commuted assessment shall in no case exceed the ordinary assessment to which the land would have been subject if not held on tenure conferring exemption from the payment of ordinary Land Revenue, and shall include any Joodee, Salamee, or other quit-rent to which such land may be liable. Provided also that when any special or extra cess, fine, or tax payable by the occupant, cultivator, or other person not being the owner, shall, under the operation of this Section, be remitted, it shall be lawful for the owner to recover, from such occupant, cultivator, or other person, so long as his said occupancy, cultivation, or other tenure of the land may endure, such special or extra cess, fine, or tax, but in no case shall any sum exceeding the commuted assessment imposed upon the land under this Section, be recoverable by the owner in respect of such special or extra cess, fine, or tax, from such occupant, cultivator, or other person not being the owner.

XV. When any land wholly or partially exempt from the ordinary annual Revenue is subject occasionally, or under particular circumstances, to the payment of assessment or cess or tax, however designated, as when the land is cultivated or irrigated, or cultivated with particular crops, or on other peculiar occasions, or under other particular circumstances whatever, it shall be lawful for the Governor in Council to authorize any Revenue Officer or other suitable person to commute the assessment, cess, or tax last aforesaid into an annual assessment. Provided that this commuted assessment shall, in no case, exceed the ordinary assessment to which the land would be subject, if not held on tenure, conferring exemption from assessment. Whenever, for the purposes of this Section, or of the preceding Section it is necessary that an assessment of the land should be made, it shall be lawful for the duly authorised Officers of Government to enter upon the same for the purpose of making such assessment.

Adjustments to be final.

XVI. When any adjustment of a claim or claims to total or partial exemption from Land Revenue has been made by the Governor in Council, or any duly authorized Officer of Government, under the 2nd, 5th, or 8th Sections of this Act, it shall not be competent for any Civil Court or Court of Law or Equity to question such adjustment, so far as the right of Government to levy from the holder or holders of the lands for the time being, the succession and tranfer Nuzzeranas and the annual quit-rents mentioned in the said 2nd, 5th, and 8th Sections, or any of them is concerned. Any appeal from or against the proceedings, orders, or acts of the Officers of Government engaged in making any such adjustment, shall be made to the Governor in Council, or to such Officer or Officers as may be appointed by the Governor in Council to take cognizance of such appeals, and shall not be cognizable by any other authority.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT.

No. 133.

Extract from the Proceedings of the Government of India in the Financial Department, dated 8th July 1861.

Read the following:—

From the Auditor General of India, to the Secretary to the Government of India, Financial Department,—(No. 359, dated Fort William, 1st July 1861.)

Sir, In paragraph 41 of Report, No. 10, of the Budget and Audit Committee, approved in Resolution of Government, No. 876, dated 26th January 1861, it has been provided that, in addition to the Budget Estimate, and in substitution of the former Sketch and Regular Estimate, an Estimate of the Receipts and Disbursements of the current year, based upon the actual accounts of four months, shall be submitted by the several Deputy Auditors General on the 1st October of each year.

2. In former days, when the attention bestowed upon the financial situation of the country, and upon the periodical returns and accounts, was very much less watchful than it is now, and when the Territories affected were more compact, and the number of Officers rendering accounts was smaller, it is probable that the preparation of these intermediate Estimates may have been indispensable.

3. Under existing circumstances, however, it seems to me that such a necessity no longer exists, the object in view having been sufficiently attained by other parts of the new system of Audit and Account, especially the Monthly Returns of Estimated and Actual Receipts and Disbursements, on which, in fact, the revised Estimates must be founded; and the expenditure of the year having been definitively fixed by the Budget sanction, the only points on which any intermediate Estimates can be needed are unexpected changes in any of the principal branches of income, or additional expenditure arising from unforeseen contingencies, such as wars, famines, and the like. For variations, however, of any magnitude of these descriptions, the rough Monthly Estimates prepared by the Financial Secretary seem to afford sufficient provision, and, even without these, Special Reports of any probable change of circumstances, materially affecting the finance of the Empire, to be submitted when necessary by the Local Heads of Departments, would appear to afford sufficient security, without the addition of detailed financial Estimates, which add so much to the labor of the Department of Account, and must necessarily, without the aid of additional Establishment, retard the preparation of more important Returns.

4. At the present moment there is a still stronger motive for relinquishing this intermediate Estimate, in the relief which will be afforded to all the Departments of Account at a time when all their energies and attention are necessarily required for the successful introduction and perfecting of the Budget system, which, in many of its details, is still incomplete, and for enforcing a uniform and correct system of account, which, through a large portion of the Empire, is as yet new and imperfectly understood.

5. I beg respectfully to submit this question for the reconsideration of Government, as I feel convinced that it will be for the public advantage, and a very material relief to all Officers having accounts, if the call for the October Estimate is abandoned.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT,

Fort William, the 8th July 1861.

RESOLUTION.—The Governor General in Council agrees with the Auditor General in thinking that the Estimate required to be submitted on the 1st October of every year may be dispensed with, and he accordingly approves of its discontinuance.

2. In addition, however, to the Register that is maintained in the Financial Department, of Grants made in excess of the Budget, a Memorandum of probable expenditure arising from unforeseen contingencies will be kept up in that Department, and with this view His Excellency in Council desires that the several Local Governments and Administrations, &c., be requested to give early warning to the Financial Department of any such expenditure being likely to arise in the course of the current year 1861-62.

ORDERED, that a copy of the above Resolution, together with a copy of the Auditor General's letter, be sent to the Governments,* Departments,† Administrations,‡ and Officers,§ noted in the margin, for information and guidance.

Ordered also, that a copy be published in the Gazette.

* Madras, Bombay, Bengal, North-Western Provinces, Punjab, and the Straits Settlements.

† Foreign, Home, Public Works, and Military.

§ Deputy Auditors and Accountants General, Madras, Bombay, Bengal, North-Western Provinces, and the Punjab; Civil Paymasters of ditto; Auditor General of India.

No. 134.

Fort William, the 11th July 1861.

NOTIFICATION.—Leave of Absence.—Mr. F. Lushington, Deputy Auditor and Accountant General of Bengal, is allowed privilege leave, under Section XII. of the Covenanted Civil Service Absentee Rules, from the 23rd instant to the date of the arrival in Calcutta of the first Mail Steamer of September, making over charge of his Office to the Hon'ble E. Drummond, Auditor General and Accountant General to the Government of India, who will conduct the duties, in addition to those of his own Office, until the arrival of Mr. W. Waterfield, the Officiating Civil Paymaster at Madras, who is appointed to act as Deputy Auditor and Accountant General of Bengal during the absence of Mr. F. Lushington, or until further orders.

Mr. R. A. Fink to be Assistant Secretary in the General or Correspondence Department of the Financial Secretary's Office.

No. 136.

The 10th July 1861.

Notification.—With reference to the general question of travelling allowance to Officers removed from one Station to another, it was ruled, on the 10th September 1858, that the usual rate of eight annas per mile, in the case of Covenanted Civil Servants, and four annas a mile in the case of Uncovenanted Civil Servants, shall be allowed, for the distance travelled, to all Officers who are forced to travel on the Public Service; but not to those who are removed from one place to another on promotion or at their own request.

It was subsequently decided, on the 11th March 1859, in respect to Assistant Commissioners in the Punjab, that those Officers, whether Covenanted or Uncovenanted, and whether drawing 400 or 700 Rupees a month, should all alike be allowed, when on duty under canvas in the interior of their Districts, to draw 5 Rupees per diem.

The Punjab Government now recommends, with reference to the case of Mr. O. Wood, Assistant Commissioner, who had been transferred from Delhi to Kurnal, and who had preferred a claim to travelling allowance at eight annas a mile, instead of four annas, the rate prescribed in the Rule of 10th September 1858, for the Uncovenanted Service generally, that all Assistant Commissioners, whether Covenanted or Uncovenanted, should be allowed the same rate of travelling allowance, viz. eight annas a mile.

With this recommendation His Excellency the Governor General in Council is pleased to comply, and he accordingly resolves, in modification of so much of the Resolution of 10th September 1858, as is applicable to Assistant Commissioners of the Uncovenanted Service, that Officers of that Grade in the Territory of the Punjab shall, like Assistant Commissioners of the Covenanted Service, be allowed to draw travelling allowance at eight annas a mile when transferred from one Station to another, except when such transfer is made on promotion or at their own request.

By Order of His Excellency the Governor General in Council,

C. HUGH LUSHINGTON,
Secy. to the Govt. of India.

MILITARY DEPARTMENT.

Fort William, the 11th July 1861.

No. 606 of 1861.—His Excellency the Governor General in Council directs the publication of the subjoined Questions on subjects of general interest, and the Answers given by Government, in continuation of those published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 10th instant:—

Question 35.—Will an Officer having, on the 10th April 1861, been five or even seven years in his present appointment in the Adjutant General's Department, say Deputy Assistant Adjutant General of a Division, have to vacate before the 10th April 1863?

Paragraph 77.

Answer 35.—No. He may serve two years in the Department from the date of the publication of the Order.

Question 36.—An Officer having, on the 10th April 1861, been two years Deputy Adjutant General of the Army, and, previous to his appointment as such, been Assistant Adjutant General of the Army for five years, his service in the Department having been continuous, can he hold his appointment as Deputy Adjutant General until 10th April 1866? if not, on what date will his tenure of appointment as Deputy Adjutant General expire?

Paragraph 77.

Answer 36.—He is entitled to two years at any rate. The question has been referred to the Secretary of State, whether the five years' tenure reckons from date of actual appointment or from that of joining a Department.

Question 37.—Is the period of six months, within which Officers must communicate their decision as to entering the Staff Corps, to be reckoned, in the Madras Presidency, from date of publication of the General Order by the Governor General at Fort William, or at Fort Saint George, or at the station where the Officer electing to join the Staff Corps may be serving?

Paragraph 78.

Answer 37.—From the date of promulgation of the General Order in Calcutta, i. e. the 22nd April 1861.

Question 38.—With reference to paragraph 78, are Officers on the Staff obliged at once to declare whether they desire to join the Staff Corps, with the option of correcting their election within six months?

Paragraph 78.

Answer 38.—It is not necessary that an Officer should send his decision in to the Adjutant General's Office before the 21st October 1861, but it must reach the Adjutant General's Office by that date. The decision once announced in General Orders cannot be cancelled.

Question 39.—An Officer on the Staff belonging to one of the present European Regiments having accepted the invitation to join his representative Line Corps, can he not have the benefit of paragraph 74, the same as any other Officer of a British Regiment, *; i. e. elect within six months to join the Staff Corps, and be eligible for promotion under the provisions of the Royal Warrant?

Paragraph 74.

Answer 39.—Yes.

Vide* Paras. 74 and 89.

Question 40.—Will an Officer who has held a Staff appointment on probation, for example in the Commissariat Department or the Madras Police, be considered to have performed service qualifying for promotion under the Staff Warrant, for such period as he may have been so employed?

Paras. 82, 84, 85, 87.

Answer 40.—If an Officer on probation be eventually confirmed permanently in the Commissariat or other Department, he will count the period of probation as permanent service.

Question 41.—Does the time an Officer of the Staff Corps may be on leave, in or out of India, count towards the period required to be served in the Staff Corps for promotion?

Paragraph 84.

Answer 41.—Yes.

Question 42.—To qualify an Officer in the Staff Corps for promotion, after 12 or 20 years' service, from what date is the term of years reckoned, —from date of first Commission or date of arrival in country?

Answer 42.—From date of first Commission.

Question 43.—A Brevet Colonel of Infantry enters the Staff Corps as Captain, and receives at once the rank of Major in that Corps.—He enquires whether, having served 32 years in the country, of which 26 have been on Staff employ, he would in accordance with Staff Corps Rules, be promoted two years hence to a Lieutenant Colonelcy, and five years later to a Brevet Colonelcy—a rank which he already possesses;—and asks whether there is not something anomalous in such an arrangement?

Paras. 84-85.

Answer 43.—A Brevet Colonel so situated would enter the Staff Corps as Captain, be promoted at once to Major, and at the end of two years to Lieutenant Colonel. According to the date of his promotion to Lieutenant Colonel his eventual position with respect to Colonel's allowance would be determined. It is therefore necessary that he should go through all these grades.

Question 44.—Will "Brevet Colonels" of the Staff Corps, after five years' service therein as substantive Lieutenant Colonels, be permitted to reside in England on 25s. per diem, as provided for Colonels of Artillery in paragraph 29, pending their admission to the benefits of the "Colonel's allowance"?

Paragraph 84.

Answer 44.—No.

Question 45.—Will a substantive Lieutenant Colonel, and Brevet Colonel joining the Staff Corps on its formation, be eligible to "get one step of rank" on transfer to the Staff Corps; i. e., will he be promoted to substantive "Colonel" or "Major General"?

Paragraph 85.

Answer 45.—There is no such rank in the Staff Corps as substantive Colonel. No instructions have been received regarding promotion to Major General in the Staff Corps.

Question 46.—Service in the Crimea having been allowed to count as service in India towards retirement, it has been asked whether Staff employ during such Crimean service will be allowed to go towards the qualifying period for promotion under the Staff Warrant?

Paragraph 87.

Answer 46.—Staff service in the Crimea is not Staff service in India, neither is it permanent. On these grounds it cannot reckon for promotion in the Staff Corps.

Question 47.—Officers of the Staff Corps obtaining leave in India, whether on private affairs or sick certificate, will, it is presumed, continue to draw Indian rates of pay?

Paragraph 93.

Answer 47.—Yes. The proportion of pay which they will draw will be the same, but Staff Corps pay will be substitute for former pay.

Question 48.—Can an Indian Officer who has joined the Staff Corps retire on the pay of the rank he has attained in the Cadre of his old Regiment, after 22 years' service, under the Regulations of 1796?—For example, I shall probably be a Regimental Major after about 22 years' service in India—if I join the Staff Corps, could I retire on a Major's pension after 22 years' service (provided I had attained that rank in the Cadre of my old Regiment,) or must I serve 24 years in India?

Paragraph 93.

Answer 48.—An Officer in the Staff Corps can retire after 22 years' service, under the 30th and 32nd paragraphs of the new Furlough Rules. Government have referred this point, and this construction of it will be acted upon pending further instructions.

With regard to the allusion made to standing in the Cadre of an Officer's old Regiment, it is observed that, on joining the Staff Corps, an Officer disconnects himself entirely from his old Regiment, and his place in it has no relation to the pension he becomes entitled to.

Question 49.—Should a Major of upwards of 22 years' service retire before the 1st October next, can he claim, in addition to the Major's pension, the extra pension of £50 per annum, offered by the Secretary of State?

Answer 49.—Yes. If he have served twenty two years in India, of which not more than two years may have been passed on leave, he may retire before the 1st October next, on the pension of his actual rank, and will be entitled to the extra pension of £50 in addition.

Question 50.—Will an Officer of the Staff Corps after 22 years' service, of which six have been on the Staff (either on full or on half pay,) be entitled to Major's pension?

Paragraph 93.

Answer 50.—He will receive the pension of his substantive rank, if the whole service have been on full pay: if not, the half pay service will be deducted; and, to entitle him to the pension of his rank, he will be required to make up the deducted portion.

Question 51.—Can Officers of the Staff Corps take 20 months' leave on private affairs, retaining their appointments?

Paragraph 93.

Answer 51.—Yes. Such is the rule laid down in the 93rd paragraph of the General Order. But a reference has been made to the Secretary of State on this point.

Question 52.—Are the above twenty months referred to available in one indulgence, or are they the aggregate of sundry short leaves?

Answer 52.—The leave may be in one period, or it may be the aggregate of sundry short leaves, subject to the conditions of the new Furlough Rules; vide paragraph 20 of the same.

Question 53.—Does paragraph 93 apply exclusively to Furlough, or to all leaves (irrespective of privilege leave,) whether in or out of India; and does it not count for service for retiring pension?

Paragraph 93.

Answer 53.—It applies to Furlough only: and such Furlough is subject to the conditions of the new Furlough Rules.

Question 54.—Is the substantive rank of Officers in the Staff Corps to be considered to be their only Regimental rank: the Staff Corps being their only Regiment?

Paragraph 93.

Answer 54.—Yes. The Staff Corps is their only Regiment, so to speak; but the term is an incorrect one.

Question 55.—Is sick Furlough to England to count against the five years' tenure of appointment in those Departments in which the tenure is so limited?

Answer 55.—Yes; an Officer is borne on the strength of the Staff, whilst on Furlough, and draws Staff Pay for a portion of the time. As the time passed on Furlough counts for service pension, it must necessarily count for Staff service also, and be reckoned within the period of five years.

Question 56.—Is it compulsory, with reference to the latter part of paragraph 93, on all Officers joining the Staff Corps, to select the new Furlough Regulations, or is this intended merely for British Officers joining the Staff Corps? And are Indian Officers allowed the option of selecting the old or new Furlough Regulations, as guaranteed to them by General Order by the Governor General, No. 1150 of 17th November 1854?

Paragraph 93.

Answer 56.—All will be under the new Furlough Regulations. No option is allowed to an Officer who may join the Staff Corps. He must accept the new Rules as one of the conditions of joining that Corps.

Question 57.—Can an Officer of the Staff Corps proceed to Europe on leave on private affairs (retaining his appointment) as often as his service can be dispensed with, or does this privilege refer to leave on private affairs in India only?

Paragraph 93.

Answer 57.—Officers of the Staff Corps will be under the new Furlough Rules, except as to the increase of twenty months, explained in the General Order. These Rules prescribe periods of service to be performed in India at intervals between Furloughs.

Question 58.—What number of "Colonel's allowances" will be appropriated to the Madras Staff Corps, and from what date will they become available?

Paragraph 94.

Answer 58.—This question is under the consideration of Her Majesty's Government.

Question 59.—Should an Officer be placed on the half pay list, or be unemployed, under paragraphs 96 to 99 of the General Order, will his time thus passed in India, count towards retiring pension?

Paragraph 96 to 98.

Answer 59.—If on the half pay list, No: as no half pay service counts for pension.

But Officers in the Staff Corps, though not actually employed, will be allowed to reckon their service during such period towards promotion and pension.

Question 60.—With reference to the latter part of paragraph 98, will an Officer, placed on half pay and entitled to pension, be obliged to take it, or has he the option of doing so, or not?

Paragraph 98.

Answer 60.—An Officer entitled to pension, whom it may be proposed to place on half pay, will have the option of taking his pension.

Question 61.—If Officers of the Staff Corps are unemployed, merely owing to there being no available appointment for them, but not owing to unfitness or other cause, which might induce Government "to decline to employ them in any capacity," will they come under paragraph 99, or are they liable to paragraph 98, there being no limit as to the period for which Indian rates of pay can be drawn in the Royal Warrant, Clause 8?

Paras. 98-99.

Answer 61.—Employment of some kind will be given to all qualified and deserving Officers of the Staff Corps, whenever opportunity may offer. Paragraph 98 has no application whatever to Officers whom Government consider fit for employment, though at the moment it may not be practicable to employ them suitably. The pay of such Officers is provided for in paragraph 99.

Question 62.—Does the period an Officer may be placed on half pay, count towards retiring pension and qualification for promotion?

Paragraph 98.

Answer 62.—No.

Question 63.—Is it intended by this paragraph (98) of the General Order to authorize the placing of an unemployed Officer on half pay, in such wise as to prevent his completing his term of service for Pension?

Answer 63.—No. Paragraph 98 applies exclusively to Officers whom Government consider "unfit to employ in any capacity."

Question 64.—Will Military appointments with Native Troops (such as the Punjaub Irregular Force, which is under the direct orders of the Civil Administration of Government,) be considered a Civil Branch of the Army, thus debarring such Officers as may be serving on the Punjaub Frontier, although performing strictly Military duties, from all exercise of Command, &c. ?

Paragraph 101.

Answer 64.—Military appointments with Native Troops under the Civil Administration, such as the Punjab Irregular Force, are not Civil appointments. Command has hitherto been exercised by Officers in such appointments, and the order makes no change.

Question 65.—Must a Lieutenant Colonel joining the Staff Corps, serve two years from the 18th February 1861, to qualify him for the superior grade under the provisions of Clause 103 of the Amalgamation Order, or five years, counting from the original date of his substantive rank?

Paragraph 103.

Answer 65.—Five years, counting from the original date of his substantive rank, provided he have been on the Staff the whole period; if not, five years from the date from which he, as Lieutenant Colonel, held Staff employ.—Vide paragraph 85 of the General Order.

Question 66.—Does an Officer promoted to a Majority in the Staff Corps, and retiring on a Captain's pension, receive a step in rank on retirement, i. e., does he retire as Lieutenant Colonel?

Answer 66.—Yes. All Officers retiring on full pension get a step in rank. No change has been ordered in this respect.

Question 67.—In the event of a Regimental Captain and Brevet Lieutenant Colonel joining the Staff Corps, will his future conditions of service in the said Staff Corps, vitiate his present right to succeed to a Brevet Colonelcy, after exercising a five years' Command under the provisions of Her Majesty's Royal Warrant of the 14th October 1858?

Answer 67.—No.

Question 68.—Is an Officer of the Veteran Establishment, who may retire before the 1st October next, entitled to the extra pension of £50 per annum?

Answer 68.—Yes.—These Officers are entitled to retiring pension, and therefore to all its privileges.

Question 69.—A Staff Officer who is admitted into the Staff Corps and who is entitled to his promotion, say from Captain to Major, from 18th February 1861, will, it is supposed, be entitled to the difference between Captain's and Major's pay and allowances in addition to his Staff salary retrospectively from the above date?

Paragraph 100.

Answer 69.—An Officer is always entitled to the pay of his substantive rank from the date of such rank. It is provided in the 100th paragraph of the General Order, that "the pay and allowances to be established for the several Staff appointments, in all Departments of Staff employ, will be announced in a subsequent Notification and meanwhile the Staff salary and other allowances of all appointments will remain unchanged."

Question 70.—The order allowing an addition of £50 to pension on retirement being limited to retirements which may take place before the 1st October 1861, will this extra pension be allowed to Officers who may on the 1st October next have still a few months to serve, to entitle them to a higher pension, provided they notify before the 1st October their intention to retire, on completing the fixed periods of service?

Answer 70.—The extra £50 requires absolute retirement on the 1st of October; and no relaxation can be made but by the Secretary of State.

Question 71.—General Order by the Governor General in Council, No. 156 of 1861, provides for the benefits of Lord Clive's Fund being continued to the widows of Soldiers who elect for "General Service," but no allusion is made to personal benefits to themselves; and the cases of Officers, Warrant Officers, and their Widows, are omitted altogether, with reference to their claims on Lord Clive's Fund. A decision on these points is requested.

Answer 71.—Government have referred the question of Lord Clive's Fund to the Secretary of State; and will administer the benefits of the Fund, meanwhile, as heretofore.

Question 72.—Will the election by an Officer of "General Service" debar him from the benefit of the £50 bonus, sanctioned by G. O. C., 8th March 1861, No. 79?

Answer 72.—No. The offer was made to all Officers of the Indian Army.

Question 73.—Should the option be given to young Officers of the General List, who entered the service subsequently to November 1859, to volunteer for General or Local service, or the Staff Corps? one Young Officer having stated that, from the terms of the Declaration made by him at the India House, he did not consider that he had any choice in the matter.

Answer 73.—There is nothing in the Declaration made by these Young Officers at the India Office to compel them to elect for General Service. The option must be given to them in common with other Young Officers of the Indian Army.

Fort William, the 12th July 1861.

Notification.—The 12th July 1861.—The following Rules, defining the duties of the Agent for Government Consignments, having been approved by the Supreme Government, are published for general information :—

1. The Agent for Government Consignments will keep at his Office a Register of all Indents for Government Stores sent out from England, and such Register shall be open to the inspection of Commanders of Vessels and Owners or their Agents.

2. Commanders of Vessels having on board Stores or Cargo belonging to the Government of India are, on their arrival at the Port of Calcutta, and after entry at the Custom House, to report themselves without delay to the Agent for Government Consignments, and to inform him of the nature of the Stores or Cargo on board of their respective Vessels belonging to the Government of India.

3. Commanders of Vessels must also give to the Agent for Government Consignments at least forty-eight hours' notice, stating when the Government Stores or Cargo will be clear and ready for delivery from on board their respective Vessels. The Agent for Government Consignments will intimate to the respective Departments concerned the arrival of the Vessels, and will give instructions as to the time by which the Departments should be prepared to land the Stores.

4. Should delay occur after notice as aforesaid in sending Boats alongside to receive the Consignments, notice of such delay should be given by the Commander to the Agent for Government Consignments.

5. If any Boat or Boats sent by any Government Department to receive a Consignment be detained alongside the Ship, the Commander and Owner of such Vessel shall be responsible for whatever claim may be made for demurrage in respect of such Boat or Boats, and the Officer at the head of such Department shall withhold delivery of Certificates until all claims in respect of such demurrage are settled.

8. In case of such damage as referred to in the last preceding Clause, and if required so to do by the Officer of the Department concerned, the Agent for Government Consignments will hold a survey on such damage of which he will give notice to the Commander of the Vessel concerned. The Agent for Government Consignments will nominate some third party (who may be in the service of Government) to survey and report conjointly with him on the said damage. The Commander of the Vessel concerned shall be present at the survey, and he and his Owner shall be bound by the report of the Surveyors. Should the Surveyors differ they shall appoint an Umpire, whose decision shall be in like manner binding on the Commander and Owners of the Vessel.

FORT WILLIAM,
The 1st July 1861.

Notice.

UNDER Notification of the Board of Audit, dated 1st May last, Transfer Receipts have been substituted for negotiable Bills of Exchange, for purposes of Privilege or Public Service Remittance.

In many Treasuries, however, especially in Bengal, the practice has become prevalent of granting Bills to private individuals, under Paragraph 69 of the Bill Rules, and the unexpected cessation of this accommodation is represented to have caused much serious and unnecessary inconvenience.

In temporary modification, therefore, of recent instructions, Treasury Officers are informed that they may continue to act upon Paragraph 69 of the Bill Rules wherever they have heretofore been in the habit of doing so, but not otherwise, granting Transfer Receipts on the General Treasury only in lieu of Bills of Exchange for cash for small sums, at their discretion, and at one per cent. premium.

It is at the same time notified, for general information, that this accommodation will be withdrawn so soon as the Act for the introduction of a Government Paper Currency shall have become Law, or at furthest on the 1st January next.

E. DRUMMOND,
Audr. Genl. of India.

FORT WILLIAM;
Office of the Audr. Genl. of India,
The 9th July 1861.

Notification.

THE Deputy Auditor and Accountant-General has the honor to request that Judges of the Small Cause Courts established in the Mofussil will report, at their earliest convenience, the date on which they may have opened their Courts, in view to their being supplied with the Forms of Monthly Cash Accounts and other Returns which they are required to furnish to this Office.

F. LUSHINGTON,
Deputy Auditor and Acct.-Genl.,
Bengal.

OFFICE OF THE DEPUTY AUDITOR AND ACCTT. GENL., BENGAL,
The 26th June 1861.

Notification.

CIVIL Officers in the Presidency are hereby requested to include charges for House Tax on account of Government, or other Buildings held by them for Office purposes, in their Contingent Bills, supported by the Bills or Receipts of the Municipal Commissioners as Vouchers.

The Municipal Commissioners have been addressed on the subject by the Accountant-General.

HUGH SANDEMAN,
Civil Paymaster.

CIVIL PAYMASTER'S OFFICE,
The 6th July 1861.

Notification.

TREASURY Officers are requested, in lieu of the present practice of transmitting spoiled Bills of Exchange, or Transfer Receipts, to the Presidency for destruction, to have them destroyed (by fire) in their own presence, noting the circumstance, under their initials, in the Check Register, and reposting the general number of the Bill (or Receipt so destroyed) in the Annual Indent, or sooner if more convenient.

HUGH SANDEMAN,
Civil Paymaster.

CIVIL PAYMASTER'S OFFICE,
The 6th July 1861.

Notification.

THE change in the form of Service and Privilege Remittance documents having been misunderstood in some quarters, it is hereby Notified, under instructions from the Auditor General, to all Treasury Officers, that the change from Bills of Exchange to Transfer Receipts is principally one of form, and that the Rules prescribed for their guidance in the issue of Bills of Exchange should guide them, as far as they may be found applicable, in the issue of the Transfer Receipts, both Service and Privilege. The only material exception is in respect to Military Privilege Remittances, which should be made by Paymasters only on the issue of pay, and on a requisition sent to the Paymaster with the Monthly Abstract of the Corps, as mentioned in Rule IX. of the Notification of the Board of Audit, dated 1st May last.

2. Exceptional cases, such as those described in paragraph 62 of the Bill Rules, quoted in the margin, may continue to be provided for as therein directed, the privilege Transfer Receipt only being substituted for the Bill of Exchange.

62. Bills may also be issued for Cash in the following exceptional cases, first, to European Commissioned Officers for the amount sale of a Bungalow to either vendor or purchaser, which must be specifically stated in the application; secondly, to Regiments, or a Committee of Officers, for Mess, or other Regimental purposes, the application being accompanied by a Certificate from the Commanding Officer that the required remittance is bond fide for the purpose stated; thirdly, an Officer suddenly leaving a Station is entitled to a Bill on the Station to which he is proceeding for an amount equal to his Monthly Pay and Allowances.

3. In cases of loss of the originals, the provisions of the Bill Rules for seconds may be followed as far as applicable, but as the Receipts are not negotiable, there seems to be no reason for requiring a Non-payment Certificate before the issue of a Duplicate, which may at all times be granted on sufficient cause shewn, without further precaution than that the fact of their being Duplicates may always clearly appear upon the face of them.

4. The form of Transfer Receipt prescribed in Rule V. of the Notification of the Board of Audit above mentioned should be employed for the Privilege Remittances of Warrant Officers and Soldiers of the European Army, and the form for Sepoys' Remittances for those of Commissioned Native Officers, as heretofore.

H. SANDEMAN,
Civil Paymaster.

CIVIL PAYMASTER'S OFFICE,
The 13th July 1861.

Notice.

THE Officiating Superintendent of Stationery, with reference to para. 6th, No. IV., of his Circular No. 800, dated the 8th March last, restricting the cost of Preparation of Ink, has the honor to draw the attention of those Officers, who may experience any difficulty in complying with that requisition, to the following letter from the Collector of Customs, Sirsa, and to recommend generally the adoption of that Officer's plan.

It is necessary only to add, that the Ink used by Mr Jones appears to be quite equal to that made from the Ink Powder issued from this Office, and converted into fluid Ink at a cost never less and frequently four and five times as great as that incurred in the Preparation recommended.

E. W. PERRY,
Offg. Superintendent.

No. 58 of 1861.

FROM G. M. JONES, ESQ.,
Collector of Customs,
Sirsa,

To E. W. PERRY, ESQ.,
Superintendent of Stationery,
Calcutta.

Dated Sirsa, the 28th June 1861.

SIR,—WHEN I received your Circular* of instructions, directing economy, and informing me that in future no vinegar of a higher price than four annas per bottle should be purchased for making Ink, I determined on preparing some here, after a receipt I found in Mitchel's Encyclopædia. I have had it copied out, and send a copy for your perusal, and should you consider it advisable for circulation.

* No. 800, dated 8th April 1861.

2nd. I am at present using Ink made after that formula, and you can judge from it of its quality.

3rd. There are two advantages in this Preparation —superior quality and its cheapness.

4th. The cost of preparation here comes to, exclusive of bottle and cork, three annas and three pie per quart bottle.

5th. The Sulphate of Iron, procurable here, is very impure, yet it answers; but where good Crystals are obtainable I have no doubt the Ink would be much darker. My duftery prepares it, and as all large Offices have one or more dufteries, they could make a stock which would last for a month or more, as desirable.

6th. In future it is not my intention to indent for any Black Ink, as the cost of preparing a quart bottle is less than you allow for a bottle of vinegar, and we cannot get it here for double that amount.

7th. As I shall have to enter the expenditure in the Quarterly Bills, I have thought it as well to send you this explanation.

I have, &c.,
(Sd.) G. M. JONES,
Collector.

DIRECTION FOR THE COMPOSITION OF GOOD INK.

Take eight ounces of Aleppo Galls (in coarse powder); four ounces of Logwood (in thin chips); four ounces of Sulphate of Iron; three ounces of Gum Arabic (in powder); one ounce of Sulphate of Copper; and one ounce of Sugarcandy. Boil the Gall and Logwood together in twelve pounds of water for one hour, or till half the liquid has evaporated. Strain the decoction through a hair sieve or linen cloth, and then add the other ingredients; stir the mixture till the whole is dissolved, more especially the Gum; after which leave it to subside for twenty-four hours. Then decant the Ink, and preserve it in bottles of glass or stoneware, well corked.

(Sd.) G. M. JONES,
Collector of Customs, Sirsa.

Public Works Department.

On the sufficiency of the local labor market to supply the Railways with Engine Drivers, skilled laborers, &c.

From LIEUTENANT-COLONEL H. RIVERS, Secretary to the Government of Bombay, to COLONEL H. YULE, Secretary to the Government of India,—(dated Bombay, the 15th June 1861.)

SIR,—WITH reference to the Circular from the Government of India, No. 27 of 1861, relative to the training of young men in India as Engine Drivers and Mechanics, I am desired to transmit to you, for submission to the Right Hon'ble the Governor General of India in Council, the accompanying copy of a Report on the subject by the Locomotive Superintendent of the Great Indian Peninsula Railway Company, and of the Statement therein referred to.

From F. J. CORTAZZI, ESQ., Locomotive Superintendent, to W. LANGDON, ESQ., Secretary, Great Indian Peninsula Railway Company,—(dated the 25th May 1861.)

SIR,—I HAVE the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter dated the 29th ultimo, with its accompaniments, and to send you a Statement shewing the number of Europeans and Natives employed in this Department in various trades.

I am induced to do so from reading the Report* of the Locomotive Superintendent of the Madras Railway, which might make the Board imagine that the Madras Railway stood alone in endeavoring to train Natives of this country to work as Mechanics or Enginemen.

Though it will be clearly seen from the Statement enclosed that we are educating a large number of Natives, yet I do not, by any means, go so far as Mr. Wright does in the amount of country-trained labour I propose to employ.

I consider it highly important that the shop should be occasionally leavened by fresh men from England who have worked in different places, and who prevent the others from travelling in a rut.

This is quite as important with Engine Drivers as with Mechanics, and though some of the best men I have as Drivers have been trained in this country, yet I do not think it advisable to cut off altogether any connection with English Railways.

As Enginemen I fear the Natives will not be so serviceable as Englishmen, as they have not so much nerve and presence of mind in emergencies. I have, however, a Negro driving and giving satisfaction.

I would draw the attention of the Committee to the Machinemen and Turners being all Natives, and their Foreman is an Eurasian trained in this country. This kind of work appears to suit the Natives very well, and I do not see any necessity for having Europeans in this branch except Foremen. I say Foremen, notwithstanding I have just stated that I have a country-trained man overlooking the Turners; but I should state that I consider him an exception, and that I am of opinion that no men are suitable for Foremen unless they have seen several kinds of work.

We have seventy-six Boys learning different trades, but I altogether object to having regularly bound apprentices, my system being, if I find a lad does not progress in his business, to get rid of him and put another in his place who will do the shop more credit.

The Return generally speaks for itself, and I shall only add that I consider it impolitic to grant agreements to men engaged in this country, as it prevents us keeping them as a check on the other workmen. I have no doubt that, were it not for the Uncovenanted Drivers, the men who have been sent out would give as much trouble, and that our interest is to keep two classes of Drivers.

I must conclude by saying that I cannot claim credit for having initiated the system of employing locally trained workmen, but I am convinced of the soundness of the principle of not relying entirely on Home labor, and am of opinion that the greater part of the workmen should be brought up here.

Revenue from Malwa and other Opium exported from Bombay.

From Richard Spooner, Esq., Commissioner of Customs, Salt, and Opium, to A. D. Robertson, Esq., Chief Secretary to Government of Bombay,—(dated Bombay, the 3rd May 1861.)

Sir,—I beg, in reporting on the External Trade, or the Revenue derived from Opium Pass Fees for the year 1860-61, to submit two Statements as per margin, and to add that the realizations during the year under review have greatly exceeded those of any previous year, and that a stupendous revenue, equal to two millions, four hundred and forty thousand pounds sterling, has been realized at a cost of less then one penny in the pound.

A. Pass Fees.
B. Interest thereon.

2. The number of chests on which Pass Fees were actually realized during the year 1860-61 ending 30th April 1861 was 45,072, shewing, as compared with the previous year, an increase of 12,565½ chests.

3. The number of chests which paid duty in each year during the last five years gives an average of 32,615 chests per year, and during the last three years an average of 36,840, while during the year under review Pass Fees were realized on 45,072 chests.

4. The cause of this increase in the Opium Trade was partly owing to enormous prices being realized for Opium in Calcutta in consequence of a not very abundant crop of Opium in the Bengal Province, while, at the same time, the demand in China for Opium was very brisk. Shortly after the commencement of the official year, I estimated our receipts on account of Opium for 1860-61 at Rupees 1,60,00,000; but owing to the trade being very brisk, I was induced, when at Calcutta, to suggest to the Officiating Commissioner at Bombay to increase my estimate from 160 lacs to 200 lacs. The Officiating Commissioner not only did this, but raised the estimate to 225 lacs, and afterwards on my return to Bombay in February 1861, I again increased my estimate to 240 lacs, and somewhat more than that sum, viz., 244 lacs and six hundred, has been duly realized during the twelve months ending 30th April 1861. The Opium revenue is liable to much fluctuation, and I find it to be impossible to frame any reliable estimate of expected receipts. In fact, it would not be prudent to estimate it at too high a figure, for, should afterwards the receipts be much less than was anticipated, it would embarrass the arrangements of the Financial Department.

RICHARD SPOONER,
Commissioner of Customs, Salt, and Opium.

Supply of Indian Cotton to England.

REPORTS regarding the cultivation of Cotton in Nagpore, and the construction of roads to facilitate its transport to ports of shipment.

From MAJOR E. K. ELLIOT, Commissioner of Nagpoor, to Secretary to Government of India, Public Works Department,—(dated the 4th June 1861.)

* * * * * * * *

2. A large quantity of Cotton is grown in this Province, and there is little doubt but that this quantity will steadily increase. Hitherto, the trade may have been retarded in consequence of the difficulties of transport from bad roads, or rather no roads at all, and from the transit duties of the old Native Government, continued, until very lately, under our rule.

These duties have now ceased to exist, whilst measures are in active progress for the improvement of our roads. The principal outlets for the Cotton from this Province generally known and most in use have been by Jubbulpoor to Mirzapoor and by Nachengaon (near the Wurdah River) or Oomraotee to Bombay.

* One hundred miles of the Great Deccan Road is under construction as a 1st class Imperial road, and, when completed, the transport of Cotton will be facilitated in either direction, but the feeders to this and the Southern line from Nagpoor towards Hyderabad, † with a branch to the Sudder Station of Chanda, which runs through a Cotton-producing country the whole way, should also be taken in hand and improved.

* NOTE.—The Great Deccan Road runs from Mirzapoor on the Ganges, through Jubbulpoor, Nagpoor, and Jaulnah to Bombay. One hundred miles run through this Territory.

† NOTE.—The boundary of the Province in this direction is at Pathia, on the Wurda. The branch to Chanda leaves the line at Wurrorah, the Head Quarters of a Tehseeldaree Station, about seven miles short of the river.

3. Of the five Districts into which this Province is at present divided, two, Chindwarra and Bhundarra, produce little or no Cotton. The principal Cotton-growing Districts are Nagpoor, Chanda, and Raepoor, in the order in which they are named. The quantity produced may be roughly estimated at 20,000,000 lbs.,* of which about 9,000,000 lbs. are, it is said, from the Nagpoor District. It is the Nagpoor and Chanda Cotton alone which finds its way to Mirzapoor and Bombay, that from Raepore, which is stated to be of a coarser description, going to the Eastern Coast, or being consumed within the Territory, or before it reaches the Sea.

* NOTE.—200,000 bales of 100 lb each, or half that number of bullock loads. It is supposed that upwards of 50,000 bullock loads leave Hinguughat and that part of the Nagpoor District annually.

4. In the Stetch Map attached to Colonel Maxwell's letter, and accompanying the correspondence, the main lines of communication through the Province are shown. The most important, as affording the means of transport to the ports of shipment, are, as regards Cotton, the Great Deccan and the Southern lines. On a rough calculation, the mileage of the feeders to these lines requiring to be opened out and improved in the Nagpoor and Chanda Districts, may be estimated to extend over 300 miles, and with a little exertion and the requisite aid in money, much may be effected during the ensuing working season.

5. After the lapse of the Province in 1853-54, a one per cent. Road Fund was established in each District, from which very little has hitherto been expended, so that the accumulations on the past years now amount to something considerable.†

† NOTE.—A detailed Report on the Road Fund has been submitted in the Foreign Department, and rules prescribed for its future management.

A portion of these accumulations may, I think, very properly be expended in opening out these District lines; but without the aid of Government, no material improvement can be effected. A reference to the letter from the Chief Engineer, accompanying this Report, will show that, in his opinion, a sum of not less than Rupees 200 per mile would be needed to make these lines passable, or to put them on the footing of fair-weather roads. I would go further than this, and suggest an expenditure of Rupees 250 a mile, a sum which has, I am told, been allowed on other occasions for making fair-weather roads. For 300 miles an outlay to this extent would require funds amounting to Rupees 75,000, out of which sum the District Road Funds might fairly contribute one-third, or Rupees 25,000. With the number of projects now on its hands, the Department of Public Works could not possibly undertake this additional task unaided; and I would propose to obtain the co-operation of the Committees for local improvement, already formed in each District. To add to the efficiency of these Committees, and to forward the efforts of the District Officers, some direct executive assistance might, with advantage, be provided, the present agency of the Department of Public Works not being strong enough to afford more than its professional advice and instructions. I would urge therefore, that, as recommended by Colonel Maxwell, a qualified Native Surveyor should be appointed to each District, to be placed under the orders of the Local Committees, their salaries being defrayed from the Road or other Local Funds.

6. The foregoing project has reference solely to the Nagpoor and Chanda Districts. In Raepoor, the opening up of the communications with the neighbouring territories would also, I feel assured, be attended with the greatest benefit to the public at large, as well as to the District itself, notwithstanding the statement of the Officiating Deputy Commissioner that "no complaints are made of the want of well-made roads being any obstacle to the traffic."

From its distance from all the lines of ordinary travel, this District is almost unknown, except in name, beyond its own borders. With the exception of the one line* running east and west towards Cuttack and Nagpoor, there may be said to be no main road in the District, and the difficulties of transporting its varied produce to distant marts leaves little more than nominal prices for the producer in the majority† of instances. The capabilities of this fine District are very great, not only from the growth of Cotton, but also from grain of every description, oil seeds, lac, koosum, &c., &c., and I am convinced that with improved communications, the present Land Revenue (between 5 and 6 lacs) might, in a very few years, be more than doubled.‡ The only portion of its produce which finds its way out of the Province is that taken by Binjaries by a track almost unknown, save to themselves, to the Eastern Coast, as described by Captain Saxton in his letter of the 21st March last.

* Note.—This is to be a 2nd class road, extending from Bishnoor on the Wurdah, towards Oomraotee, and running through Nagpoor, Bhundarra, and Raepoor, to the Junk Nuddee in the direction of Sumbulpoor and Cuttack.
The residents of Raepoor get their letters from Calcutta viâ Cuttack and Sumbulpoor. It is the "Old Raepoor Post Road."

† Arrangements are in progress for completing the communication between Raepoor and Jubbulpoor over the Rajahdhar or Chilpee Ghâts.

‡ Note.—The introduction of the Survey into the Raepoor District is most desirable. The extent of culturable land, that of the first quality, is reported to be very great, but with a little more than a nominal value for produce from the want of outlets. An improvement in the lines of communications should be simultaneous with a proper assessment on the land after survey. The produce of Chutteesgurh in distant markets would realize sums which would amply repay the Landholders for bringing the lands now waste under cultivation, whilst their extent with a liberal margin would greatly raise the present assessment. Nothing, however, can be attempted until the measurement of the lands can be effected.

This tract appears to deserve more attention than it has hitherto received. From Captain Saxton's account, indeed, its being at all passable is owing to the efforts of the Rajah of Kalahundy or Kharondh (a Dependency of this Province), and I purpose to invite him to meet me at Chanda during the ensuing cold season, with the other Chiefs and Talookdars under the jurisdiction of the Deputy Commissioner on the Godavery, and to endeavor to keep up his interest on this road by pointing out the advantages that must accrue not only to the District of Raepoor, but also to his own Estates, by its being established as a permanent line; at the same time, I would gladly have it in my power to assure him of funds being forthcoming to improve the line, and make it at once a good fair-weather road travellable at all seasons. In effecting this object the Rajah's co-operation and assistance may be turned to account. He would in his own Ilaqua obtain labor much cheaper than we could.

I have requested Captain Saxton to furnish me with a sketch map of the country through which this road passes, as well as with any further information he may possess regarding it, with a view, hereafter, of proposing its permanent construction (on such a scale as may be found necessary), after examination and survey, as a branch of the present Eastern line from Nagpoor through Raepoor to Sumbulpoor and Cuttack.

The road is clearly deserving of serious attention, not only as an outlet for the produce of the Raepoor District, but as an inlet for salt imported from the Coast in large quantities, and which will increase with the facilities for its transport. It appears to me also that this route would be better adapted for Troops moving between this Province and the Districts in the Madras Presidency on the Eastern Coast, than the more circuitous one now in use viâ Sumbulpoor, the ghât on which line is described as a very difficult one.

Note.—The Deputy Commissioner of Raepoor estimates the income from the tax recently imposed upon salt at a lakh of Rupees.

7. In conclusion I would solicit the favorable consideration of His Excellency in Council to the project explained in the 5th paragraph of this letter as a means of expediting, at no great cost, the transport, to the ports of shipment, of Cotton grown in the Chanda and Nagpoor Districts, in localities off the main lines of road, and yet at no great distance from them.

8. I would refer also to the concluding passage of the Chief Engineer's letter under transmission. Colonel Maxwell's opinion on the subject is in accordance with my own. If the parties most interested in the Cotton trade were to establish agencies in this part of the country, and introduce a proper system of pressing and packing, and create Establishments for providing the requisite carriage, the supply would very soon equal any demand that might be made. With improved communication and increased facilities for transport, this Province and the neighbouring Districts north and south would very soon produce any amount of Cotton which could possibly be required.

9. Annexed is a Table shewing the prices realized this year at Bombay for Cotton from Hingunghat, Oomraotee, and Arwee, including the cost of its transit from the places named.

From A. Ross, Esq., Superintendent of Survey and Settlement, to the Deputy Commissioner of Nagpore,—(dated the 3rd April 1861.)

With reference to the Notification lately issued by Government, and seen by me in the Newspapers, regarding the production and transport of Indian Cotton, I beg to hand you a Statement which I have had compiled from the Survey Khusrahs, showing the extent of Cotton cultivation in the several Pergunnahs of the Nagpore District.

2. I am afraid that observations from me, which your own superior local knowledge may render superfluous, will appear out of place; yet, as an accompaniment to the Skeleton Map forwarded herewith, showing the relative positions of the several Pergunnahs, I would remark that the great bulk of the Cotton-producing lands is in Pergunnahs lying on the eastern and southern confines of the District, and the produce therefore does not require long transport through it, whether the line of exit be to Bombay vid Berar, or to Madras vid the Godavery. Ashtee, the western portion of Anjee, Nachengaon, Undoree, and Pohna, are all in the flat open country constituting the valley of the Wurdah; while Pownar and Hingunghat also occupy a comparatively champaign tract. Katal, Kondhalee, and Kailjhur are the three largely producing Pergunnahs that most require improved means of intercommunication. Main roads run through all three, but the country is, as you are aware, hilly and difficult in the extreme. Anjee is also hilly to the east, but the ranges of hills form valleys traversable without much difficulty.

3. It will be seen that 2,81,214 acres, or 439 square miles, of the Nagpore District are under Cotton cultivation. My enquiries give two khundees as the produce of one "khundee" of land. I take the "khundee" to be a measure of eight acres, and the weighment of produce being made by the Cotton-seer of Rupees 24, the produce of one khundee or eight acres is 12 maunds by the seer of Rupees 80, or one maund and a half per acre. Of this produce one-fourth is Cotton wool and three-fourths seed, so that the produce of each acre may be estimated at 15 seers or 30 lbs., and the total yield of Cotton wool at 8,436,420 lbs. or 58,586 bales—a quantity nearly equal to one-thirtieth of the export from all India to Great Britain during the past year 1859-60.

4. What the proportion may be that has been retained for District consumption, and what exported, is ascertainable from the traders at the great marts of Hingunghat, Nachengaon, and Arwee: but if the entire produce were exported, it would give a traffic of 29,293 bullock loads, each of which, consisting of two bales, weighs 3 maunds 24 seers, or 288 lbs., or of 8,369 cart-loads, seven bales being ordinarily loaded on one two-bullock cart.

5. The cultivation of Cotton is of course capable of great extension. If you desire it, I shall supply a memorandum of the quantity of land in each Pergunnah adapted for Cotton cultivation, and I will be happy to furnish any other information that my Office can afford.

Statement shewing the extent of Cotton cultivation in the Pergunnahs of the Nagpore District.

Prices of Cotton at Bombay.

Description of Cotton.	Cost per lb. according to one account.	Cost per lb. according to another account.	Average cost per lb.
	As. D.	As. D.	As. D.
Hingunghat Cotton ...	3 or 4½	2 4/5	2 4/5 equiv. to 4½
Arwee and Oomraotee Cotton ...	2 1/4 or 4½	2 4/5 or 3½

One of the sources of information from which the above is derived gives the average price for this year, at Bombay, of Hingunghat Cotton, at Rupees 145 per load of 784 lbs., and of Arwee and Oomraotee Cotton at Rupees 138, for the same quality.

Another gives Rs. 140 per load of 864 lbs. as the average price of both descriptions.

In these sums is included the cost of transit to Bombay, which this year has risen from Rs. 24 to Rs. 42 for the quantity carried, while the Cotton itself at Hingunghat is stated to have advanced in price from Rs. 27 to Rs. 35 per bojah, or bullock load of 288lbs.

The facts are significant of the times.

From Lieutenant Colonel Yule, Secretary to the Government of India, Public Works Department, to Commissioner of Nagpore,—(dated 21st June 1861.)

In your letter dated 4th June, you propose to expend Rupees 75,000 in making District Roads as feeders to the main roads now under construction. You estimate that this sum will make 300 miles of such road, at the rate of Rupees 250 a mile; you propose to provide Rupees 25,000 from the Local Funds, and to put the work in the hands of the Local Committees, and you would place at the disposal of each of them a qualified Native Surveyor.

2. I am directed to say that the Local Funds are at your own disposal, to expend to any extent you may think desirable on the District Roads. The only regular source of supply for Native Surveyors is the Thomason College at Roorkee. You should place yourself in communication with the Principal, through your Chief Engineer or otherwise.

3. In the Orders of Government of the 1st April, No. 980A., authority was given to you to expend Rs. 100 per mile in improving the existing tracks of the Great Deccan Road to facilitate the export of Cotton. It was intended to make provision for this in the Budget, but the matter was overlooked in issuing the Budget orders. The amount would have been Rs. 10,000. I am directed to state that, to meet the sum available from Local Funds, you may draw this Rs. 10,000 from the extra lakh lately assigned to Nagpore, for the purpose of opening out feeders as you propose, and you may add to the contribution from the same source. But I am to request that you will report how much out of the lakh it will be expedient to take, bearing in mind that the addition of that lakh to your year's assignment was made chiefly in view to the more vigorous prosecution of the permanent trunk lines.

Extract of letter from G. PLOWDEN, Esq, Commissioner of Nagpore, to the Secretary to the Government of India, Foreign Department,—(dated 12th July 1859.)

* * * * * *

I take the opportunity of annexing an Extract of a Memorandum dated the 20th of March last, submitted to me by Mr. Stanbrough, a gentleman of the Medical profession, who was lately employed by the mercantile firm of Messrs. Livingston, Withers, & Co., of Calcutta, to purchase Cotton and other produce of the Province, for transmission to the East Coast by the Godavery.

I would not be understood as vouching for the absolute accuracy of Mr. Stanbrough's facts and opinions, but they are probably not far wrong, and carry weight, as emanating from a man who has a practical acquaintance with the subject.

Extract from a Memorandum dated the 20th March 1859, received from H. STANBROUGH, Esq.

MANY mistaken notions exist as to the resources of the Nagpore and Berar Provinces, especially as to the production of Cotton, and to the great stimulus as to cultivation and to commerce that would be given by the improvement of the means of communication. Good roads are of course an essential element in the prosperity and progress of the country, but neither good roads nor even railroads are a panacea for every evil; and in many parts of India where the population is scanty, and the surplus produce of small value, a large expenditure or costly means of communication would be merely wanton extravagance.

2. The very fact of a scheme having been recently promulgated, and pushed into notice by the usual process of public meetings and advertisements, both in England and in India, for a railway from Berar through the valley of the Godavery to the Eastern Coast, is one proof of the great ignorance of the true state and capabilities of this and the adjacent Provinces that exists at present.

3. The public are perhaps not aware that, from within a few miles of Rajahmundry to Chanda, 355 miles, there is not a town of any size the whole distance, and nothing but dense jungle, through which, for five months in the year, no Native travels on account of the fever, and the first cart of the season forms the "trac-road" for the remainder of the year; independently of this, the numerous nullahs and tributary streams of the Godavery River present too many obstacles to the construction of a railway.

4. For the last three years I have been a considerable purchaser of Cotton and other produce, chiefly in the neighbourhood of Hingunghat and Chanda, and, until the disturbances in the country commenced, I had made great progress in establishing a regular transit for goods by large boats down the Godavery to the Eastern Coast, and I have thus become well acquainted with these subjects, and especially with the cultivation and preparation for the British market of the great India raw material, Cotton, and with the details of its transport to and sale at the several shipping ports.

5. The value of East Indian Cotton is every day becoming enhanced in the English markets, and the importance of an increased production and supply of the raw material of our greatest British manufacture is liable to be much augmented, even so as to threaten some great national disaster, by either a war with the United States, or by civil war in that country, neither of which contingencies can be considered as highly improbable, when we observe its frequently wayward and petulant foreign policy, and the increasing bitterness of the dissensions between the Northern and Southern States, between the slaveholders and the abolitionists, even that still more terrible and calamitous event, a civil war, would not be a very surprising occurrence, and would of course put an end to all profitable cultivation and trade in the Southern States of America, for several years at least.

6. But in order to show how Indian Cotton, by a natural and ordinary process, has become more appreciated and demanded in the English markets, I need only mention that, in 1847, the exportation from India was 83,934,614 lbs., and in 1857, 250,338,140 lbs., an increase of two-thirds in ten years.

7. Great difficulties, however, still exist, which stand in the way of that enormous expansion of the East India Cotton trade that is required, before Great Britain can be in a practical degree independent of the supply from the United States.

8. Without taking into account the present imperfect means of communication, a very large increase of the cultivation of Cotton in the great producing Districts of Berar and Nagpore would at present be unprofitable, on account of the impossibility of procuring a sufficient number of hands to clean a much larger quantity of Cotton than is now grown. As it is, a large amount of Cotton is spoiled, as I shall explain, and either thrown away, or fraudulently packed, and sent to the ports, to the great loss of some of the parties engaged, and with the effect of discrediting and depreciating East India Cotton in general. The uncleaned Cotton cannot be sent at a profit to the ports, on account of its great bulk and weight, only one-third being Cotton and two-thirds seed and refuse. Although the process of cleaning Cotton, either by the Native or European machine, is not one requiring great skill, still some practice and care are required, and it cannot be carried on by agricultural laborers in addition to their ordinary work.

9. Cleaning Cotton by the Native method costs about five pice, or an anna and a quarter per maund (of 12 seers, about 23 lbs.) and one person cannot clean on an average more than one maund per diem. Women and children principally do this work in Berar and Nagpore, using the Native chuckee, formed by two rollers revolving on each other, and about 1½ inches in diameter, although some have one roller of wood, the other of iron of a less diameter, as used in the Upper Provinces.

10. To show the difficulty of rapidly increasing the production of marketable Cotton in India, from the above cause and from another, the necessity of a change of crops for two years on ground upon which Cotton has been grown, and of fresh ground every year for the Cotton crops, I may notice that, in 1856, Cotton was sold at Nagpore at 1¾*d.* per lb., and 180 millions of lbs. were exported from Bombay; in 1857 it had risen to 2½*d.*; an immensely increased breadth of land was planted with Cotton, and the exportation in that year rose to upwards of 250 millions of lbs. Then came the reaction; the cultivator could not reduce the breadth of land sown with wheat and cereals beyond a certain minimum, or, owing to the uncertain means of communication, they would have risked incurring a famine in their own Districts, and not having capital or cattle (which amounts to the same thing), to take up and clean new land, the cultivation of Cotton fell off, notwithstanding the rising price, to an immense extent; in 1857, the price I have said, was 2½*d.*, and the export 250 millions of lbs.; in 1858, the price had risen to 3½*d.*, and the export fell to 145 millions of lbs., literally because there was no Cotton in the Districts.

11. Besides the bad effect of the hasty and imperfect manner in which Cotton is now cleaned by the Natives in these Districts, the growers are compelled, from insufficiency of labor, to leave a very large proportion of their Cotton on the plants unpicked, in their anxiety to get a high price by being early in the market, the first Cotton of the season being of course almost certain of selling at a higher rate. They therefore begin by picking as much Cotton as they can put under cover, and clean by members of their own family. In the meantime a great part of the pods, remaining on the plants, fall to the ground, when the Cotton becomes spoiled by dust or by particles of the withered or fallen corolla or flower, which also, if the picking is long delayed, are blown about, and become so mixed and cohesive with the Cotton in the pods, that no subsequent efforts at cleaning can extract them, without the loss of 20 or 30 per cent, of the Cotton, so that the Cotton which has been in this way deteriorated by a mixture of dust and the withered flowers is almost unsaleable.

12. If, therefore, it should be considered by Government a desirable object to encourage and make practicable the increased production of saleable Cotton, suitable for English manufactory purposes, I would strongly recommend that His Lordship the Governor General should direct arrangements to be made for supplying a certain number of brush-gins or cleaning machines to the Local Authorities at Nagpore, and of the Berar Provinces, with a view to their use and construction being explained to the Natives. The staple of the Nagpore Cotton is fine, but too short to allow of the American saw-gin being employed, as it tears and shortens the fibre. The brush-gin is capable of cleaning six maunds (of 23 lbs.) a day, thoroughly, without drawing the staple; it is an inexpensive and easily constructed machine, can be worked by children, and is at once so simple and so effective, that I cannot doubt of its being very soon adopted extensively by the Natives within a very short period of its appearance in the District, if judicious steps were taken by the District Officers to make its construction and value widely known.

13. On another point connected with Cotton cultivation, I believe a very great misconception exists. I observe that the Commissioner of Scinde, when called upon by the Government of Bombay for information on the subject, stated that Cotton does not require irrigation. This to a certain extent is true, but Cotton requires a great deal of moisture, and my own experience teaches me that the yield of Cotton is greatly increased, and the quality improved, by irrigation at the proper season. The best Cotton in Nagpore is grown upon and in the neighbourhood of the Wurdah River, and of the Wuma, a rivulet running Southward into the Wurdah, and rising far to the North of Hingunghat, and the quality deteriorates the further the cultivation withdraws from the influence of the moist soil adjacent to the river bank. I myself tried an experiment upon a field of little more than eight acres, the ploughing and sowing being conducted in the ordinary local fashion; but as soon as the flower made its appearance, I commenced watering every evening, obtaining the water from the river by coolies. Although my field was surrounded by others sown with the same seed, my plants were nearly as big as currant bushes, produced at least three times the usual quantity of Cotton, and the staple was equally fine, but considerably longer, in fact nearly as long as the best Sea Island Cotton, which fetches the highest price in the English market. The Natives always look with great anxiety for rain when the flower-buds begin to open. Should the Madras Irrigation Company therefore extend its operations to the Cotton fields of Berar and Nagpore, a very wonderful change and improvement in both the quantity and quality of Indian Cotton may be expected.

* * * *

From the Deputy Commissioner, Raepore,—(dated the 5th June 1859.)

I HAVE the honor to forward such information regarding the Cotton plant of this District as I have been able to gather, together with the opinion of Mr. J. B. Williams, Overseer of the School of Industry, Jubbulpore, where much of it is used, as to the quality and usefulness in manufacture of the Raepore Cotton, which, coming from one so practically experienced and well able to judge of the raw products of this country, may be considered of value.

2. The soil on which Cotton is commonly grown in this District is black, soft, porous, and moist, of from one to two feet and more in depth, and of the description which yields wheat and the pulses; it is considered fertile.

3. The District is formed by the watershed of the Mahanuddy, whose numerous tributaries intersect it in all directions, rendering its natural drainage good; the surface is undulating, and the general level above the sea may be stated at from 1,500 to 2,000 feet. The soil alternates from red gravelly to black cotton soil, and a section of the underlying strata shows sandstone, clay, and limestone to be the prevailing order of rocks from the surface, sometimes one and sometimes another forming the basis of the subsoil.

4. There is no peculiarity to be observed in the climate further than the abundant and never-failing rains from June to October inclusive, to which, and to other causes, is attributable the limited produce of irrigation, which however is not extended to Cotton.

5. The seed is taken from indigenous plants reared in the District, and is not brought from other parts.

6. The plant is herbaceous.

7. Its average height is about three feet, with branches of not more than eight inches in length, and a distance of eighteen inches is left between each plant.

8. The root spreads latterly about six or eight inches, and descends to about the same depth.

9. The ground intended for the reception of the Cotton seed is prepared by five or six ploughings, the seeds are mixed with cow-dung allowed to dry a little, and then sown broad-cast by the hand. The sowing takes place in July, and the ground is hand-weeded three times during the growth of the plant, which flowers in the month of September. The pod ripens in October, and is picked from that month until December. One seer of seed Cotton yields about six of Cotton seed, from which, when ginned, is obtained one-fourth of raw Cotton.

10. Manure is not applied, but the stalks of the plant are allowed to decay on the ground.

11. The Cotton crop occasionally suffers from the heavy rains in the end of September, which cause the flowers to fall, and the plant is also subject to the ravages of two kinds of caterpillar.

12. In conclusion, I subjoin the following opinion of Mr. Williams regarding the quality of the Cotton produced in the Raepore District :—

He says, "the Cotton of the Raepore, District is a "good, strong, coarse fibre, admirably adapted for all "coarse cloths, and would answer for the finer textures "if gathered with more care. Instead of picking the "pods off the Cotton trees as they become ripe, the "Natives allow the Cotton to ripen and fall to the "ground, from whence they gather it up. By this "plan the Cotton becomes very dirty, and it is found "very difficult and troublesome to get the dirt from it "again, hence its uselessness at present for the finer "fabrics of cloth. If proper care was taken to gather "the Cotton from the tree its value would be enhanced "50 per cent."

From the Deputy Commissioner of Chanda,—(dated the 22nd March 1859.)

3. There are two descriptions of soil used for Cotton cultivation,—one the Kalee, or black; this is considered the best, most fertile, and retentive of moisture, and any description of crop can be grown upon it; the other is also Kalee, or second sort, and less retentive of moisture.

4. From June to August, at intervals of fifteen days, the ground is prepared by using the Buka, or large hoe, yoked to bullocks; about the end of August, sowing is commenced in drills, each seed one inch apart, and each drill one inch also distant from the other; the plants flower four months after the seed is sown; and the picking of Cotton commences in two months more, and lasts for a month.

5. Weeds are plentiful in both descriptions of soil, and are required to be cleared from two to four times during the growth of the plant.

6. The manure used is bullocks' and buffaloes', and 12 seers of seed sown on well-prepared ground will yield a return of 300 seers; if the ground is not manured the same quantity will only yield 84 seers.

From the Deputy Commissioner of Nagpore,—(dated the 20th September 1860.)

* * * * *

2. The soil upon which by far the greatest quantity of the Cotton of this Province is grown is that known all over India as the black Cotton soil. It is extremely light and naturally rich, and requires very little manure, and as a rule gets none. The poorer kind of soil in which Cotton is sometimes grown is a mixture of this with a greyish earth, and a quantity of limestone, and if this is situated near the village, it is sometimes manured.

3. The black soil or loam varies in depth from 1 foot to 20, and sometimes more; as a general rule it is not much infested with weeds.

4. The Cotton is sown in the commencement of the rains, immediately after the first fall, or from the middle of June to the middle of July, according to the season; it is occasionally planted in alternate rows with dall or toor, but mostly by itself; no artificial irrigation is employed; and, with the exception of running a plough through between the rows of plants to throw the earth up over the roots once when the plants have attained a few inches of growth, they are left to shift for themselves. The plant flowers in October or November, the picking commences in December, and goes on to the end of February or middle of March; in good seasons the produce will yield a return of from ten to twenty-fold, while in inferior soils it seldom yields more than from four to five, that is, supposing a maund weight of seed to be sown, the produce would be from ten to twenty maunds in good, and from four to five maunds in indifferent land; but of this, on cleaning the Cotton, three-fourths would be seed, so that for a maund of seed the produce in cleaned Cotton would only be, off the best land, from 2½ to 5 maunds.

5. The black soil, in which the best Cotton is grown, is the most fertile in India, and on it, in other localities, are produced, the finest wheat, toor, jowarie, and other dry crops; it seldom, as before mentioned, is manured, and does not seem to require much deepening. It is usually turned up to the depth of six or eight inches once or twice after the first showers in June, and then the seed is put down.

6 The seed used is that commonly produced in the country, and the character of the plant is herbaceous, and its average height may be put down at 36 inches, the spread of the branches being about 12 to 15; when the picking is over, cattle are turned in to graze on the leaves and more tender of the branches; and the stalks are in many places, where wood is not procurable near at hand, cut down and used by the poorer classes for fuel.

7. To the geological character of the District I am unable to speak. The main feature of the Cotton-growing portion of it is about 1,000 feet above the level of the Sea, and is naturally well drained.

8. The rains usually commence early in June, and continue, with one or two breaks of ten to fifteen days each, till the beginning of October. Irrigation is nowhere employed.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 17, 1861.

LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL OF INDIA.

ACT No. XVI OF 1861.

An Act for licensing and regulating Stage Carriages.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to license and to regulate Stage Carriages in British India; It is enacted as follows :—

Definition of Stage Carriage.

I. Every carriage drawn by one or more horses, which shall ordinarily be used for the purpose of conveying passengers for hire to or from any place in British India, shall, without regard to the form or construction of such carriage be deemed to be a Stage Carriage within the meaning of this Act. Provided that this Act shall not apply to carriages not ordinarily used for journies of a greater distance than twenty miles.

Grant of licenses.

II. No Carriage shall be used as a Stage Carriage unless licensed by a Magistrate or by the Chief Commissioner of Police of a Presidency Town.

Refusal of license.

III. The Magistrate or Chief Commissioner of Police, to whom the application for a license of a Stage Carriage is made, may refuse to license the same, if he shall be of opinion that such Stage Carriage is unserviceable or is unsafe or unfit for public accommodation or use. If a Magistrate or Chief Commissioner of Police as aforesaid shall grant a license, the license shall set forth the number thereof, the name and residence of the proprietor of the Stage Carriage, the place at which his Head Office is held, the largest number of passengers and the greatest weight of luggage to be carried in or on such carriage, the number of horses by which such carriage is to be drawn, and the name of the place at which such carriage is licensed.

Particulars of license.

Charge for and duration of license.

IV. For every such license there shall be paid by the proprietor of the Stage Carriage the sum of five Rupees, and such license shall be in force for one year from the date thereof. When a licensed Stage Carriage is transferred to a new proprietor within the year, the name of such new proprietor shall, on application to that effect, be substituted in the license for the name of the former proprietor, without any further payment for that year, and every person who appears by the license to be the proprietor, shall be deemed to be such proprietor for all the purposes of this Act.

Number of license, &c. to be painted on conspicuous part of carriage.

V. On any Stage Carriage, being licensed, the proprietor thereof shall cause the number of the license and all the other particulars of the license to be distinctly painted in the English language and character upon a conspicuous part of such Stage Carriage.

Penalty for letting carriage for hire without having the number, &c. painted on it.

VI. The proprietor of any licensed Stage Carriage, who shall let such Stage Carriage for hire without the particulars specified in Section III being painted on such Carriage in the manner directed in the last preceding Section, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding one hundred Rupees.

Penalty for letting for hire unlicensed carriage.

VII. Whoever lets for hire any Stage Carriage without the same being licensed as provided by this Act, shall be liable on a first conviction to a fine not exceeding one hundred Rupees, and on any subsequent conviction to a fine which may extend to five hundred Rupees.

VIII. Any proprietor or agent of a proprietor or any driver of a licensed Stage Carriage who knowingly permits such carriage to be drawn by a less number of horses, or who knowingly permits a larger number of passengers, or a greater weight of luggage to be carried by such Stage Carriage than shall be provided by the license, shall be liable on a first conviction to a fine not exceeding one hundred Rupees, and on any subsequent conviction to a fine which may extend to five hundred Rupees. In every case where such Stage Carriage shall be proved to have been drawn by a less number of horses or to have carried a larger number of passengers or a greater weight of luggage than shall be provided by the license, the proprietor of such carriage shall be held to have knowingly permitted such offence unless he shall prove that the offence was not committed with his connivance and that he had taken every reasonable precaution and had made reasonable provision to prevent the commission of the offence.

Penalty for carriage drawn by less number of animals or carrying a greater number of passengers, &c. than is provided by the license.

IX. Any person who shall cruelly beat, ill-treat, over-drive, abuse, torture, or cause or procure to be cruelly beaten, ill-treated, over-driven, abused, or tortured, any horse employed in drawing or harnessed to any Stage Carriage, or who shall harness to or drive in any Stage Carriage any horse which from sickness, age, wounds, or other cause is unfit to be driven in such Stage Carriage, shall for every such offence be liable to a fine not exceeding one hundred Rupees.

Penalty for ill-treating animals.

X. Any Magistrate or Chief Commissioner of Police within the local limits of whose jurisdiction any Stage Carriage shall ply or who has granted the license of any Stage Carriage, may cancel the license of such Stage Carriage if it shall appear to him that such Stage Carriage or any horse or any harness used with such carriage is unserviceable or unsafe or otherwise unfit for public accommodation or use.

Revocation of license.

XI. In any Station or place in which a Magistrate shall reside and be, any Police Officer may in any place within two miles of the office of such Magistrate, seize any Stage Carriage with the horse harnessed thereto, if the full particulars of the license of such Stage Carriage be not distinctly painted on such Stage Carriage in the manner provided in Section V of this Act. Such carriage with the horse harnessed thereto shall be taken without delay by such Police Officer before such Magistrate, who shall forthwith proceed to hear and determine the complaint of such Police Officer; and if thereupon any fine is imposed by such Magistrate and such fine is paid, such Stage Carriage and horse shall be immediately released; and if such fine be not paid, such Stage Carriage and horse may be detained for twenty days as security for the payment thereof; and if the fine be not sooner paid, they may be sold and the proceeds applied (so far as they extend) to the payment of the said fine, and all costs and charges incurred on account of the detention and sale; and the surplus (if any), when claimed, shall be paid to the proprietor of such Carriage and horse; and if such surplus be not claimed within a further period of two months from such sale, the same shall be forfeited to the State. If the proceeds of such sale do not fully pay the fine and costs and charges aforesaid, the balance may be recovered as hereinafter provided.

Penalty for not conforming to provisions of Section V.

XII. Preamble.

WHEREAS a large extent of land throughout the Bombay Presidency is enjoyed wholly or partially exempt from the payment of Land Revenue ; and whereas the Government has hitherto asserted its right of refusal to recognize the adoption of a son by the holder of exempt land, or any transfer of such land by sale or otherwise, as creating a title against the State for the continuance of such exemption ; and whereas it has now been deemed expedient to provide for the more speedy adjustment of such unsettled claims, and to forego such right of refusal in certain cases upon certain terms and conditions hereinafter described ; Be it and it is hereby enacted as follows :—

Under what circumstances Governor in Council may guarantee the continuance in perpetuity of their lands to holders.

I. Clause 1. When the holders of lands, except as is excepted in Clause 2 of this Section, held either wholly or partially exempt from the payment of Government Land Revenue, whose title to exemption has not yet been formally adjudicated, are willing to submit to the terms and conditions hereinafter described, in preference to being obliged to prove their title to the exemption enjoyed by them, it shall be lawful to the Governor in Council to finally authorize and guarantee the continuance in perpetuity of the said land to the said holders, their heirs and assigns, upon the said terms, and subject to the said conditions.

Exceptions.

Clause 2. The excepted cases to which the authority of adjustment and guarantee vested in the Governor in Council by the provision shall not extend, are the cases of lands held as follows :—

1*st*. Lands held under Treaty.

4*th*. Lands already formally adjudicated to be not continuable hereditarily, which shall be held upon the conditions, and in accordance with the terms laid down in such formal adjudication.

Effect of guarantee.

II. When the Governor in Council shall, under the 1st Clause of Section I of this Act, finally authorize and guarantee the continuance in perpetuity to the holders, their heirs and assigns, of lands wholly or partially exempt from the ordinary payment of annual Land Revenue, whose title to exemption has not already been formally adjudicated, and who have dispensed with an enquiry into such title, the said lands shall, subject to the enactments contained in Section III of this Act, be the heritable and transferable property of the said holders, their heirs and assigns, without restriction as to adoption, collateral succession, or transfer; and such lands shall thenceforth be continued in perpetuity, subject to the payment to Government of a fixed annual succession and transfer Nuzzerana, calculated at the rate of one anna for each Rupee of the assessment; and also to a quit-rent equal to one-fourth of the assessment, which assessment shall be ascertainable under the following Rules :—

Payment of quit-rent and annual Nuzzerana to Government; and rules for ascertaining assessment.

Rule 1. Provided no arrangement can be otherwise arrived at by the Collector or the owner, to ascertain the fair rental of the village.

Rule 2. The assessment of lands of such an exceptional character as not to be assessable under the Revenue Survey Rules, shall be in the discretion of the Revenue Officers of Government, which discretion shall be guided, so far as may be, by the rate at which similar land in the same District, belonging to Government, is let, due regard being had by the said Revenue Officers to all equitable consideration affecting such lands. Shares of the revenues of villages (such as Umuls) shall be assessed for the purposes of this Act, at the value thereof, calculated at the average shown by such accounts of actual realizations by the holders as are forthcoming for the ten years immediately preceding the promulgation of these Rules.

THE following Bill was read a second time in the Legislative Council of India on the 13th July 1861, and was referred to a Select Committee who are to report thereon after the 17th of October next:—

A Bill to provide for the construction, by Companies and by private persons, of Branch Railways, Iron Tram-roads, common roads, or canals, as feeders to Public Railways.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to make adequate provision by law for the construction, by Companies and by private persons, of Branch Railways, Iron or Tram-roads, common roads and canals, to serve as feeders to Public Railways, and to enable such Companies or private persons to take land required for the same with a view to the full development of the natural resources of the country, as well as to provide for the due regulation of such Branch Railways, Iron or Tram-roads, private roads, or canals, when constructed: as also to declare the rights of Public Railway Companies in lands so taken or lines so constructed; It is enacted as follows:—

Mode of application for land required for Branch Railway, &c.

I. Any person or Company who may desire, at his or at their own expense, to construct a Branch Railway, Iron or Tram-road, common road, or canal, leading to a line of Public Railway through lands belonging to other persons, may, by an application in writing addressed to the local Government, request that the land required for such Railway, Iron or Tram-road, common road, or canal, may be taken as for a public purpose under the provisions of Act VI of 1857. In such case the applicant or applicants shall, in his or their application, state the advantages to be derived from making such Railway, Iron or Tram-road, common road, or canal, the extent and general direction of the line, the proposed place of approach to, or of junction with, the Public Railway and the Terminus or place from which it proceeds, the estimated cost of construction, and the mode in which the applicants will provide the funds for the construction and working of the line of communication.

Local Government may grant provisional certificate authorizing entry on land, or may appoint an Officer to make the provisional survey.

II. If the local Government shall be satisfied as to the expediency of assisting the promoters in the constructing of the proposed line, and as to their means for constructing and working the same, it shall furnish the promoters with a provisional certificate, authorizing them in their own persons and in those of their local Officers, to be approved of by Government, to enter on the land for the purpose of surveying and of taking levels, and it shall be lawful for the promoters, in virtue of this said provisional certificate, to survey the land required and to indicate the intended line by recognizable land-marks, but not to cut down or injure any trees, growing wood, or crops, or otherwise to injure or destroy any property without the assent of the owner thereof; nor shall the promoters enter any house or enclosed premises without such assent. It shall also be competent for the local Government, should it see fit, to appoint one of its own Officers to make the proposed provisional survey.

III. If the local Government, after receiving the surveys, plans, and estimates for the construction of the works to be made on the certificate to be granted by the last Section, shall be further satisfied of the expediency of carrying out the works proposed, and of the sufficiency of the means of the promoters; it shall appoint one or more persons as a Commissioner or Commissioners to report finally on the proposal, and on any objections or suggestions that may be made by parties who have rights or interests in the land or who are in any way affected by the works proposed. Any legitimate expenses required for the deputation of such Commissioner or Commissioners may be demanded by Government from the promoters of the scheme.

Notification for the benefit of parties interested in the lands required.

IV. The Commissioner or Commissioners appointed as aforesaid shall publish a notification in the Government Gazette, embodying the description of the proposed line as given in the application, setting forth the names of the promoters, and intimating his or their purpose to inspect and report upon the proposed line, and the Commissioner or Commissioners shall require any person who may have any rights or interests in the lands to be taken or whose interests are affected, directly or indirectly by the construction of the line, to make any objections which he may have to make thereto, within one month from the publication of the notification. The notification, besides being made in the Government Gazette, shall be published at the principal Civil Court of the District or Districts concerned, at the Courts of the local Magistrates, at the head Police Station, within the jurisdiction of which any portion of the proposed line is situated, and also at a conspicuous place in each bazar or Haut through or in the immediate vicinity of which the proposed line may run.

Objections how to be preferred to the construction of the proposed line, &c.

V. It shall be lawful for any person, whom the Commissioner or Commissioners may decide to have a claim to be heard, to state in writing to the Commissioner or Commissioners, within the time fixed as aforesaid, any objections which such person may entertain to the construction of the proposed line, and to make any representation which he may think fit as to varying the direction of the line or otherwise. If it be proposed to vary the direction of the line, the objector shall be bound to describe the particular direction of the variation proposed, and it shall be competent to the Commissioner or Commissioners to notify the variation proposed to all parties having rights or interests in the lands affected by such deviation, and to empower the promoters to mark out the line with all such proposed variations with recognizable land marks, and to permit them to enter upon the lands to be so taken under a notification as provided for by Section II of this Act. Any person obstructing the definition of the line shall be cautioned to desist, and if the obstruction be continued, the obstructor shall be liable to a fine of one hundred Rupees for each offence.

VI. On the expiration of a period of not less than one month from the publication of all the notifications prescribed in Section IV, the Commissioner or Commissioners shall proceed to inspect the proposed line, as well as the proposed variations, or any other line which may be duly represented to the Commissioner or Commissioners to be more advantageous to the Public; and it shall be the duty of the Commissioner or Commissioners, on completing this inspection, and after making such enquiries as may appear necessary, to submit a report on the whole subject for the orders of the local Government.

Objections or proposals by Public Railway Company.

VII. Before the land is ordered to be taken as provided in the next following Section, the local Government shall furnish a copy of the application made to the Public Railway Company interested; and this Railway Company shall have access to the surveys and plans, and to the report of the Commissioner or Commissioners, and it shall be competent to this Railway Company to state any objection they may entertain to making, at their own expense, the necessary sidings, wharves, or godowns for the reception of the traffic brought to their line of Railway by the new line; and if the new line, such being a Railway Branch, is to be of the same guage as that of the Public line of Railway, and is to form a junction with it, the Public Railway Company shall state any objections they may entertain in any manner to the execution of the branch line, and shall propose conditions for the subsequent working of the same, so that the communication with the main line may be effected with safety to the public, without injury to the Public Railway, and without detriment to the traffic thereon.

Issue of final certificate by local Government, authorizing construction of the work, &c.

VIII. On consideration of the whole project of the promoters, of the report of the Commissioner or Comissioners, and of any objections or proposals made by the Public Railway Company interested, it shall be lawful for the local Government to declare the undertaking to be a public work, and to issue a final certificate to the promoters authorizing the construction of the work; and it shall be competent for the local Government to direct the land to be taken under the provisions of Act VI of 1857, and to require the Collector of the District or other Officer to be specially appointed, to take measures for the acquisition of the land, as provided in the Sections of that Act: provided that the local Government shall satisfy itself before making such order that the promoters of the line have deposited, or have given sufficient security for depositing when required, such sums as may be awarded to persons having rights or interests in the land so taken. The compensation awarded shall be paid by the Collector or other Officer as directed in Section XXVII of the Act aforesaid. The land so taken may include land required for stations and other necessary buildings and for the accommodation of Passengers and Goods.

Branch Railway, &c., to be available to the public.

IX. Every Branch Railway, Iron or Tram-road, common road, or canal, for the construction of which land shall be taken by the order of the Local Government under this Act, shall be available to the Public for the conveyance of passengers and goods by such vehicles or means of communication as are ordinarily employed on the line by the promoters thereof, and are not inconsistent with its scope and object; and the owners of the same shall be bound and may be directed by the local Government, to supply and use such means of locomotion, as, regard being had to the purposes for which the line was formed, may be adequate to the public wants, and such owners or lessees or such other persons as may enter into a contract or contracts for the conveyance of passengers or of goods or of both, may demand from the public fares not exceeding rates laid down in a certificate to be approved by the local Government.

Line may also be made available to other than owners or lessees for conveyance of goods by the carriages and engines of such other persons.

X. With the sanction or under the direction of the local Government every such line may also be made available to other persons than the owners or lessees for the conveyance of goods along the line by the carriages, engines, vehicles, or means of transport, of such other persons, such being of the same description as are used by the owners or lessees of the line, upon payment of toll determined from time to time by such owners or lessees, and not exceeding such rates as may be approved by the local Government: provided that such carriages, engines, vehicles, or means of transport, shall appear to the owners or lessees of the line to be properly constructed and to be in serviceable condition, and that the employments thereof shall be subject to such rules as such owners or lessees, with the sanction of the local Government, may frame; and in the event of the line being a Branch Railway of the same gauge as or forming a junction with the main public line, subject to such rules as by this Act apply to engines and carriages of the private Company communicating with the main Railway and the traffic carried on therewith.

Penalty for Branch Railway levying unauthorized tolls.

XI. If the owners or lessees of any such Branch Railway, Iron or Tram-road, common road or canal, or any persons entitled to convey Passengers or Goods thereon, shall levy or attempt to levy for the conveyance of Passengers or Goods or for the passage of carriages, engines, or vehicles of transport, any rates of toll or other charges higher than those approved by the local Government, such owner or other persons so offending shall, for each offence, be liable to a penalty of fifty Rupees for each carriage, engine, or vehicle of transport so employed, on conviction before a Magistrate, and if such owners or lessees shall not supply suitable means of transport for the conveyance of Passengers and Goods in such manner, and within such time as may be directed by the local Government, they shall severally be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred Rupees a day, on proof of such default before a Magistrate.

And for not supplying suitable means of transport.

Construction of Bridges, Tunnels, &c.

XII. The local Government may at any time, during the construction of a private Railway, Iron or Tram-road, common road or canal, for which land has been taken under this Act, direct the promoters to construct along the line of their undertaking such bridges, tunnels, drains, or other works as may be necessary to continue to the public any roads or rights of ways or easements heretofore available, and to make due provision for the drainage of the country, if impeded by the construction of the Railway; and failing compliance with such orders the local Government may direct the progress of the work to be discontinued.

When local Government may order junction between the main and branch line.

XIII. If, in any case, the Public Railway Company shall not agree to effect the junction between their main line of Railway and a branch line of Railway proposed by promoters under this Act, to be of the same guage as the main Railway, it shall be lawful for the local Government, on the application of such promoters, and on being satisfied that the communication may be made with safety to the public, and without injury to the main Railway, and without detriment to the traffic thereon, to direct the Public Railway Company to form the junction, and to lay down such additional lines of side rails, points, and crossings, as may be necessary for effecting the communication applied for, provided that the expense of forming such junction and laying down the additional lines of rails, &c., and of keeping in repair or renewing the same, shall be paid by the promoters of the Branch Railway, who shall pay or give security for paying the sum that may be decided, for the purposes aforesaid, at any time when required by the local Government: provided also that it shall be lawful to the local Government at any time to suspend or withdraw the directions given for effecting a junction between a Public Railway and a branch line, if it appears that such communication is likely to prove dangerous to the public or injurious to the main Railway or detrimental to the traffic thereon.

Appointment of Inspector.

XIV. The local Government may appoint any person to inspect any Branch Railway, Iron or Tram-road, common road or canal, for the construction of which land shall be taken by virtue of this Act by the order of the local Government, and to inspect any engines and carriages or vehicles of transport belonging thereto that may be used for the conveyance of passengers; and whoever shall obstruct any such Inspector in the execution of his duty shall, on conviction before a Magistrate, be liable to be fined in any sum not exceeding one hundred Rupees, in addition to any punishment to which he may be liable for any offences committed by him.

Penalty for obstructing Inspector.

Local Government may, on report of Inspector, order the traffic along the branch line to be discontinued.

XV. If it appear to the local Government upon the report of such Inspector that by reason of the incompleteness or insufficiency of the line, traffic cannot be carried on without danger to the public using the same, or if it appear to the local Government that rules adequate to the protection of the public under the provisions of this Act have not been framed and put in force, it shall be lawful to the local Government, by notice published at any place on or adjacent to the branch line, to require the traffic to be discontinued; and any person or Company who, after such notice, shall use any engine or carriage for the purpose of traffic, shall be liable, on conviction before a Magistrate, to be fined two hundred Rupees for every day during which such engine or carriage shall be used.

Act XVIII of 1854 applicable to Branch Railways.

XVI. The provisions of Act XVIII of 1854 shall apply to Branch Railways for which land shall be taken under Act VI of 1857 and by virtue of this Act.

Saving of right to mines in land taken for the Railway.

XVII. Whenever, before or after the passing of this Act, land shall have been taken under Act VI of 1857 for the construction of any Branch Railway, Iron or Tram-road, common road or canal, the taking thereof shall not be held to convey or include the right to any mines of coal or other minerals lying under such land, except only such parts thereof as shall be necessary to be dug or carried away or used in the construction of the works, unless compensation for the same shall have been expressly allowed in the award made in favor of the persons interested in the land.

Working of mines included in the land taken for the Railway.

XVIII. If any persons owning or occupying mines of coal or other mineral lying immediately under any Railway or within forty yards therefrom shall work the same, it shall be competent to the local Government, on the application of the Railway Company or proprietor, to require the owner or occupier of the mine to work the same so as not to endamage the Railway and to construct the works necessary to make safe the Railway: provided that compensation shall be awarded to such owner or occupier, in the manner provided in Act VI of 1857, for any loss sustained by him from the mode of working indicated, and also for the works constructed by him to make safe the Railway.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT.

No. 51.

From the Board of Audit,

To C. H. Lushington, Esq,

Secy. to the Govt. of India
in the Financial Department.

Sir,—We have the honor to solicit the consideration and orders of Government in regard to a difficulty that has arisen respecting the commencement of the expenditure out of the Budget Grants.

2. The Annual Financial Returns have hitherto included the actual payments from 1st May to 30th April, as the expenditure of the year, and the payments on account of the fixed charges (pay and allowances) for April payable in May, have been included in the year in which they are payable, and not in the preceding year in which the service is rendered. On this principle, the payment of fixed charges out of the Budget Grants for 1861-62 will commence with the allowances for April payable in May, and close with the allowances for March payable in April.

3. On the other hand, it may be stated that, although payable in May, yet the pay and allowances being for April, they belong to the service of the previous year, and the payments out of the Budget Grants should, therefore, commence with the pay and allowances for May payable in June, and the year will then close with the fixed charges for April payable in May. The Military Estimates for 1861-62 have been prepared on this principle.

4. After full discussion and consideration of the subject, it appears to us, for various reasons, chiefly the inconvenience of disturbing existing practice and the importance of establishing from the commencement a correspondence between the year of the Grant and the Financial year of the Government, that it may probably be ruled that the charges to be paid out of the Budget Grants should be those falling due within the Financial or Official year, commencing on the 1st May and closing on the 30th April. The pay and allowances for April fall due in May, and the payments out of the Grants will therefore commence with these disbursements, and not with those for May falling due in June. The Grants will thus represent the actual demands that fall due, and may be made, on the Government from the 1st May to the 30th April. The payments out of the Grants will be chiefly within the same period, though not exclusively, as the currency of the Grants has been extended by Government to the close of the following Official year; but the payments during the second year will be confined to the liabilities of the Government up to 30th April of the year of Estimate and Account, the pay and allowances for April being a portion of the liabilities or demands of the succeeding year.

5. The only point on which the orders of Government are necessary is in respect of the difference that may arise between the amount of actual Military Disbursements and the Estimates, the latter having been based on the probable disbursements of fixed charges from June 1861 to May 1862; while, under the above ruling, the actual disbursements from May 1861 to April 1862 will be placed against the Grants, and this may lead to an apparent excess of the disbursements over the Grants, inasmuch as the fixed charges payable on account of April 1861 are likely to be greater than those payable on account of April 1862. This may cause an apparent increase in the Military charges of the year, but will not affect the actual expenditure from 1st May to 30th April, which will remain the same under either of the methods of Audit and Account adverted to above. We have accordingly to solicit that authority may be granted to the appropriation Auditors to admit any difference that may arise solely from this cause between the Budget Grants for the year and the sums placed against those Grants on account of the liabilities of the Military Department up to the 30th April next.

6. We beg leave to remark, in conclusion, that the difficulty which has occasioned the present reference will not occur again, as the Military Estimates will, in future years, be drawn out in accordance with the views of the Board.

We have, &c.,

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT.

Fort William, the 27th June 1861.

His Excellency in Council also desires that the sum to be added to the Budget Grant of 1861-62 in the Military Department, under the orders now issued, be ascertained and reported to this Department, when further orders with respect to it will be passed.

TO HIS EXCELLENCY THE RIGHT HON'BLE THE GOVERNOR GENERAL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

MY LORD,—The Civil Servants of the Madras Establishment having represented that a large number of their body have qualified for Annuities from the Civil Service Annuity Fund, but that, under the existing Rules, many years must elapse before they can succeed to Annuities, I forward, for your information, copy of a Financial Despatch* which I have addressed to the Government of Madras on the subject, authorizing the grant to subscribers, qualified by service and residence in India for Annuities, the option of resigning the Service and of drawing an allowance of £500 per annum, until they shall be entitled in turn to Annuities to the full amount of their subscriptions, added to an Annuity of £500; and I authorize the grant of the same indulgence to the Members of the Bengal and Bombay Civil Service Annuity Funds in the event of their being similarly situated.

PARA. 9.—At the same time I admit that the circumstances reported by the Memorialists call for some remedy, and I consider that the most suitable mode of meeting the present excess in the number of claimants of Annuities will be to allow to Civil Servants who have completed the prescribed period of twenty-five years' service, and twenty-two years' residence, the option of retiring immediately on £500 per annum, that amount being the portion of the Annuity granted by the Government, they subsequently receiving in turn the full amount of Annuity to which their subscriptions may entitle them.

No. 619 of 1861.—The following Resolution is published for general information and guidance :—

Military Department, the 16th July 1861.

RESOLUTION.—It is the earnest desire of the Government of India to close the Imperial Accounts for the Official year 1860-61, and preceding years, within the shortest possible time; and to that end it is necessary that all outstandings and arrear accounts of all the Military Departments of the Government should be quickly brought up and audited.

2. The Military Finance Department have reported to Government that the several Examiners are prepared promptly to audit all arrear accounts, and Government now declare that all such accounts must be disposed of finally by the end of the month of September of the present year, in order that the General Books for the preceding Official year may be closed at the latest by the end of October.

3. No further delay or deviation from this order will, under any circumstances, be allowed, and Heads of Administrative Departments will, therefore, instruct their Executive Officers promptly to complete and forward all arrear accounts for audit, informing them that the most stringent measures will now be adopted to ensure compliance with these instructions.

4. Heads of Administrative Departments are desired to forward, immediately, Statements of the amounts required for payment of arrears incurred in former years, these Statements comprising and shewing distinctly all the unsettled payments of each range of every Department.

5. Government wish it to be henceforward understood that any arrear in accounts is a grave irregularity, preventing the exercise of any effective control over expenditure; and that all accounts will in future be required to be sent in the very day they are due, failing which a distinct explanation of the cause of delay must be given.

6. The Military Finance Department being charged, under the general supervision of the Government of India, with a general control over all Departments connected with Military Expenditure, as intimated in the Government Resolutions of 6th July and 16th November 1860, and in General Order by the Governor General No. 171 of 4th March 1861, it is directed that the orders and instructions of that Department, connected with Military Finance, be received with the same attention as those emanating from the Departments of Government. All complaints or appeals that Administrative Officers may find it necessary to make against the orders or instructions of the Military Finance Department are to be forwarded through that Department, in order to give the President of the Military Finance Department an opportunity of submitting to Government detailed reasons in support of the orders or instructions appealed against, and any similar appeals made by the Officers attached immediately to the Military Finance Department are to be submitted through the Controllers of Military Finance.

7. The Military Finance Department are charged with the duty of issuing the subsidiary orders necessary for enforcing the injunctions contained in this Resolution.

Notice.

UNDER Notification of the Board of Audit, dated 1st May last, Transfer Receipts have been substituted for negotiable Bills of Exchange, for purposes of Privilege or Public Service Remittance.

In many Treasuries, however, especially in Bengal, the practice has become prevalent of granting Bills to private individuals, under Paragraph 69 of the Bill Rules, and the unexpected cessation of this accommodation is represented to have caused much serious and unnecessary inconvenience.

In temporary modification, therefore, of recent instructions, Treasury Officers are informed that they may continue to act upon Paragraph 69 of the Bill Rules wherever they have heretofore been in the habit of doing so, but not otherwise, granting Transfer Receipts on the General Treasury only in lieu of Bills of Exchange for cash for small sums, at their discretion, and at one per cent. premium.

It is at the same time notified, for general information, that this accommodation will be withdrawn so soon as the Act for the introduction of a Government Paper Currency shall have become Law, or at furthest on the 1st January next.

The 16th July 1861.

Notification.

THE change in the form of Service and Privilege Remittance documents having been misunderstood in some quarters, it is hereby Notified, under instructions from the Auditor General, to all Treasury Officers, that the change from Bills of Exchange to Transfer Receipts is principally one of form, and that the Rules prescribed for their guidance in the issue of Bills of Exchange should guide them, as far as they may be found applicable, in the issue of the Transfer Receipts, both Service and Privilege. The only material exception is in respect to Military Privilege Remittances, which should be made by Paymasters only on the issue of pay, and on a requisition sent to the Paymaster with the Monthly Abstract of the Corps, as mentioned in Rule IX. of the Notification of the Board of Audit, dated 1st May last.

2. Exceptional cases, such as those described in paragraph 62 of the Bill Rules, quoted in the margin, may continue to be provided for as therein directed, the privilege Transfer Receipt only being substituted for the Bill of Exchange.

62, Bills may also be issued for Cash in the following exceptional cases, first, to European Commissioned Officers for the amount sale of a Bungalow to either vendor or purchaser, which must be specifically stated in the application; secondly, to Regiments, or a Committee of Officers, for Mess, or other Regimental purposes, the application being accompanied by a Certificate from the Commanding Officer that the required remittance is bonâ fide for the purpose stated; thirdly, an Officer suddenly leaving a Station is entitled to a Bill on the Station to which he is proceeding for an amount equal to his Monthly Pay and Allowances.

3. In cases of loss of the originals, the provisions of the Bill Rules for seconds may be followed as far as applicable, but as the Receipts are not negotiable, there seems to be no reason for requiring a Non-payment Certificate before the issue of a Duplicate, which may at all times be granted on sufficient cause shewn, without further precaution than that the fact of their being Duplicates may always clearly appear upon the face of them.

4. The form of Transfer Receipt prescribed in Rule V. of the Notification of the Board of Audit above mentioned should be employed for the Privilege Remittances of Warrant Officers and Soldiers of the European Army, and the form for Sepoys' Remittances for those of Commissioned Native Officers, as heretofore.

H. SANDEMAN,
Civil Paymaster.

CIVIL PAYMASTER'S OFFICE,
The 13th July 1861.

Notice

THE Officiating Superintendent of Stationery, with reference to para. 6th, No. IV., of his Circular No. 800, dated the 8th March last, restricting the cost of Preparation of Ink, has the honor to draw the attention of those Officers, who may experience any difficulty in complying with that requisition, to the following letter from the Collector of Customs, Sirsa, to recommend generally the adoption of that Officer's plan.

It is necessary only to add, that the Ink used by Mr Jones appears to be quite equal to that made from the Ink Powder issued from this Office, and converted into fluid Ink at a cost never less and frequently four and five times as great as that incurred in the Preparation recommended.

E. W. PERRY,
Offg. Superintendent.

No. 58 of 1861.

FROM G. M. JONES, ESQ.,
Collector of Customs,
Sirsa,

To E. W. PERRY, ESQ.,
Superintendent of Stationery,
Calcutta.

Dated Sirsa, the 28th June 1861.

SIR,—WHEN I received your Circular* of instructions, directing economy, and informing me that in future no vinegar of a higher price than four annas per bottle should be purchased for making Ink, I determined on preparing some here, after a receipt I found in Mitchel's Encyclopædia. I have had it copied out, and send a copy for your perusal, and should you consider it advisable for circulation.

* No. 800, dated 8th April 1861.

2nd. I am at present using Ink made after that formula, and you can judge from it of its quality.

3rd. There are two advantages in this Preparation —superior quality and its cheapness.

4th. The cost of preparation here comes to, exclusive of bottle and cork, three annas and three pie per quart bottle.

5th. The Sulphate of Iron, procurable here, is very impure, yet it answers; but where good Crystals are obtainable I have no doubt the Ink would be much darker. My duftery prepares it, and as all large Offices have one or more dufteries, they could make a stock which would last for a month or more, as desirable.

6th. In future it is not my intention to indent for any Black Ink, as the cost of preparing a quart bottle is less than you allow for a bottle of vinegar, and we cannot get it here for double that amount.

7th. As I shall have to enter the expenditure in the Quarterly Bills, I have thought it as well to send you this explanation.

I have, &c.,
(Sd.) G. M. JONES,
Collector.

DIRECTION FOR THE COMPOSITION OF GOOD INK.

Take eight ounces of Aleppo Galls (in coarse powder); four ounces of Logwood (in thin chips); four ounces of Sulphate of Iron; three ounces of Gum Arabic (in powder); one ounce of Sulphate of Copper; and one ounce of Sugarcandy. Boil the Gall and Logwood together in twelve pounds of water for one hour, or till half the liquid has evaporated. Strain the decoction through a hair sieve or linen cloth, and then add the other ingredients; stir the mixture till the whole is dissolved, more especially the Gum; after which leave it to subside for twenty-four hours. Then decant the Ink, and preserve it in bottles of glass or stoneware, well corked.

(Sd.) G. M. JONES,
Collector of Customs, Sirsa.

Supply of Indian Cotton to England.

From H. M. REID, Esq., Commissioner of the Rajshahye Division, to the Secretary to the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces,—(No. 65, dated the 19th June 1861.)

SIR,—IN continuation of my letter No. 286 of the 18th March last, I have the honor to submit, in original, a letter from the Collector of Bograh, No. 143, dated the 25th April, and extract, paragraphs 3 to 6, of a letter from the Collector of Maldah, No. 10, dated the 6th ultimo, on the subject of the cultivation of Cotton in those Districts.

2. It will be observed that in neither District is there at present any extensive cultivation of the plant; but the Collector of Bograh is of opinion that the soil of his District is in many parts admirably adapted for it, and I think it might be worth while if further enquiries were instituted on the subject by some gentleman acquainted with the mode of cultivation and the kind of soil required to carry it on in a successful manner. The Collector of Maldah, it will be seen, quotes the authority of Dr. Buchanan to shew that there was formerly 25,000 beegahs of Cotton cultivation in the District of Dinagepore, which, at that time, included a considerable portion of the present District of Maldah; and he further points out that there is a tract of country called the Barun, extending for a considerable distance through the Districts of Maldah, Dinagepore, and Rajshahye, and which consists of rising ground, with intermediate valleys running parallel to the River Puddah, which appears to him to be in many ways situated for Cotton cultivation. Enquiries might, I think, with advantage, be instituted in this direction also. The present extent of the cultivation is too small and scattered in those Districts, where it exists at all, to admit of my making any suggestions for the construction of Roads to facilitate the transport of the material when produced, or to enhance, by the introduction of machinery and foreign labor, the extent of the cultivation itself.

3. The replies received from the remaining Collectors do not contain anything of importance, and in none of those Districts would the extent of the cultivation appear to be in excess of what it was in 1857.

From T. P. LARKINS, Esq., Officiating Collector of Bograh, to the Commissioner of the Rajshahye Division,—(No. 143, dated the 25th April 1861.)

SIR,—I HAVE the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your Office Memorandum No. 138, with enclosures, on the subject of Cotton cultivation in this District, and in reply to state as follows:—

2. The soil of Bograh is, as you are perhaps aware, in every way suited for the cultivation of Cotton to any extent in at least two-thirds of the District.

3. The land abounds in high artificial Islands (if they may be so designated) upon which the Mulberry Tree used to be cultivated in former times to a large extent, and all of which would now be available for the cultivation of Cotton.

4. From enquiries made from some of the old cultivators, I find that the Ryots are in general willing to cultivate Cotton to the fullest extent, as it is the most profitable of all country produce; but as they can find no market for the sale thereof, they have discontinued its cultivation entirely. They would wish, however, to cultivate for, and receive advances from, the Government, so as to ensure payment for their outlay; but this being contrary to the maxims laid down by His Excellency the Governor General, in his Resolution now under acknowledgment, I can of course hold out no such hopes to them.

5. Were some enterprizing European to settle down here and make advances for Cotton, I doubt not but that he would be amply repaid.

6. Another question that naturally arises is the supply of seed, there not being a quantity in the District sufficient to sow the vast extent of land that could be cultivated. Government, I presume, would not refuse the supply of the seed, in order to facilitate an immediate increase in the production of Cotton.

7. Otherwise I suppose the seed could be supplied by the Manchester Supply Committee.

8. The sowing commences in the month of October, so that there might be a large production of Cotton during the next season should the Ryots be supplied with a sufficient quantity of seed.

9. On referring to the reply to the Board's Circular No. 28 of 1857, I find an entry of only fifty acres of land under Cotton cultivation; but this, I imagine, is considerably under the mark. In that letter also there is an entry of 1,500 acres of land under Mulberry cultivation. This might be added to the former number, giving an extent of 2,000 acres available for Cotton, but this is, I think, incorrect. Even allowing that this were the amount that could be brought under cultivation, and allowing that a good crop will yield eight maunds per beegah, we should be able to produce in Bograh alone 52,000 maunds of Cotton, uncleaned, but I would hope for even more.

10. With reference to the different parts of the District in which Cotton is still cultured to a small extent, and the expense of cultivation, I have gathered the following information :—

1*st*. In Thannah Gobindgunge the culture could, I imagine, be very extensive. From enquiry it would appear that each beegah produces maunds 2-10-8 when intermixed with Turmeric. With the little that is cultivated, some planters weave their own cloth and others sell the Cotton at 5 or 6 pice the seer. The rent of Cotton land is Rupee 1-4 or 1-8, and the cost of cultivation is said to be Rupee 1-8 or 1-12 per beegah. The sale of the produce of one beegah would, therefore, fetch Rupees 8-7, while the cost of one beegah land and that of cultivation would be Rupees 3-4, leaving a clear profit to the Ryot of Rupees 5-3 per beegah.

2*nd*. In Thannah Bograh I find, from enquiry, that Cotton called "Bunga" is cultivated; that the rent of the land is Rupee 1-12 or Rupees 2, and that one beegah yields thirty or thirty-five seers, and the Cotton sold at about 5 pice the seer. This though I think must be rather a matter of guess work, as I can scarcely believe the profits can be so small.

The Districts of Nokillah and Raegunge are too low for the cultivation of Cotton. In Sherepore it is not cultivated now to any extent, but used to be formerly, it is said, at a cost of Rupees 5 per beegah. It is also grown in Sheebgunge and sold at 5 or 6 pice per seer.

Adomdighee would, I think, from all I can hear, be, together with Budlegatchee, the two best Districts for the cultivation of Cotton. In both of these Cotton is cultivated, but I have no information as to the cost of cultivation, &c., on which I can place any reliance. In Adomdighee, I am told, the expense of cultivation to be greater than the value of the produce, and that one beegah never yields more than ten or twelve seers, and that it sells at 5 Rupees per maund. Cotton is slightly cultivated in Lall Bazar, and Cotton is brought to Hillee from Chilmaree and sold at Rupees 5 per maund of sixty tolahs.

11. I am of opinion that we may take Gobindgunge as the basis upon which we may found some idea of the expense of cultivation and value of produce of Cotton in the District, as I am convinced, from what I hear, that it is a source of even greater profit to the Ryot, wherever cultivated, than Rupees 5-3 per beegah.

12. I need not say how glad I should be were some gentleman connected with the Commercial Community deputed to enquire into the capabilities Bograh affords for the cultivation of Cotton.

13. As regards the means of bringing the produce to port—

The Thannah of Nokillah is situated close to the banks of the River Dowkova, up to which there is at present a Road, which is shut during the rains, but open after the month of January until the setting in of the rains.

Nokillah is about thirty miles north of Serajgunge, and on the direct route taken by all Steamers proceeding to Assam. The nearest port of shipment then for Cotton from Bograh would be Nokillah, at which place the Steamers returning from Assam might anchor and ship the Cotton. The Road to Nokillah should likewise be put in complete repair so as to be capable of traffic throughout the year. As it would require a Road raised above the inundation, the cost would perhaps be somewhat large, but by establishing a Toll, any expense would in time be covered by collections.

Nokillah is about twelve miles from Bograh, due east. The Road required would be from Bograh to Adomdighee and Budlegatchee, both of which at present are out of repair. It is my intention to include these three Roads in the next year's Sketch for repairs of Roads under the Ferry Funds. There is an excellent Road from Bograh to Gobindgunge.

Thus, then, Bograh would be the Central Mart, and from it the Cotton would be transmitted with ease to Nokillah.

Should it be your wish I will at once send in a rough Estimate of the probable cost of the above-mentioned three Roads.

I regret that the delay caused in obtaining information concerning the culture of Cotton has caused me to be rather longer in replying to your Memorandum than I should have wished.

Extract from a letter from the Collector of Maldah, to the Commissioner of the Rajshahye Division,—(No. 10, dated the 6th May 1861.)

PARA. 3.—Having noticed in Dr. Buchanan's (Hamilton) Historical description of Dinagepore (of which this District then formed a part) that the Cotton cultivation extended over 25,000 beegahs, I felt sure that in some portion of the District the cultivation might be still carried on, and, when travelling in the District, I made a point of searching for individual plants; but, with the exception of one near Sola Factory, I failed to find any trace of it, nor had the people any recollection of such a crop ever having been general.

4. The only place in the neighbourhood of this District where Cotton has lately been grown was a spot near Parbuttypore, where I learn from Mr. Peter MacArthur that certain lands in the Dinagepore District were sown with Cotton, and that the plant apparently flourished, but that, owing to the Mehal being over-assessed, the place was deserted and the plants went into jungle.

5. Ignorant of the peculiar soil necessary for the Cotton plant, I cannot, with any confidence, make the suggestion, but if a stiff clay soil with facilities for irrigation is what is required, the whole of the high ridge of country commonly called the "Burno" extending from near Rajshahye along the eastern portion of this District, and on through Dinagepore, appears to promise a good field for Cotton. It is at least a sufficiently likely line of country and would warrant a visit from those interested in the cultivation.

6. The Burno country was evidently at one time densely inhabited, and there are in many places large tanks which might at once be used for irrigation. The great drawback is the extreme unhealthiness of the climate, and the consequent difficulty there would be in getting labor.

From LIEUTENANT-COLONEL A. FYTCHE, Commissioner of the Tenasserim and Martaban Provinces, to H. L. DAMPIER, ESQ., Secretary to the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces,—(No. 29, dated the 30th May 1861.)

SIR,—I HAVE the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your Circular Memorandum No. 13B. of date 12th March last, calling for a report on the subject of Cotton cultivation in these Provinces.

2. I regret to state that I am not aware of any practicable scheme which would render this commodity an article of sale to any sensible amount in this country.

3. The description of Cotton grown here is almost all of indigenous growth (Gossypium Herbaceum) and which reaches a very fair staple. The soil on which it thrives best is the alluvial soil, left by the numerous mountain streams and rivulets, on their subsidence at the close of the South-West Monsoon. It also grows very well on Hill clearings where often soils containing plenty matter and lignite are met with, and which, I believe, are very suitable for the good of the plant.

4. The means of conveying the produce from the interior to the Port of Maulmain are excellent in the numerous streams which flow towards the place. But we want men to cultivate it. There would be no want of buyers and exporters in Maulmain, but there is no one to provide the article. The scanty population near Maulmain find a more profitable Return for their labor in producing vegetable, fruits, and rice, the demand for which is not yet adequately supplied. The more remote inhabitants occupy themselves in fellinig and selling Teak Timber, and what Cotton is cultvated, is done so, chiefly by them also, but in small quantities, and which appears, instead of increasing, to have been gradually decreasing, for some time back, on account of the supply of English-spun thread and cloth, in the Maulmain Market, being procurable at such cheap rates. Cotton is also reported to be a more laborious crop to raise, and more subject to injury from drought and insects than most other crops grown in the country.

5. The average produce of Cotton in Amherst Province for the last five years has been calculated as follows:—

	Acres.		Maunds.
In 1856-57.....	325	.....	1,398
„ 1857-58.....	315	.....	1,354
„ 1858-59.....	379	.....	1,628
„ 1859-60.....	320	.....	1,375
„ 1860-61.....	211	.....	907

An acre is estimated to yield about 4¼ maunds of Cotton, value Rupees 15, and which when carded is sold in the Maulmain Bazars at an average of Company's Rupees 24. The following quantities have been exported from Maulmain to Dacca, Tavoy, Mergui, and Arracan, but none that I am aware of has been sent to Europe: In 1857-58, 1,12,828 lbs.; 1858-59, 2,02,158 lbs.; 1859-60, 1,92,602 lbs, and 1860-61, 1,18,270 lbs.

6. Besides the indigenous Cotton a small quantity of Pernambuco Cotton (Gossypium Acuminatum) is grown from seed introduced into these Provinces some years back by Mr. Blundell and Major MacFarquhar; it appears to flourish uncommonly well, and I enclose a small sample of this Cotton procured by me at Tavoy. I may also add that this description of Cotton grows most luxuriantly in the Bassein District, Province Pegu. I had some twenty trees in my garden there, which bore profusely, and yielded Cotton of strong fibre and good staple. I gave samples of it to several Merchants at Bassein, who sent it to England for examination; two small plantations of it had been commenced by Europeans before I left Bassein in December last, and more would be undertaken if a favorable report of the Cotton was received.

7. The great demand and higher profits derived from the growth of fruits and other esculents (some of which yield Rupees 50 to 60 per acre), and the cheap rates at which English-spun thread and cloth are procurable, accounts therefore for the trifling extent of Cotton cultivation here, and nothing but a very large increase of the agricultural population, whom perhaps a fee-simple tenure might tend to induce to settle in these Provinces, will change this order of things.

THE 13TH JULY 1861.

THE following Bill was read a second time in the Legislative Council of India on the 13th July 1861, and was referred to a Select Committee who are to report thereon after the 17th of October next:—

A Bill to provide for the construction, by Companies and by private persons, of Branch Railways, Iron Tram-roads, common roads, or canals, as feeders to Public Railways.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to make adequate provision by law for the construction, by Companies and by private persons, of Branch Railways, Iron or Tram-roads, common roads and canals, to serve as feeders to Public Railways, and to enable such Companies or private persons to take land required for the same with a view to the full development of the natural resources of the country, as well as to provide for the due regulation of such Branch Railways, Iron or Tram-roads, private roads, or canals, when constructed: as also to declare the rights of Public Railway Companies in lands so taken or lines so constructed; It is enacted as follows:—

Mode of application for land required for Branch Railway, &c.

I. Any person or Company who may desire, at his or at their own expense, to construct a Branch Railway, Iron or Tram-road, common road, or canal, leading to a line of Public Railway through lands belonging to other persons, may, by an application in writing addressed to the local Government, request that the land required for such Railway, Iron or Tram-road, common road, or canal, may be taken as for a public purpose under the provisions of Act VI of 1857. In such case the applicant or applicants shall, in his or their application, state the advantages to be derived from making such Railway, Iron or Tram-road, common road, or canal, the extent and general direction of the line, the proposed place of approach to, or of junction with, the Public Railway and the Terminus or place from which it proceeds, the estimated cost of construction, and the mode in which the applicants will provide the funds for the construction and working of the line of communication.

Local Government may grant provisional certificate authorizing entry on land, or may appoint an Officer to make the provisional survey.

II If the local Government shall be satisfied as to the expediency of assisting the promoters in the constructing of the proposed line, and as to their means for constructing and working the same, it shall furnish the promoters with a provisional certificate, authorizing them in their own persons and in those of their local Officers, to be approved of by Government, to enter on the land for the purpose of surveying and of taking levels, and it shall be lawful for the promoters, in virtue of this said provisional certificate, to survey the land required and to indicate the intended line by recognizable land-marks, but not to cut down or injure any trees, growing wood, or crops, or otherwise to injure or destroy any property without the assent of the owner thereof; nor shall the promoters enter any house or enclosed premises without such assent. It shall also be competent for the local Government, should it see fit, to appoint one of its own Officers to make the proposed provisional survey.

III. If the local Government, after receiving the surveys, plans, and estimates for the construction of the works to be made on the certificate to be granted by the last Section, shall be further satisfied of the expediency of carrying out the works proposed, and of the sufficiency of the means of the promoters; it shall appoint one or more persons as a Commissioner or Commissioners to report finally on the proposal, and on any objections or suggestions that may be made by parties who have rights or interests in the land or who are in any way affected by the works proposed. Any legitimate expenses required for the deputation of such Commissioner or Commissioners may be demanded by Government from the promoters of the scheme.

Appointment of Commissioner.

IV. The Commissioner or Commissioners appointed as aforesaid shall publish a notification in the Government Gazette, embodying the description of the proposed line as given in the application, setting forth the names of the promoters, and intimating his or their purpose to inspect and report upon the proposed line, and the Commissioner or Commissioners shall require any person who may have any rights or interests in the lands to be taken or whose interests are affected, directly or indirectly by the construction of the line, to make any objections which he may have to make thereto, within one month from the publication of the notification. The notification, besides being made in the Government Gazette, shall be published at the principal Civil Court of the District or Districts concerned, at the Courts of the local Magistrates, at the head Police Station, within the jurisdiction of which any portion of the proposed line is situated, and also at a conspicuous place in each bazar or Haut through or in the immediate vicinity of which the proposed line may run.

Notification for the benefit of parties interested in the lands required.

V. It shall be lawful for any person, whom the Commissioner or Commissioners may decide to have a claim to be heard, to state in writing to the Commissioner or Commissioners, within the time fixed as aforesaid, any objections which such person may entertain to the construction of the proposed line, and to make any representation which he may think fit as to varying the direction of the line or otherwise. If it be proposed to vary the direction of the line, the objector shall be bound to describe the particular direction of the variation proposed, and it shall be competent to the Commissioner or Commissioners to notify the variation proposed to all parties having rights or interests in the lands affected by such deviation, and to empower the promoters to mark out the line with all such proposed variations with recognizable land marks, and to permit them to enter upon the lands to be so taken under a notification as provided for by Section II of this Act. Any person obstructing the definition of the line shall be cautioned to desist, and if the obstruction be continued, the obstructor shall be liable to a fine of one hundred Rupees for each offence.

Objections how to be preferred to the construction of the proposed line, &c.

VI. On the expiration of a period of not less than one month from the publication of all the notifications prescribed in Section IV, the Commissioner or Commissioners shall proceed to inspect the proposed line, as well as the proposed variations, of any other line which may be duly represented to the Commissoner or Commissioners to be more advantageous to the Public; and it shall be the duty of the Commissioner or Commissioners, on completing this inspection, and after making such enquiries as may appear necessary, to submit a report on the whole subject for the orders of the local Government.

Inspection and final report by Commissioner.

VII. Before the land is ordered to be taken as provided in the next following Section, the local Government shall furnish a copy of the application made to the Public Railway Company interested; and this Railway Company shall have access to the surveys and plans, and to the report of the Commissioner or Commissioners, and it shall be competent to this Railway Company to state any objection they may entertain to making, at their own expense, the necessary sidings, wharves, or godowns for the reception of the traffic brought to their line of Railway by the new line; and if the new line, such being a Railway Branch, is to be of the same guage as that of the Public line of Railway, and is to form a junction with it, the Public Railway Company shall state any objections they may entertain in any manner to the execution of the branch line, and shall propose conditions for the subsequent working of the same, so that the communication with the main line may be effected with safety to the public, without injury to the Public Railway, and without detriment to the traffic thereon.

Objections or proposals by Public Railway Company.

VIII. On consideration of the whole project of the promoters, of the report of the Commissioner or Comissioners, and of any objections or proposals made by the Public Railway Company interested, it shall be lawful for the local Government to declare the undertaking to be a public work, and to issue a final certificate to the promoters authorizing the construction of the work; and it shall be competent for the local Government to direct the land to be taken under the provisions of Act VI of 1857, and to require the Collector of the District or other Officer to be specially appointed, to take measures for the acquisition of the land, as provided in the Sections of that Act: provided that the local Government shall satisfy itself before making such order that the promoters of the line have deposited, or have given sufficient security for depositing when required, such sums as may be awarded to persons having rights or interests in the land so taken. The compensation awarded shall be paid by the Collector or other Officer as directed in Section XXVII of the Act aforesaid. The land so taken may include land required for stations and other necessary buildings and for the accommodation of Passengers and Goods.

Issue of final certificate by local Government, authorizing construction of the work, &c.

IX. Every Branch Railway, Iron or Tramroad, common road, or canal, for the construction of which land shall be taken by the order of the Local Government under this Act, shall be available to the Public for the conveyance of passengers and goods by such vehicles or means of communication as are ordinarily employed on the line by the promoters thereof, and are not inconsistent with its scope and object; and the owners of the same shall be bound and may be directed by the local Government, to supply and use such means of locomotion, as, regard being had to the purposes for which the line was formed, may be adequate to the public wants, and such owners or lessees or such other persons as may enter into a contract or contracts for the conveyance of passengers or of goods or of both, may demand from the public fares not exceeding rates laid down in a certificate to be approved by the local Government.

Branch Railway, &c., to be available to the public.

Line may also be made available to other than owners or lessees for conveyance of goods by the carriages and engines of such other persons.

X. With the sanction or under the direction of the local Government every such line may also be made available to other persons than the owners or lessees for the conveyance of goods along the line by the carriages, engines, vehicles, or means of transport, of such other persons, such being of the same description as are used by the owners or lessees of the line, upon payment of toll determined from time to time by such owners or lessees, and not exceeding such rates as may be approved by the local Government: provided that such carriages, engines, vehicles, or means of transport, shall appear to the owners or lessees of the line to be properly constructed and to be in serviceable condition, and that the employments thereof shall be subject to such rules as such owners or lessees, with the sanction of the local Government, may frame; and in the event of the line being a Branch Railway of the same gauge as or forming a junction with the main public line, subject to such rules as by this Act apply to engines and carriages of the private Company communicating with the main Railway and the traffic carried on therewith.

Penalty for Branch Railway levying unauthorized tolls.

XI. If the owners or lessees of any such Branch Railway, Iron or Tram-road, common road or canal, or any persons entitled to convey Passengers or Goods thereon, shall levy or attempt to levy for the conveyance of Passengers or Goods or for the passage of carriages, engines, or vehicles of transport, any rates of toll or other charges higher than those approved by the local Government, such owner or other persons so offending shall, for each offence, be liable to a penalty of fifty Rupees for each carriage, engine, or vehicle of transport so employed, on conviction before a Magistrate, and if such owners or lessees shall not supply suitable means of transport for the conveyance of Passengers and Goods in such manner, and within such time as may be directed by the local Government, they shall severally be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred Rupees a day, on proof of such default before a Magistrate.

Construction of Bridges, Tunnels, &c.

XII. The local Government may at any time, during the construction of a private Railway, Iron or Tram-road, common road or canal, for which land has been taken under this Act, direct the promoters to construct along the line of their undertaking such bridges, tunnels, drains, or other works as may be necessary to continue to the public any roads or rights of ways or easements heretofore available, and to make due provision for the drainage of the country, if impeded by the construction of the Railway; and failing compliance with such orders the local Government may direct the progress of the work to be discontinued.

When local Government may order junction between the main and branch line.

XIII. If, in any case, the Public Railway Company shall not agree to effect the junction between their main line of Railway and a branch line of Railway proposed by promoters under this Act, to be of the same guage as the main Railway, it shall be lawful for the local Government, on the application of such promoters, and on being satisfied that the communication may be made with safety to the public, and without injury to the main Railway, and without detriment to the traffic thereon, to direct the Public Railway Company to form the junction, and to lay down such additional lines of side rails, points, and crossings, as may be necessary for effecting the communication applied for, provided that the expense of forming such junction and laying down the additional lines of rails, &c., and of keeping in repair or renewing the same, shall be paid by the promoters of the Branch Railway, who shall pay or give security for paying the sum that may be decided, for the purposes aforesaid, at any time when required by the local Government: provided also that it shall be lawful to the local Government at any time to suspend or withdraw the directions given for effecting a junction between a Public Railway and a branch line, if it appears that such communication is likely to prove dangerous to the public or injurious to the main Railway or detrimental to the traffic thereon.

Appointment of Inspector.

XIV. The local Government may appoint any person to inspect any Branch Railway, Iron or Tram-road, common road or canal, for the construction of which land shall be taken by virtue of this Act by the order of the local Government, and to inspect any engines and carriages or vehicles of transport belonging thereto that may be used for the conveyance of passengers; and whoever shall obstruct any such Inspector in the execution of his duty shall, on conviction before a Magistrate, be liable to be fined in any sum not exceeding one hundred Rupees, in addition to any punishment to which he may be liable for any offences committed by him.

Penalty for obstructing Inspector.

Local Government may, on report of Inspector, order the traffic along the branch line to be discontinued.

XV. If it appear to the local Government upon the report of such Inspector that by reason of the incompleteness or insufficiency of the line, traffic cannot be carried on without danger to the public using the same, or if it appear to the local Government that rules adequate to the protection of the public under the provisions of this Act have not been framed and put in force, it shall be lawful to the local Government, by notice published at any place on or adjacent to the branch line, to require the traffic to be discontinued; and any person or Company who, after such notice, shall use any engine or carriage for the purpose of traffic, shall be liable, on conviction before a Magistrate, to be fined two hundred Rupees for every day during which such engine or carriage shall be used.

Act XVIII of 1854 applicable to Branch Railways.

XVI. The provisions of Act XVIII of 1854 shall apply to Branch Railways for which land shall be taken under Act VI of 1857 and by virtue of this Act.

Saving of right to mines in land taken for the Railway.

XVII. Whenever, before or after the passing of this Act, land shall have been taken under Act VI of 1857 for the construction of any Branch Railway, Iron or Tram-road, common road or canal, the taking thereof shall not be held to convey or include the right to any mines of coal or other minerals lying under such land, except only such parts thereof as shall be necessary to be dug or carried away or used in the construction of the works, unless compensation for the same shall have been expressly allowed in the award made in favor of the persons interested in the land.

Working of mines included in the land taken for the Railway.

XVIII. If any persons owning or occupying mines of coal or other mineral lying immediately under any Railway or within forty yards therefrom shall work the same, it shall be competent to the local Government, on the application of the Railway Company or proprietor, to require the owner or occupier of the mine to work the same so as not to endamage the Railway and to construct the works necessary to make safe the Railway: provided that compensation shall be awarded to such owner or occupier, in the manner provided in Act VI of 1857, for any loss sustained by him from the mode of working indicated, and also for the works constructed by him to make safe the Railway.

FORT WILLIAM,
The 15th July 1861.

Notice.

UNDER Notification of the Board of Audit, dated 1st May last, Transfer Receipts have been substituted for negotiable Bills of Exchange, for purposes of Privilege or Public Service Remittance.

In many Treasuries, however, especially in Bengal, the practice has become prevalent of granting Bills to private individuals, under paragraph 69 of the Bill Rules, and the unexpected cessation of this accommodation is represented to have caused much serious and unnecessary inconvenience.

In temporary modification, therefore, of recent instructions, Treasury Officers are informed that they may continue to act upon paragraph 69 of the Bill Rules wherever they have heretofore been in the habit of doing so, but not otherwise, granting Transfer Receipts on the General Treasury only in lieu of Bills of Exchange for cash for small sums, at their discretion, and at one per cent. premium.

It is at the same time notified, for general information, that this accommodation will be withdrawn so soon as the Act for the introduction of a Government Paper Currency shall have become Law, or at furthest on the 1st January next.

F. LUSHINGTON,

FORT WILLIAM;
Deputy Auditor and Accountant-General's Office,
Miscellaneous Advances Department,
The 19th July 1861.

Notification.

THE change in the form of Service and Privilege Remittance documents having been misunderstood in some quarters, it is hereby notified, under instructions from the Auditor General, to all Treasury Officers, that the change from Bills of Exchange to Transfer Receipts is principally one of form, and that the Rules prescribed for their guidance in the issue of Bills of Exchange should guide them, as far as they may be found applicable, in the issue of the Transfer Receipts, both Service and Privilege. The only material exception is in respect to Military Privilege Remittances, which should be made by Paymasters only on the issue of pay, and on a requisition sent to the Paymaster with the Monthly Abstract of the Corps, as mentioned in Rule IX. of the Notification of the Board of Audit, dated 1st May last.

2. Exceptional cases, such as those described in paragraph 62 of the Bill Rules, quoted in the margin, may continue to be provided for as therein directed, the Privilege Transfer Receipt only being substituted for the Bill of Exchange.

62. Bills may also be issued for Cash in the following exceptional cases: first, to European Commissioned Officers for the amount sale of a Bungalow to either vendor or purchaser, which must be specifically stated in the application; secondly, to Regiments, or a Committee of Officers, for Mess, or other Regimental purposes, the application being accompanied by a Certificate from the Commanding Officer that the required remittance is bond fide for the purpose stated; thirdly, an Officer, suddenly leaving a Station is entitled to a Bill on the Station to which he is proceeding for an amount equal to his Monthly Pay and Allowances.

3. In cases of loss of the originals, the provisions of the Bill Rules for seconds may be followed as far as applicable, but as the Receipts are not negotiable, there seems to be no reason for requiring a Non-payment Certificate before the issue of a Duplicate, which may at all times be granted on sufficient cause shewn, without further precaution than that the fact of their being duplicates may always clearly appear upon the face of them.

4. The form of Transfer Receipt prescribed in Rule V. of the Notification of the Board of Audit above mentioned should be employed for the Privilege Remittances of Warrant Officers and Soldiers of the European Army, and the form for Sepoys' Remittances for those of Commissioned Native Officers, as heretofore.

Notice.

The Officiating Superintendent of Stationery, with reference to para. 6th, No. IV., of his Circular No. 800, dated the 8th March last, restricting the cost of preparation of Ink, has the honor to draw the attention of those Officers who may expe rience any difficulty in complying with that requisition, to the following letter from the Collector of Customs, Sirsa, and to recommend generally the adoption of that Officer's plan.

It is necessary only to add, that the Ink used by Mr Jones appears to be quite equal to that made from the Ink Powder issued from this Office, and converted into fluid Ink at a cost never less and frequently four and five times as great as that incurred in the preparation recommended.

E. W. Perry,
Offg. Superintendent.

No. 58 of 1861.

From G. M. Jones, Esq.,
Collector of Customs,
Sirsa,

To E. W. Perry, Esq.,
Superintendent of Stationery,
Calcutta.

Dated Sirsa, the 28th June 1861.

Sir,—When I received your Circular* of instructions, directing economy, and informing me that in future no vinegar of a higher price than four annas per bottle should be purchased for making Ink, I determined on preparing some here, after a receipt I found in Mitchel's Encyclopædia. I have had it copied out, and send a copy for your perusal, and should you consider it advisable for circulation.

* No. 800, dated 8th April 1861.

2nd. I am at present using Ink made after that formula, and you can judge from it of its quality.

3rd. There are two advantages in this preparation —superior quality and its cheapness.

4th. The cost of preparation here comes to, exclusive of bottle and cork, three annas and three pie per quart bottle.

5th. The Sulphate of Iron procurable here is very impure, yet it answers; but where good Crystals are obtainable I have no doubt the Ink would be much darker. My duftery prepares it; and as all large Offices have one or more dufteries, they could make a stock which would last for a month or more, as desirable.

6th. In future it is not my intention to indent for any Black Ink, as the cost of preparing a quart bottle is less than you allow for a bottle of vinegar, and we cannot get it here for double that amount.

7th. As I shall have to enter the expenditure in the Quarterly Bills, I have thought it, as well to send you this explanation.

I have, &c.,
(Sd.) G. M. Jones,
Collector.

Direction for the Composition of good Ink.

Take eight ounces of Aleppo Galls (in coarse powder); four ounces of Logwood (in thin chips); four ounces of Sulphate of Iron; three ounces of Gum Arabic (in powder); one ounce of Sulphate of Copper; and one ounce of Sugarcandy. Boil the Gall and Logwood together in twelve pounds of water for one hour, or till half the liquid has evaporated. Strain the decoction through a hair sieve or linen cloth, and then add the other ingredients; stir the mixture till the whole is dissolved, more especially the Gum; after which leave it to subside for twenty-four hours. Then decant the Ink, and preserve it in bottles of glass or stoneware, well corked.

(Sd.) G. M. Jones,
Collector of Customs, Sirsa.

Notice.

The sale proceeds of the Effects of the late William B. Cartwright, who died in Cachar on the 27th May 1861, are deposited in this Court, and will be made over to any person duly and legally authorised to receive them.

I. Any person or Company who may desire, at his or at their own expense, to construct a Branch Railway, Iron or Tram-road, common road, or canal, leading to a line of Public Railway through lands belonging to other persons, may, by an application in writing addressed to the local Government, request that the land required for such Railway, Iron or Tram-road, common road, or canal, may be taken as for a public purpose under the provisions of Act VI of 1857. If it be proposed to vary the direction of the line, the objector shall be bound to describe the particular direction of the variation proposed, and it shall be competent to the Commissioner or Commissioners to notify the variation proposed to all parties having rights or interests in the lands affected by such deviation, and to empower the promoters to mark out the line with all such proposed variations with recognizable land marks, and to permit them to enter upon the lands to be so taken under a notification as provided for by Section II of this Act. Any person obstructing the definition of the line shall be cautioned to desist, and if the obstruction be continued, the obstructor shall be liable to a fine of one hundred Rupees for each offence.

No. 211A.

The following amended Circular Orders of the Government, in the Revenue Department, laying down instructions in regard to the sale of landed property in satisfaction of decrees of the Civil Courts, are published for general information:—

No. 708A.

Circular.—His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to issue the following instructions for the guidance of Collectors in carrying out the important provisions of Section CCXLIV., Act VIII. of 1859, the object of which is to prevent the sale of landed property in satisfaction of decrees of the Civil Courts in cases where the sale would be objectionable, and satisfaction can be otherwise secured.

2. With this view the Collector will not be held competent to defer the issue of the usual sale proclamation, but on receipt of the requisition of the Civil Court he will ascertain, by summary enquiry, whether the sale of the land or share is objectionable.

3. The enforced sale of hereditary property in land in execution of a decree, which might be satisfied by money payment, is generally objectionable, and most particularly so when the rights to be sold consist of a share in a joint property, inasmuch as the sale may cause a stranger to be obtruded against their will amongst the brotherhood. It is objectionable only in a less degree when an entire ancestral property is the subject of sale, where, on the other hand, the property for sale consists of a share in a joint Estate held by a stranger, the sale is not objectionable, for it may afford an opportunity to the former proprietors to recover possession, or to the brotherhood to rid themselves of the stranger. Again the property may be the Estate of a spendthrift Zemindar from whom the revenue is always realized with difficulty, and then the sale might not be objectionable; and generally there can be no strong objection to the sale where the property has been acquired by purchase by the judgment debtor. Rules cannot, however, be laid down to meet every case, and the Collector must, in each instance, determine as to the expediency of allowing the sale to proceed, or of attempting to arrest it.

4. After making the above-mentioned summary enquiry, provided he has satisfied himself that the sale is objectionable, and no preferable means of obtaining the further information indicated below are available, the Collector will issue to the Tehseeldar of the Pergunnah in which the land to be sold may be situated an order specifying the names of the parties, the sum required to be realized, and the land proposed for sale, and directing the Tehseeldar to ascertain by enquiries from the judgment debtor, or his Agent, or otherwise, whether satisfaction of the decree can be made, within a reasonable period, by a temporary alienation of the land or share, and also whether the required security will be forthcoming.

5. The arrangements to be made in satisfaction of the decree should emanate from the person whose rights are to be sold. The Collector may offer his advice and assistance, but is not competent, suo motu, to make the temporary alienation contemplated by the Act. It will be his duty to represent to the Court that the sale being, for reasons to be stated, objectionable, he has satisfied himself that the debt due to the judgment creditor can be liquidated within a period, to be stated, by a temporary alienation of the land or share in the form of a lease or mortgage to such or such a person who is prepared to enter into an agreement to satisfy the decree by immediate payment in full or by instalments, security for the amount of the decree or for the value of the land or share being given. The Collector will then await the instructions of the Court.

6. If it appear from the Tehseeldar's report, or from other information, that the necessity of sale may be avoided, and that the sale is objectionable, the Collector should, in all cases, whether the decree emanate from the Judge of the District or from a subordinate Court, make his representation in English direct to the Judge, who, when the case is pending before a subordinate Court, will forward it to such Court, the Judge being in every case the channel of communication. And in order to secure due consideration of the Collector's representations, the subordinate Courts, under instructions which their Sudder Court have been requested to issue, will be required to report to the Judge their adoption or rejection of his suggestions. Collectors should be cautious on the other hand not to interpose arbitrary or frivolous objections in cases in which the sale of land may be ordered in satisfaction of a decree of the Civil Court.

7. The Collectors should notice briefly the general result of their proceedings in carrying out the important functions devolved upon them by this Section (CCXLIV., Act VIII. of 1859), in their Annual Administration Reports.

ORDERS by the LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR, Punjab Provinces.

No. 1090.
Revenue Department.
The 8th July 1861.

Notification.—In directing the careful attention of Heads of Departments to the Proceedings of the Government of India, in the Financial Department, dated 15th June 1861, published in the Punjab Gazette of 6th instant, the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor desires to point out the importance of the accurate and punctual preparation of the Departmental Budgets. The unembarrassed working of the administrative machinery is now, in a great degree, dependent on a correct prospective estimate of the annual cost of each Department. It is necessary that each responsible Officer, in his own sphere, calculate the probable expenditure which will be indispensable during the ensuing year. If the entertainment of any additional Establishment shall be foreseen to be unavoidable, no delay should occur in making a recommendation, as, without the sanction of the Supreme Government previously obtained, the cost cannot be included in the Estimates. In calculating contingencies, the opportunity should be taken to scrutinize the current expenditure, and to reduce the prospective Estimate to the lowest sum compatible with efficiency. Equal care should be exercised in estimating the annual revenues. Experience has shown that gross and serious errors will occur wherever the responsible Officers withhold a searching examination of the normal Statements prepared by their Subordinates. The Lieutenant-Governor trusts that this timely notice, aided by detailed instructions from the Heads of Departments, will ensure the prescient elaboration and punctual submission of the Budget for 1862-63.

Roads in the Province of Nagpore.

Memorandum by MAJOR E. K. ELLIOTT, Commissioner of Nagpore,—(dated the 12th June 1861.)

BEFORE proceeding to consider the detail of a scheme of Roads for the Province, it appears desirable to say a few words on the Territory itself. A reference to the accompanying Map will shew that the Province is of a triangular form, its extreme length from north to south being about 382 miles, and its breadth in the widest part of it 310 miles, exclusive of the detached Principality of Kharond or Kalahundee on the east, which is ninety-two miles broad by ninety in length. Nagpore is bounded on the north by the Districts of Hoshungabad, Nursingpoor, Seonee, and Mundlah, belonging to the Jubbulpoor Division, and the Sirgoojah Rajah's Talooks; on the east by a portion of the Sirgoojah Talooks and Ramgurh, and by the numerous petty States belonging to Chota Nagpore and Sumbulpoor, by a tract of about thirty miles belonging to independent Hill tribes (Khonds) in the District of Ganjam, in the Madras Presidency, and by the Territory of Jeypoor, also under the Madras Government; on the south by the River Godavery, the Talook of Elmawur, belonging to the Nizam of Hyderabad, and by a portion of the Wurgunga, Pranheta, and Wurdah Rivers; on the south-west and west by the River Wurdah, which divides it from the Nizam's dominions, and by the District of East Berar, and portions of Baitool and Hoshungabad, in the Jubbulpoor Division.

2. The first step in arranging a scheme of Roads is to classify them in the order of their importance, and this may be done under the three headings:—

Imperial,
Provincial; and District.

3. The Imperial lines are those, in the construction and maintenance of which the interests of the State preponderate as lines of Military communication, or for advancing the commercial interests of India generally, the Provincial lines standing to the several Districts, in the same relation as the Imperial lines do to the Empire at large, each being intended in its own degree for the improvement of the country and the better development of its resources.

4. The Provincial roads would act as feeders to the Imperial lines, whilst the District roads would perform the same office to both Imperial and Provincial lines.

5. The cost of the construction of the Imperial lines would be borne by the Imperial Revenues of India, the cost of the Provincial lines being defrayed by the Imperial and Local Revenues conjointly, in proportion to their general or local importance, leaving the outlay required for District lines to be borne by local funds alone, save in instances where Imperial projects may be materially furthered and expedited, when the Imperial funds might be charged with a quota of the expenditure.

6. A glance at the Map of India will shew that, from the position of Nagpore with reference to the four Presidencies of Bengal and Bombay, Madras, and the North-Western Provinces, the main Imperial line must be the one known as the Great Deccan Road, which, leaving the Grand Trunk Road from Calcutta to Lahore at Benares, crosses the Ganges near Mirzapoor, and passes viâ Jubbulpoor and Seonee through Nagpoor to Jaulnah, Ahmednuggur, and Poonah, connecting Calcutta with Bombay. This line enters the Nagpoor Territory about forty-nine miles South of Seonee, and passing through the Military Cantonment of Kamptee and the Civil Station of Seetabuldee, the Head Quarters of the Province, leaves it at the River Wurdah, a few miles to the Westward of Nachengaon, having a course through the Province of about 104 miles in length.

7. The next in importance is the Southern line, commencing, it may be said at Agra and passing vid Gwalior and Jhansi to Saugor, whence it should be continued through Nursingpoor, entering this Territory in the Chindwarra District above the Ghats, and from Chindwarra proceeding by Nagpore and Hingunghat towards Hyderabad and Madras, thus connecting the Punjab and Dehli through Central India with the Southern Presidency.

No. 64, dated 29th May 1861.

This Road might, as suggested in the letter from this Office noted on the margin, be called the Great Southern Road of Central India.*

8. The third Imperial line† would be that traversing the Province from East to West, starting from Calcutta and passing vid Midnapoor, Cuttack, and Sumbulpoor through Raepoor, Bhundara, and Nagpore towards Oomraotee and Ellichpoor, in Eastern Berar. This line joins the Great Deccan Road at Nagpore, and in conjunction with it was, prior to 1853,‡ the postal line between Calcutta and Bombay. Since 1853 this line has been superseded by the one vid Mirzapoor and Jubbulpoor, though a foot dâk is maintained between Calcutta and Nagpore along the old post road for the convenience of the residents of Sumbulpoor and Raepoor, &c.

† This line enters the Nagpore Territory at the Jonk Nuddee, about seventy miles to the East of Raepoor. It runs for a distance of 320 miles through the Province, leaving it at Bishnoor, on the Wurdah, about seventy miles West from Nagpore, on the direct Road to Oomraotee.

‡ Before the bi-monthly Steamer to Calcutta, the English Mails from Bombay were despatched by the Raepoor Postal line.

9. We now come to the Provincial lines of road. The first should be a continuation of the road between Jubbulpoor and Mundlah over either the Rajahdar or Chilpee Ghats into Chutteesgurh, with a Road from its Sudder Station of Raepoor to the Out-station of Belaspoor, Ruttunpoor and the Northern boundary. Again Southward there should be a road from Raepoor through the Bustar Territory (a tributary of Nagpore) to Sirancha, situated on the Pranheta, near the navigable head of the Godavery, and the site selected for the Head Quarters of the Deputy Commissioner in charge of the six Talooks § on the left bank of that river, recently ceded by His Highness the Nizam.

2. Noogoor.
3. Cherlah.
4. Albaka.
5. Rukapilly.
6. Budrachellum.

Sirancha should also be connected with the Southern Imperial line by a branch vid Aheree and Chanda to Wurrorah, about thirty miles south of Hingunghat.

10. Another road branching from the east and west (Imperial) line should start from some point (to be determined on hereafter) east of Raepoor, and passing through the Territory of the Rajah of Karondh (Kalahundy in the Map) be carried through the Jeypoor Estate (belonging to the Madras Presidency) to the Sea coast; thus connecting this Province with the ports on the Eastern Coast to the South of Ganjam. This appears from a Report by Captain Saxton, copy of which was forwarded with this Office letter noted marginally, to be the most direct and feasible line for the residents of the Eastern portion of this Province to reach the Coast, and its importance in a commercial point of view should not be lost sight of.

* No. 69, dated 4th June 1861.

11. The next line is one from Seonee (Jubbulpoor Division), on the Great Deccan Road through our Northern District to Baitool (also in the Jubbulpoor Division), for the purpose of connecting Chindwarra with Jubbulpoor on the north-east, and Bhopal and Indore through Hoshungabad on the north-west. This line would have about eighty-five miles of its length in the Nagpore Province. There is another Road, which, though entirely within the limits of the Nagpoor District, is Provincial, if not Imperial in importance, and should be constructed. It runs between the Town of Hingunghat on the southern (Imperial) line and Nachengaon on the Great Deccan line near to which latter place there is to be a Railway Station. Hingunghat is a very large Cotton mart, as already reported. The distance between Hingunghat and the Wurdah along this line is about forty-five miles.

12. Two short lines from the Cantonment of Kamptee remain to be noticed. The one to Petunsaongee, a distance of fourteen miles, connecting the Cantonment with the Southern Imperial line towards Chindwarra and the north, and the other to Goomtarah, about fourteen miles, to connect Kamptee with the East and West Imperial line towards Bhundara. These two Roads are required mainly on Military grounds to facilitate the march of Troops from the Head-Quarters Station of Kamptee towards the Districts East (Bhundara and Raepoor) and North (Chindwarra, Baitool, Hoshungabad, &c., &c.)

13. With these the list of Provincial requirements may be closed. Of the Imperial lines, the Great Deccan and Southern Roads are already under construction, the first named being a 1st class Road, and the other a 2nd class Road on a 1st class basis. The Eastern line is also sanctioned, and two Sections, comprising the distance between Seetabuldee and Bhundara, are under construction. This is a 2nd class Road.

The remaining Provincial lines should all be of the 2nd class, with the exception probably, of the proposed line between the Raepoor District and the Eastern Coast, for which a less expensive class of Road might, in the first instance, be found sufficient.

14. The extent to which these lines of Road will be affected by the line of Railway now in progress from Bombay to Nagpore by Oomraotee, and through the Valley of the Nerbudda with a branch to Jubbulpoor, and eventually to the Ganges, must be considered.

15. The only line of Road that will be in any way affected by the Rail is the Great Deccan Road, and this only very partially. Beyond the limits of this Province, that is, from Jubbulpoor to Mirzapoor, the Rail and the Road from their proximity may be viewed as antagonistic by those who consider a good Road along a line of Railway to be unnecessary. But between Jubbulpoor and Nagpore, a distance of 160 miles, there is no Rail or branch Rail in contemplation; whilst the natural difficulties of the country between these two points make it improbable that any attempt to connect them by Rail will ever be made. From Nagpoor, however, Westward, as far as the boundary of the Province near Nachengaon, the Road and the Rail will run side by side; but here any rivalry between them will terminate, the Rail turning to the North-west towards Oomraotee into Khandeish, while the road continues on its course to the Southward of West in the direction of Jaulnah, Aurungabad, Ahmednugger, and Poona, at which latter place it meets a branch line of Railway connecting that Station with Bombay. In a Military point of view, therefore, the importance of the Great Deccan Road in this Province ought not to be materially lessened by the introduction of the Rail, for it will still be required to maintain our communication with Seonee and Jubbulpoor to the North, and with Jaulnah, Aurungabad, Ahmednuggur, and Poona to the West.

16. The entire length of the three Imperial lines of Road within this Province may be set down at 649 miles.

	Miles.

The number of miles of the projected Provincial lines is about 762, making a total of 1,412 miles, divided amongst ten lines, one of which is of the 1st class, eight of the 2nd class, and one of the 3rd. Estimating for these at our present rates, an outlay of 47½ lakhs would be needed for their completion, a portion of which would be borne by the local funds.

17. Of the District lines, those connecting the several Tehseeldarees with the Sudder Stations of their respective Districts, and with each other, are the first in importance. The next being the opening of cross lines to connect the Tehseeldarees and the principal marts and bazars with the Provincial and Imperial main lines and with each other. These District lines are too many in number to enumerate here, but their aggregate length may be estimated at 1,000 miles. They may all be of the 4th class, or what are commonly denominated fair-weather roads, and, taking the expenditure needed for their construction at Rs. 250 a mile, would involve an outlay of Rs. 2,50,000.

18. From the foregoing it will be seen that a scheme of roads, such as the one herein sketched, would require funds to the extent of fifty lakhs of Rupees, supposing present rates to continue—a large sum certainly, though scarcely more than would be warranted by the results. The annual Revenue of the Territory amounts to little more than forty lakhs; but with roads of ingress and egress in all directions, the increase that might be looked for would, I firmly believe, yield a very handsome return for an expenditure even of half a million.

Extract from a Despatch to the Secretary of State on the foregoing.

2. The requirements of the Province are represented to be as follows:—

Imperial Roads.

1st Class	104 miles.
2nd „	545 „

Provincial Roads.

2nd Class	460 miles.
3rd „	300 „

District Roads.

4th Class	1,000 miles.

The roughly estimated cost is—

100 miles	1st Class	Road, at	Rs. 7,000	a mile ...	7	lakhs.
1,000 „	2nd	„	„ „ 3,750	„ ...	37½	„
300 „	3rd	„	„ „ 1,000	„ ...	3	„
1,000 „	4th	„	„ „ 250	„ ...	2½	„
				Total Rs. ...	50	lakhs.

The complete system for the Province will cost, therefore, on this Estimate not less than half a million sterling.

3. The Cotton producing Districts are Nagpore and Chanda, and outlets are provided by the Great Deccan Road northwards to Mirzapore, and westward by the same road to Bombay. The Southern Road south of Nagpore, passing through the Cotton mart of Hingunghat, extends to Wurrora on the Wurda River, whence a branch runs to Chanda. This will prove an important tributary to the stream of traffic northwards, while the road from Hingunghat to Nachengaon will aid its escape towards Bombay.

4. Raepoor does not export Cotton at present, except of a coarse kind, and on a small scale, to or towards the Eastern Coast. The Commissioner's Memorandum will shew you that the improvement of the present very rude and almost unknown track pursued by the Bunjaras has not been lost sight of. Raepoor will also be connected with the Great Deccan Road at Jubbulpoor.

5. We now proceed to inform you what is being done towards realizing the Commissioner's project.

6. The arterial line of traffic is the Great Deccan Road. Besides the portion in the Nagpore Province, the Public Works Department of Nagpore has been entrusted with the construction of its extension beyond the Northern boundary as far as Seonee. Estimates have been prepared and sanctioned for the portion that lies between Kamptee and a point nine miles beyond the Northern boundary; and from Nagpore southwards to within about a mile of the river at Bhoree, a distance of sixteen miles. The aggregate of the Estimates sanctioned for this road amounts to Rs. 3,10,272, which provides for the construction of forty-five miles.

7. Beyond the Province, the Section between Seonee and Jubbulpoor will be constructed by the Public Works Department of the North-Western Provinces. That Government proposed in its Budget to reserve Rs. 56,000* for this Road, but we requested that a larger grant might be given; and the Lieutenant-Governor has made an allotment of Rs. 95,000, increasing the latter of the two items entered in the margin to Rs. 60,000. From Jubbilpoor to Mirzapoor a good metalled road already exists, and the larger streams, though not bridged, are provided with causeways and are easily passable at all times except during the monsoon. The Cotton passes up in the dry months.

8. For the improvement of the road beyond the Province of Nagpore on the west, in the Berar Territory, a sum of Rs. 100 a mile was sanctioned towards the close of last year. The Resident at Hyderabad has been requested to direct the Chief Engineer to visit the line and report how much can, with advantage, be spent on this portion of the road to render it speedily fit for the easy transit of traffic. Further west, in the Nizam's actual dominion, more than Rs. 20,000 was allotted for the repairs of the road as far as Aurungabad, and between this place and Toka on the Bombay Frontier, Rs. 60,000 will be spent in bridging and metalling the road.

9. To return to Nagpore, Estimates have been submitted for the section of the Southern Road from Bhoree, sixteen miles south of Nagpore, the point where this road branches off from the Great Deccan Road to Kumbara, thirteen miles beyond Hingunghat. The amount sanctioned is Rs. 1,58,385; and the length forty-one miles.

10. Estimates have also been sanctioned for forty-eight and a half miles of the Eastern Road between Nagpore and the Lucknee River, twelve and a half miles beyond Bhundara, amounting to Rs. 1,72,670.

11. The whole amount of work already sanctioned in the Province of Nagpore amounts, therefore, to 134½ miles of Road, estimated to cost Rs. 6,41,327, whilst further Estimates are still under preparation.

12. You will have observed from the enclosures of our letter No. 41, that we have authorized, for the present year, the outlay of Rs. 10,000, or more, if desirable in the judgment of the Commissioner, on District Roads, to meet an allotment of Rs. 25,000 from the Local Funds.

13. Since the accession of Major Elliott to the Commissionership, the staff has been almost entirely reconstituted, and a new spirit has, we have every reason to believe, been instilled into the Department. The labors of the Officers, from the Chief Engineer (Lieutenant-Colonel Maxwell), downwards, have been praiseworthy, and their exertions in the preparation of data for these Estimates continued almost (if not quite) to the present moment at the most trying season of the year, in an oppressive climate, give us every reason to hope for good progress in future, and deserve our special recognition.

Supply of Indian Cotton to England.

HOME DEPARTMENT,

Fort William, the 22nd July 1861.

Record of enquiries and experiments for the encouragement of Cotton cultivation in India.

RESOLUTION.—The questions of how to increase the supply of Cotton, and how to improve its quality, have, at various times, for many years past occupied the attention of the Government of India, and very much information on these subjects is on record in manuscript, besides the voluminous selections which have from time to time been published in various shapes, both in India and England.

But some of these compilations have become scarce, and others are in forms which preclude easy reference to them; nor is there any single volume or series of volumes which would be of much practical use as a guide to any person desirous of learning what had been done in each Province, and with what result, to improve and increase the production of Cotton, and in what direction further efforts are required, or are most likely to be successful.

Moreover, an examination of the records of former experiments proves that questions are now being raised and discussed, which have, on former occasions, been very fully investigated and decided, and in the further examination of which, if any be required, much valuable time and labor may be lost.

The Governor General in Council therefore resolves that the records of each Government on this subject shall be placed at the disposal of some gentleman who may be selected as able and willing to undertake a careful analysis of their contents, and to publish the result within a reasonable period in a form calculated to be useful as a Guide or Hand-book to persons interested in the cultivation of Cotton in India. One gentleman will be selected by the Government of India, to whom the records connected with the several Lieutenant-Governorships and Provinces directly subordinate to the Governor General in Council will be entrusted, and two other gentlemen will be similarly appointed by the Governments of Madras and Bombay, respectively, for the purpose of preparing a compilation from the records of those Presidencies.

Each Work should comprise a sketch of all that has been done within the limits of each Government, by or with the aid of the Government, from the time when the supply of Cotton first became an object of interest to the East India Company. The measures which from time to time have been adopted, and their results should be stated succinctly with no more detail than is likely to be of interest or utility to persons now engaged in similar enquiries or speculations. Any papers, which, from their general importance or the amount of local information they contain, are likely to be useful in extenso, may be given in an Appendix. The compilation should not be restricted to the records of the Indian Governments, but should admit any thing in the evidence taken before Parliamentary Committees, in the Transactions of Scientific Bodies, in Books of Travels, or in Publications like those of Dr. Forbes Royle, which may bear upon the prospects of Cotton cultivation within the Provinces for which the compilation is made.

Of necessity there will be much repetition in the three compilations simultaneously prepared. But this will be in no way incompatible with the object in view, which is to furnish a complete digest of all that the archives of India at large contain of present practical value to the cultivator or trader in Cotton; a Hand-book, in fact, of such information as each Local Government can supply, and one which shall relieve the enquirer from the necessity for reference to official records in bulk, or to other previous publications.

The latest official statistics of trade or cultivation should be given, and for this or any other information the compiler will be authorized to call on the Local Officers of Land Revenue or Customs, through the Secretary of the Local Government, and the information should be furnished in such shape as may appear most likely to be of practical public utility.

Maps should be added, not only to illustrate the localities referred to in the text, but so drawn as to shew the Districts where Cotton is or may be grown, and the lines of Road and River by which it is exported.

The Officers of the Surveyor General's or Public Works Department at each Seat of Government will be directed to comply with any requisition which may be made on them for this purpose through the Local Government.

It is essential that the task should be completed with as little delay as possible. An imperfect compilation, which might be available within the next six months, would be far more useful than one which thoroughly exhausted the subject, but which could not be published till a year hence. Should the Work prove really useful, further editions will doubtless afford scope for any additional matter of real value which may come to light after the first publication.

With a view, therefore, to a speedy execution of the task, it is desirable that it should be entrusted to one who is not trammelled with other official duties, unless they happen to be such as leave him ample leisure for such a task. The Governor General in Council will be willing to sanction any suitable remuneration. It is desirable that this should be in the shape of a fixed sum rather than of a salary. The Government of India will also bear the expenses of an edition of as many copies as it may be thought desirable to have for distribution by Government. The Government will reserve as many copies as are needed for the use of its own Officers, and any profit from the sale of surplus copies to the Public, or from any further edition which may hereafter be required, will be accounted for the Author.

The person selected should be placed in communication with the Local Agent of the Cotton Supply Association, and should refer freely to the Agent on all questions regarding which his opinion or assistance may be useful. Any official documents which the Agent may consider of special and immediate importance to the objects of the Association should be at once placed at his disposal, with a view to its being made available in any mode the Association may desire without waiting for the publication of the complete Work on which the Compiler is engaged.

Act XXXII. of 1860.
Section C.
Rules 1 and 2.

A question having been raised as to the rule to be observed in making assessments to the Income Tax in the case of Acting Officers, where, for instance, the pay of the substantive appointment, held by the Officer, was below the limit of taxation; but the acting allowance, for the period for which such allowance was drawn, brought it within the incidence of the Tax, or where, in consequence of absence, the incumbent, who was liable to Income Tax on his salary, drew, during the time of his absence, less than the lowest sum liable to taxation, it was observed that the Income Tax was chargeable upon the yearly Income, and that the Offices of Audit, Civil and Military, should deal with each month's salary, &c., by itself, and considered at the end of the year any claims to exemption or abatement which might then be preferred.—(Financial Department Order No. 10437, dated 12*th October* 1860.)

EAST INDIAN RAILWAY.

BENGAL DIVISION.

Training in India of Engine Drivers.

From L STOKES, Esq, Locomotive Superintendent, to Agent, East Indian Railway Company,---(No. 16A., dated the 24th May 1861)

* * * * * *

2. There can be no doubt that great importance should be attached to the question of training Engine Drivers in this country, if Indian Railways are to become a prosperous undertaking.

3. I cannot see any great difficulty in accomplishing this object after a Railway has once got into fair working order.

4. So long ago as 1855, men have been in training on the East Indian line to be made Enginemen, and since that period no less than sixty-five Uncovenanted men, engaged in India as labourers, have been promoted to Enginemen; of this number we have now forty-five running regular Trains, the remaining twenty having been dismissed, resigned, died, or transferred.

5. At the same time that we have forty-five Uncovenanted good Enginemen in daily work, we have seventy-four Firemen in training, who may be expected to be ready for promotion to Enginemen, say in twelve to eighteen months.

6. We have forty-eight Covenanted Drivers in addition to these, and judging from past experience, I believe this will be equal to our progressive requirements.

7. In the opening of new lines of Railway in India, sufficient men should be sent from England for the first two or three years' working, to give time for training new men in the country; this cannot be avoided, at all events until such time that the Main Trunk lines join each other, when no doubt local circumstances will arise that may enable one line to spare to another sufficient men to meet all requirements, and thus be independent of England altogether.

8. The only good school for training Enginemen, in my opinion, is the practical one of "Firing on the line," performing "Shedmen's" duties in Engine Stables, "Shunting at Stations," &c., when, having acquired a thorough knowledge of the working of Locomotive Engines, and proving to be steady competent men, to be promoted to Enginemen.

9. This has been the practice adopted by me for the last six years on this line, the result of which can be seen in the attached Statement.

10. I have little confidence in the plan of making Enginemen in the work-shops, although it is possible to gain some useful information from this source if properly looked after.

11. As a rule, Indian Railways will always require a greater Staff to work them than English Lines, owing to the large amount of periodical sickness; it will therefore be necessary to be in readiness with a sufficient number of Firemen who are capable of taking charge of Engines in cases of emergency.

12. All stationary and Pumping Engines (twenty in number) on the East Indian Railway have been driven by Natives since 1856, and I may here remark that these men have been taken from Locomotive Engines, which is considered promotion to them, and in no single instance has an accident occurred from neglect.

13. Although Natives have been employed to work stationary Engines, I cannot recommend, under any circumstances, that they should have charge of Locomotives. With little practice and drilling for stationary Engines, Natives are perhaps better than Europeans in this country, especially if stationed in isolated places.

14. But on Locomotives the case differs widely; there energy, presence of mind, and a thorough knowledge of an Engine under different circumstances must be had. This cannot be found in Natives, at all events it cannot be depended upon.

15. I have considered it advisable to confine myself to remarks on the system of training Enginemen only, and not to enter upon the mode of obtaining other classes of Mechanics, as there can be no doubt that any number of skilled Natives and Eurasians can be obtained, under European working superintendence. such as Engine Fitters, Erectors, Carriage Fitters, Boiler Makers, &c.

16. In conclusion, I apprehend no difficulty in obtaining sufficient Enginemen in India if the system above described is adopted, and if the question of the future is looked to, and not the present only, by every support being given by Government to the several Locomotive Superintendents when called upon.

Report by the Geological Surveyor in Pegu on the Salt springs, &c., in the District of Henzadah.

From Thomas Oldham, Esq., Superintendent of Geological Survey of India, to A M. Monteath, Esq., Under-Secretary to Government of India, Home Department,—(dated the 8th July 1861.)

Sir,—I have the honor to forward herewith, for submission to His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor General in Council, a copy of a brief statement of the various subjects likely to prove of any economical value, observed by the party of the Geological Survey working in Pegu during the past year, by W. T. Blanford, Esq., in charge.

I had instructed Mr. Blanford, when proceeding to take charge of this party of the Geological Survey, "to communicate at once, without the delay of any reference to the head of the Survey, to the Commissioner of Pegu any discoveries of commercial or economical value, which may reward his researches; and, generally, to afford to the Commissioner every aid which he may be able to render," reserving for more detailed publication all Geological Reports, &c.

From W T Blanford, Esq., in charge of Geological Survey of Pegu, to Colonel A. P. Phayre, Commissioner of Pegu,—(dated Thyetmyo, the 31st May 1861.)

Sir,—At the close of the working season of 1860-61, I have the honor, in accordance with the instructions of the Superintendent of the Geological Survey of India, to report, for your information, those observations of the party under my charge, which appear to possess an economic value. Of these the most important refer to the brine springs and wells, whence Salt was formerly obtained, and is, in some instances, still obtained in the District of Henzadah, to which District our Surveys have hitherto been confined.

I have carefully enquired, during the progress of our work, for all localities where Salt springs are known to occur, and although the accompanying list, owing to the difficulty of obtaining precise information of every place known to the Burmese, may not be quite perfect, it will, I believe, be found to include all such wells as have been largely worked at any time within a considerable number of years. The majority of these occur scattered near the base of the Arracan Hills, sometimes a few miles without the mountains, but more frequently between their spurs. I believe the same to be the case in both the Bassein and Prome Districts. Should the working of the known wells be resumed, and prove profitable, I have little doubt but that fresh spots will be discovered. In many places, within the Arracan Hills, Salt is seen to effloresce upon the rocks in the beds of the nullahs.

The appended list specifies thirteen different localities in the District of Henzadah, at which Salt is known to have been worked. Of these, only three were in work at the time of my visit, the principal of which was Tsadwingee, the spring at which place is probably one of the most productive yet known in the region. The flow of water in the well was carefully measured by my fellow Assistant, Mr. Fedden, and found to be 57·15 gallons per hour, or about 1370 in the twenty-four hours. By a rough experiment the water was found to contain 4704 grains of Salt to the gallon, so that the quantity of Salt daily yielded by this spring amounts to 920 lbs. avoirdupois or 8 cwt. 24 lbs.

Few springs probably yield so largely as Tsadwingee, but it was not found practicable to ascertain the quantity procurable from any other. The water is so salt that it can be evaporated at once without any previous evaporation by the sun. It is boiled down in large iron pans, placed in twos or threes over an earthen fire-place, the method being somewhat similar to that employed in India for evaporating the juice of the Sugar-cane.

The present outturn, and probably the largest possible outturn from the wells now known, would, however, scarcely be of sufficient importance to deserve particular attention, were it not that I am strongly inclined to think that the quantity might be largely increased by deepening the wells, and that a considerable revenue might be derived from this source. It is even possible that the whole District might be supplied by its own brine springs.

The wells now worked are in general of very small depth. I suspect that they are only sunk until Salt water is met with, and I think that, in many instances, a much larger quantity of water might be obtained if they were deeper. Probably also the brine would be found, in some cases, to be richer below. This could be best ascertained by either boring or by sinking small wells in the neighbourhood of those now worked, and on that side of them towards which in each case the neighbouring rocks are dipping. It is possible that in some cases such borings might prove Artesian wells, and that the water would reach the surface without pumping or raising, but this cannot be anticipated as a general rule.

The necessary expense of boring would be small, and a very few trials would suffice to solve the question. Small wells would of course give more satisfactory results than borings, but as the rock is hard in many places the cost of sinking them would, I think, be greater.

I had hopes, when commencing the examination of the Henzadah District, of ascertaining the existence of petroleum in sufficient abundance to justify an expectation of its being profitably extracted. In this, I regret to say, that I have been disappointed. The only place where petroleum is certainly known to occur is at Yenandoung, about twenty miles South West of Myanoung. A well was sunk there some years since, but I have been unable to learn any satisfactory details as to the quantity of petroleum obtained. That it exists on the spot is unquestionable.

Traces of Coal exist in two or three places. There is, however, no indication of a seam of the least value.

Some of the shales in the Arracan Hills contain iron Pyrites to a considerable extent. In no instance that I have seen, however, was the quantity sufficient to render the mineral worth collecting for the purpose of manufacturing Sulphur or Sulphuric Acid. In one spot, about two miles West of the Village of Nyemurtha, on the Khyoung-gyoung stream, pyritous shales occur, from which some alum might be obtained, but I doubt if the rock be sufficiently rich in pyrites to render manufacture on a large scale profitable.
